1. Chairman's Report

Chairman Gelfenbien introduced Reverend Ken Ferguson from the Storrs Congregational Church on North Eagleville Road. Reverend Ferguson has helped the community deal with the tragedy of September 11. Chairman Gelfenbien noted that all of our hearts go out to all the people affected by this tragedy. He knew several people that were lost, who include a flight attendant on the first plane, three people from his town, and a man with a family who worked at Anderson Consulting for many years.
Chairman Gelfenbien also commented that a friend of his returned from Europe and commented that the tragedy was covered constantly by the news. Chairman Gelfenbien asked if those in attendance observe a moment of silence in remembrance of the events of September 11. He also asked Reverend Ferguson to say a few words to help everyone deal with the tragedy.

Reverend Ferguson thanked the Board and noted that life has to go on, but that it is not going to be same as before. He said that what people have come to recognize in the faith community is that everyone will begin to process their understanding of the divine in different ways. He doesn’t know if there is anyone that hasn’t begin to question or to inquire as to what kind of changes this is going to mean for them. What we are acknowledging over time as we begin to understand the impact on us as people and on our children and on the students at the University, is not only grief and sadness of the loss in New York City, Washington, D.C., and Pennsylvania, but that this tragedy has impacted everyone in the world.

Reverend Ferguson invited the community to move on and embrace the hope of diversity, but to not engender stereotypes or the myth of redemptive violence. This is a global problem and that the hope for peace begins with each us.

Chairman Gelfenbien also recognized those who represent the police, the firefighters, and all the rescue workers mostly in New York, but also in Washington, D.C. and Pennsylvania as well. Chairman Gelfenbien noted that he asked personnel from the University’s police and fire departments to be here today to represent that part of the community. He introduced firefighter Jill Miller and police officer Debra Booker to the Board.

Chairman Gelfenbien also noted that a team from the Health Center was deployed immediately to assist in the devastation. He said that those who attended the Health Affairs Committee meeting last week were fortunate to hear Dr. Robert Fuller’s account of his team’s efforts in New York. Chairman Gelfenbien welcomed Dr. Fuller to the Board. Dr. Fuller provided the Board with a brief narrative of what he and his team encountered in New York.

Chairman Gelfenbien thanked Dr. Fuller for sharing his story. He noted that it makes things more real when you hear from someone who has been on the scene compared to seeing the events of television or in the newspapers. Chairman Gelfenbien also noted that Dr. Jacobs and his team at Hartford Hospital were also involved, but they were fortunate in that they were able to assist while remaining in the area. They were prepared to deal with several hundred people if necessary. He thanked Dr. Jacobs as well.

Chairman Gelfenbien noted that he had seen a public service announcement by the Ad Council last evening on television that depicted the nation’s diverse community and reminded us that everyone deserves respect. He was glad to report that there have been no incidents reported on campus.

As the Associate Vice Chancellor for the Tri-Campus, she will serve as the academic leader for the Waterbury, West Hartford, and Torrington Campuses. 4. Student Life Committee Report – Mrs. Gatling

(a) Committee Chairwoman’s report on Committee activities

Mrs. Gatling presented the report of the Student Life Committee. She reported that the Committee met on August 20, 2001. At that meeting Vice Chancellor Maryanski gave a presentation on an extensive study that was conducted regarding residential housing at the Avery Point Campus. The report indicated that residential housing was not feasible at this time, but they would review the enrollment figures and revisit this issue in May, 2003.

Mrs. Gatling noted that Vice Chancellor Triponey introduced the new Dean of Students John Saddlemire to the Committee.

Vice Chancellor Triponey also presented the Student Affairs Annual Report and the Academic Calendar Proposal.

The Committee discussed the Wilbur Cross renovations as Phase I is now complete. Board members had an opportunity to visit the building this morning on a campus tour.

For non-academic misconduct, the procedures described in The Student Code apply to all University of Connecticut students. After extensive discussion, the Committee recommended support by the full Board.

On a motion by Mrs. Gatling, seconded by Mr. Hattayer, THE BOARD VOTED to approve the Law School Academic Misconduct Policy.

On a motion by Dr. Jacobs, seconded by Mr. Hattayer, THE BOARD VOTED to add to the agenda a recommendation to approve a 5% salary increment for the President of the University retroactive to October 1, 1999 and an additional 5% salary increment retroactive to October 1, 2000.

4. Revised FY 2000-01 Capital Budget (Attachment 19)

9. Institutional Advancement Committee Report – Mr. Treibick

(a) Committee Chairman’s report on Committee activities

Mr. Napolitano presented the report of the Institutional Advancement Committee. He reported that the Committee met via teleconference on Tuesday, September 18, 2001. Mr. Kessler presented the development report and indicated that the results from Fiscal Year 2001 were $50.6 million, which is a 37% increase over the prior year, and represented a record level of giving in all categories. For the first time in 10 years, faculty and staff were solicited for gifts and 25% of the University community participated. He also reported that Fiscal Year 2002 is off to a good start considering the market. Cash receipts are $6.2 million, up 37% over last year.

Mr. Kessler reported to the Committee that they had proposed goals of $60 million for new business and $55 million for cash receipts for fiscal year 2002. While many felt these were rather aggressive goals, Vice President Allenby indicated that he was confident that Campaign UConn provides the University with the incentive to achieve these goals, and felt that this is a reasonable but ambitious goal.

Mr. Napolitano also noted that there is approximately $1.8 million left in State matching funds for the calendar year and they anticipate full subscription to the program.

At the next meeting, Vice President Allenby will submit a University-wide comprehensive list of naming opportunities for the Committee’s review.

Mr. Feudo updated the Committee on the Alumni House addition. It is scheduled for completion for Homecoming Weekend, beginning October 27, 2001. Mr. Napolitano noted that it is a 12,000-foot addition estimated at $3.5 million. He also noted that it is coming in $200,000 under budget. Approximately half of the building is earmarked for the new Sports Museum, which will be a tremendous draw to the facility.
The Alumni Campaign has set a very ambitious fundraising goal of $4.5 million. The Committee will meet for the first time on October 26, 2001. Mr. Napolitano noted that $1.5 million will be dedicated back to the facility, $2 million for scholarships, and $1 million for programs. The Alumni Association is on target with many of the financial goals. They are committed to making it an inclusive national and international association.

Chairman Gelfenbien noted that the plan for this current year was for $42 million and they raised over $50 million. He noted that there is an objective next year for $55 million.

On a motion by Mr. Napolitano, seconded by Mrs. Gatling, THE BOARD VOTED to approve the following naming recommendations.

(b) Items requiring Board discussion and approval:

(1) Naming Recommendations: (Attachment 20)

   (d) Recommendation to Transfer and Rename Milton Stern Meeting Room
   (e) Recommendation to Name GE Capital (North) Atrium in the New School of Business Building

(c) Gift Reports (Attachment 21)

President Austin welcomed new Trustee Philip Barry to the Board.

(c) Board of Trustees Policy Regarding Endowed Chairs and Professorships (Attachment 15)

President Austin directed Trustee attention to a proposed change to the Endowed Chairs Policy in Attachment 15. He noted that the policy adopted in 1989 has language that links the creation of the chair to the appointment of the holder, when in reality there is likely to be a significant lag time. President Austin indicated that the old policy is also overly prescriptive in terms of specific items to be covered. The new policy, while it provides more flexibility, continues to provide that the Board is insured that the Chair conforms to the University's academic mission and that there is an appropriate level of funding.

On a motion by Mr. Martinez, seconded by Mr. O'Leary, THE BOARD VOTED to approve

(d) Diversity Task Force Update

President Austin reported that not long ago he and Chancellor Petersen appointed a 26-member Diversity Task force to implement one of the Board's and the administration’s key objectives. President Austin asked Dr. Ronald Taylor to provide the Board with a brief update.

Dr. Taylor reported that the Diversity Task Force has been working diligently over the last several months to complete its recommendations. The Committee is co-chaired by the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, Ross MacKinnon. The Committee is charged with preparing a diversity plan that includes initiatives that might be implemented over the next five years to do the following: 1) to create a more welcoming campus environment for all students; 2) to enhance the University’s efforts to recruit and retain a diverse student population; 3) to enhance the University’s efforts to recruit and retain a diverse workforce; 4) to diversify the University leadership; and 5) to assign accountability for the achievement of the goals outlined in the action plan.

Dr. Taylor reported that the Committee was divided in sub-committees, each of which has concentrated on one aspect of the charge. There is, for example, a sub-committee dealing with recruitment and retention of faculty, staff, and administration, student recruitment and retention, campus environment or campus climate, curriculum diversity, and evaluation assessment and accountability. In discharging their work, they have reviewed a large number of diversity plans developed by many of the major institutions around the country and they have sought to incorporate many of the best ideas and practices of these plans in order to devise one of the best diversity plans available. They have also invited several administrators to meet with the Committee to discuss various aspects of the plan, where it was thought that additional clarity was needed. This has included staff from the Development Office, particularly in those areas where they thought that they might want to talk with as to how they might fold diversity initiatives into the Capital Campaign. In addition, the Chancellor has also been consulted about his vision.

Dr. Taylor noted that the Committee is now entering the final phase of the work, which includes refining a rather large document. A preliminary draft is expected to be distributed in the next few weeks for review and discussion with various segments of the campus community. The diversity webpage will be up and running this week and they will post a draft for campus review. When appropriate, changes in the document based on feedback from the community will be made and incorporated into the final document, which will be presented to the President, Chancellor and the Board before the end of the fall semester. Dr. Taylor also reported that the Committee has been working very hard on the various components of the plan where they think they have a reasonable chance of implementing both short- and long-term goals. The Committee is also reviewing how best to implement these initiatives and monitor them within a specific time frame.

There will be costs associated with some of the initiatives being proposed. Where possible and appropriate, the Committee will estimate those costs, based in part on the experience of other institutions that have effectively implemented these initiatives. Dr. Taylor encouraged the members of the Board to attend the special meeting being held today after the Board meeting.

(e) Start of Year Update

President Austin asked Vice Chancellor Triponey and Interim Vice Provost Singha to provide brief updates on the issues of enrollment, housing, and class availability. Vice Chancellor Triponey directed Trustee attention to a handout. She reported that housing this fall is in very good shape with over 9,800 students living on campus, including both undergraduate and graduate students. That puts the University at 98.5% capacity, which presently leaves approximately 174 vacancies. They are currently in the process of filling those vacancies with students on the wait list or with those temporarily assigned to stretch capacity. Vice Chancellor Triponey indicated that for the first time in two years no students were tripled, but during the temporary period some of the study lounges were used until it was determined which students would not be coming. The student affairs staff is now in the process of asking those in the study lounges to move and they are finding that many do not want to move. Those placed in the stretch capacity are freshman, some transfer students, and a few of the continuing students who volunteered.
Last year a lottery was proposed for seniors for this coming year, so that beds could be reserved at the front end for the freshman and sophomores. There were about 500 seniors who were displaced, but since the Hilltop suites came online all the seniors without accommodations were offered housing by the end of the summer.

Since the crisis of September 11, Vice Chancellor Triponey reported that she was extremely proud to see how the student body came together and responded to those in need. With the strong student leadership, including the USG President Chris Hattayer, the community came together and remained unified and supportive of each other. She commented that this shows incredible progress for the kind of community that they are trying to build. She personally thanked Chris Hattayer for that leadership.

Interim Vice Provost Singha provided a brief update regarding enrollment. He noted that he provided the Board with a brief handout on the current enrollment highlights for the University. In terms of total enrollments, they have increased 6.6%, which exceeded their goal by 4,556 or the 5.3% that was projected to meet enrollment targets. The bulk of the University’s enrollment is for incoming freshman at Storrs, whereby the numbers increased by 317. The numbers for the regional campus freshman have remained stable as well as the transfer enrollments for both Storrs and the regional campuses. Given the large enrollment increase at Storrs, Interim Vice Provost Singha spoke to Associate Vice Provost Evanovich regarding next year’s plan to enhance the enrollment of freshman at the regional campuses and of transfer students at Storrs and at the regional campuses.

Dr. Singha noted that the increased freshman enrollment did put some pressure on some of the freshman classes, especially the general education classes. With support from the Chancellor’s Office, the administration has successfully accommodated all of the students. He noted that the increased enrollment will in turn put pressure at the upper division level as well. At the request of the Chancellor, Dr. Singha has been charged with evaluating and determining the current pressure points. He will discuss his report with the Chancellor tomorrow.

Dr. Singha indicated that the SATs scores have remained stable as compared to last year’s scores, but they still represent a significant increase from the scores from a few years ago. The number of freshman honor students went up quite substantially this year and they have begun to look at what is needed for the coming year to maintain the quality of the program.

The number of minority student has increased slightly, but in terms of the percentages, there is a slight reduction, because of the significant increase in the student population. The in-State/out-of-State ratio has not changed much from last year’s figures, which represents a 70:30 mix, but has changed considerably from that of a few years ago when the ratio represented an 80:20 mix. Dr. Singha contends that as an institution, we are on target with our previous projections and it is certain that the growth rate will continue strategically in the coming year.

Trustee Napolitano raised concerns about the low enrollment at the regional campuses. He expected that this issue would be addressed immediately, because it impacts the struggle to reach enrollment goals for Storrs as well as the need for housing. He also noted that the capacity at the regional campuses is underutilized and encouraged more aggressive marketing plans for those campuses, because the drop off will negatively impact the University. Mr. Napolitano also asked for a report on the administration’s plans to increase enrollment. Dr. Singha responded that he would provide the Board with a plan in the near future.

President Austin noted that multiple staff has been appointed in Waterbury to work specifically on the Tri-Campus issue. He offered to provide a report to the Board at their next meeting.
President Austin noted that his final report involves construction updates. He noted that several trustees took a tour of some of the new facilities this morning. He offered to provide tours as new structures come on line. President Austin asked Vice Chancellor Dreyfuss to summarize the current structures. Vice Chancellor Dreyfuss provided a brief powerpoint presentation of the structures completed or projects put into service over the summer at four campuses – Avery Point, Storrs, Torrington, and West Hartford, which are estimated at a total cost of $210 million. A handout was presented at the meeting.

One of the major projects involves the residential sprinkler system, which has undergone approximately $16.7 million worth of work and lasted from May to September of this year. Vice Chancellor Dreyfuss directed attention to the Accelerated Residential Sprinkler Project powerpoint slide, which illustrated over 10,000 feet of high pressure sprinkler lines and 3,700 feet of domestic water lines that were put in place. He noted that there is only a small piece of the infrastructure that is left to put in place. All dormitories have been completed, except for East Campus, the Towers Complex, Shippee/Buckley, the Grad Dorms, and West Campus, which will be the last building. West Campus is the least desirable remaining dormitory; therefore, it may be utilized for another purpose.

The Gant Plaza Deck Renovation, which began in July, 2000, has been completed at $8.5 million with approximately 21,000 square feet. The renovations included replacing the ceiling of the deck and placing the structure on top of it, which is primarily meeting rooms and office space.

The Hilltops Apartments have brought online about 968 beds, which cost $42 million. This project began in July, 2000 and finished this August. The companion piece across the street is the Hilltop Suites, which offers 450 beds, and fits into the Hilltop Complex. Construction for the Hilltop Suites began in October, 2000 and was just completed in August at approximately $21 million.

One of the smaller projects includes the Litchfield Agriculture Center located at the Torrington Campus. This project began in June, 1999 and was just completed at a cost of $1.8 million. The Center primarily houses the Agricultural Extension Service operations in Litchfield County.

President Austin announced that the Bond Commission last Friday released another $5.6 million of the University’s request for the Health Center. He wanted to acknowledge the Governor’s support and the University’s appreciation. President Austin further noted that this is significant in its own right, because it was truly needed. In addition to the State’s assistance, President Austin noted the generosity of the Alumni Association, and the Foundation, the Lodewicks, and others that have provided tremendous support to the University.

President Austin noted that in the last week or so, he has given approximately six speeches, has reissued one of the written communications, and has sent several e-mails to the community regarding the events of September 11, and for other events as well. He resolved to say that the community will continue to grow out of this as it did after President Kennedy’s assassination, the Challenger explosion, and other major tragedies. President Austin echoed Vice Chancellor Triponey’s comments regarding the student leadership. He also commended the staff involvement as well. He noted that what received the most press was the efforts of the Dean of the School of Fine Arts and the Department Head of Music, who in two days prepared an event in conjunction with the Hartford Symphony and a Choral group from Hartford and put together a stunning performance of Mozart’s Requiem. They performed in Bloomfield on a Saturday night and again performed on Sunday afternoon at Jorgensen and on Sunday evening at the Palace Theater in Stamford. These events raised over $30,000 in donations, which will go the New York Fireman’s Fund and in part to the American Red Cross.

On behalf of the Trustees, Chairman Gelfenbien thanked those responsible for completing many of the construction projects before the semester began.

Chairman Gelfenbien reminded the Board that there will be a luncheon on Friday, October 5 at the Polytechnic Club for the Trustees that have retired from the Board.

Chairman Gelfenbien announced that the next regular meeting of the Board of Trustees is scheduled for Friday, November 16, 2001 at 1:00 p.m. at the Merlin D. Bishop Center, Storrs, Connecticut.

There being no further business, the Board meeting adjourned at 3:45 p.m.
