B. The report of the President included the following items:

1. Dr. Hartley reported on the rally held on Wednesday, sponsored by student leadership, and that petitions had been signed by approximately 2,500 students and staff and presented to the Governor in Hartford by the students.

2. Dr. Hartley informed the Board that as part of his "UConn on the Road" public relations effort, he had hosted a community breakfast in Meriden recently. The primary reason for holding such gatherings is to inform the community about the University and to listen to suggestions about how we can better serve communities throughout the state. James Pellegrino, the Mayor of Meriden, is also the contact for the Meriden UConn Alumni Chapter. More than 80 guests which included members of the business and industry community, educators, interested alumni, and community leaders came together very enthusiastically to listen to his message and to pledge their support for higher education.

3. Parents Weekend activities went very well, and were attended by some 8,000 guests. President Hartley addressed the parents and students and encouraged them to call their legislators about the need to support UConn in the current fiscal crisis.
4. A reception for retirees and another for emeriti were held recently to honor their contributions to the university. Both were well attended, and many expressed their support for the administration's position regarding the budget and current layoffs.

5. At the last Board meeting, trustees requested a report on the number of faculty on sabbatical leave. Review of a three year period revealed that on the average 4.6% of the faculty were on sabbatical leave at any point in time. This compares very favorably with other institutions of higher education.

6. President Hartley reported on the recent layoffs and their impact on the university. He noted that this is a very difficult time for everyone, but that all students, faculty and staff are working together to solve the problems that result from a reduction in staff produce. President Hartley also noted that Trustees had received several articles from The Hartford Courant and from Connecticut Magazine regarding support for the University.

7. President Hartley advised the Board that preparation had begun on the 1992-93 budget. A contingency budget plan is also being prepared for presentation to the Department of Higher Education which will include 10%, 15% and 20% cuts as requested by the Governor. While the Department of Higher Education does not have the authority to approve the plan, it is presented to them for information and review.

8. President Hartley announced that Dr. Leonid Azaroff, Director of the Institute for Materials Science, would be returning to teaching and relinquishing the directorship of the Institute as of October 15. Dr. Anthony DiBenedetto has accepted the directorship for a period of three years. At the end of that time, a national search will be conducted.
