CONNOR SULLIVAN, soprano saxophone, is a 6th semester as a Music Major here at UConn. He plays in the University's Symphonic band, Marching Band and Pep Band. He has studied with Greg Case now for 3 years. Connor would like to say a special thanks to Ian Jackson and Greg Case for all their help in preparation for this concert.

PATRICK SLATTERY, alto saxophone, is a fourth semester Music Education major at the University of Connecticut. At the University he has been seen performing with the UConn Symphonic Band, Marching Band, and Collegium Musicum and the Rhombus Saxophone Quartet. He attended Plainfield High School, where he participated in the Eastern Region Music Festival, All-State Music Festival, and the All-New England Music Festival. Patrick has studied privately under Adam Williamson and Greg Case, who both play for the U.S Coast Guard Band. He would like to thank his family and friends for their support, and Ian Jackson and Greg Case who have helped him grow into the person and musician you see on stage tonight.

CAITLIN FITZPATRICK, tenor saxophone, is a second semester student at the University of Connecticut, working on a double major in Saxophone Performance and Cognitive Science. She currently studies under the direction of Greg Case and is a member of the Rhombus Sax Quartet, the UConn Symphonic Band, the UCMB, and the UConn Pep Band. In High School, Caitlin was a member of the North Haven High School Band, Jazz 1, and Pit Orchestra. She participated in Southern Regionals ('09-'12), All-States ('10), and All Eastern ('11). Caitlin thanks everyone who came tonight and hopes they all enjoy the sounds of the Rhombus Saxophone Quartet.

JOSH THIERRY, bari saxophone, is a currently pursuing a bachelor of music in music performance at the University of Connecticut and is in his sixth semester. He is studying under United States Coast Guard saxophonist Greg Case and performs with the University's Symphonic Band and the newly formed Rhombus Saxophone Quartet. In the past he has been a member of the University's marching band and pep bands, and played in Manchester High School's performance of A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum. Josh has attended Orpheus Chamber Orchestra seminars in New York City as well as a master class with Eugene Rousseau in 2011. Before attending the University of Connecticut, he was an active member of the Huntington Beach Academy of the Performing Arts where he participated in the school's Wind Ensemble, Select Wind Ensemble, chamber ensembles and saxophone quartets, Jazz Lab and Big Bands, and in a performance of Sweet Charity. With the Jazz Band he attended numerous festivals and master classes, including an annual clinic with the San Diego State Jazz Ensemble. He was also a member of the Huntington Beach Unified School District Honor Band for three years.

Josh would like to thank his teacher, Greg Case, for offering him a wealth of musical knowledge, inspiration and guidance. He would also like to thank his family for their consistent support and faith in him as a growing musician and person.
