ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE
ANNOUNCES SPEAKERS

REV. JONES OF MANSFIELD ON "AFRICA" NEXT WEEK

List Includes Many Interesting Men
—Victor Biart to Return March 11 —College Players on Roster.

Although the Assembly Committee is not yet able to outline all the speakers for the coming semester, it has already secured a very attractive schedule.

On February 18, Reverend Jones of Mansfield will talk about the customs and manners of the inhabitants of Sousse in this well known area. He has traveled widely, particularly in Africa, and is therefore well versed in his topic. February 25 is still an open date.

On March 4 Professor J. W. Toumey, a member of the Yale Forestry School, will talk. He is a speaker of some note and intends to include in his lecture not only the technique of forestry, but the great out-of-doors.

On March 11 Victor Biart, the accomplished musician, who so ably interpreted Grecig at President's Hour this week, will come again to give "An Interpretation of Macdowell". Macdowell is already acclaimed as America's greatest composer.

On March 18, the College Players, who need no introduction, will again entertain with one of their one-act plays.

Doctor Denlinger, who arranged the interesting and instructive program of speakers last semester, is certain of the engagements with those men already mentioned and is at present corresponding with Frank Tonebaum, the nationally known sociologist, with John Lomax of Kentucky, whose subject is "Negro Spiritualists"; and with Clement Wood, the poet, who might come here in May.

DEBATING NEWS

The Debating Club has passed from its period of darkness into a state of renaissance. Its members are recognizing and insisting a new spirit and interest in the club and in the interests of the entire student body. They have been selected by specialists and should be reviewed by them. The books presently in existence in the field of agriculture, science, economics, and education. A few others of general interest have been added.

The story of "The Little French Girl" by Anne Sedgwick is in sight and light in touch. But it is beautifully and sympathetically told and brings discriminating readers. The charming French girl, Alix, set down in the midst of a sturdy middle class English family, and the grace English lad, Miles, who returns with her to vivacious and aristocratic even if somewhat un-Portuguese mother, make an unusual study of contrasts. Mrs. de Selincourt is at home both in France and in England, and carries her readers with her.

Forster's "A Passage to India" is a strange book and a strong one. It is genuine motive, a presentation

GAMMA CHI EPSILON

In a few weeks the election of Juniors and Seniors to Gamma Chi Epsilon, the honorary scholastic fraternity at Connecticut will be announced in the weekly assembly.

The election of a man to Gamma Chi Epsilon signifies that he has stood well up in his classes beginning with the first freshman year. The second consideration determining whether a man will be entitled to wear the evicted key is his character. The third consideration is of the activities in which the student has participated outside his schedule of studies.

The three factors listed above are weighed and compared in the process of determining members; so that the election is somewhat automatic, based on merits, and leaving out personal prejudices.

It is considered that election to Gamma Chi Epsilon is one of the highest honors a student can receive from his fellows and should be the aim of every freshman in college. The key cannot be won by a final spurt in the junior or the senior year but must be gained through consistent plugging and participation in activities starting in the first year in college.

The fraternity is not one for mutual admiration, but one which has for its purpose the furthering of activities in the interest of the college. A cup has been awarded each year to the fraternity on the Hill having for its entire membership the highest average in scholastic standing. Also, each year there is a scholarship to the junior having the highest rating based on scholarship, character, and activities.

Let it be added in conclusion that the men who win the honor of the key are not often, in fact are seldom brilliant students or sensational speakers, but are consistently good students and dependable men in activities.

FOR SECOND SEMESTER

SCHOOL AND CO-EDS
CLAIM NEW STUDENTS

Attendance Increase Slight.—Co-Ed Students Show Largest Gains.—Many Former Students Back.

Registration for the second semester shows no great increase in the attendance at Connecticut, for the number of new students, or returned former students, barely equals the number of those who have been dropped since the beginning of the year. Complete figures are not available at the Secretary's office at this early date.

There have returned this semester five former students. Four of them are in the Science division: Salvatore Listro of Hartford, Benjamin Glazer of Stamford, Burrows R. Park, Jr., N. Stonington Edward A. Collins, of Branford, Donald Barrett of Hartford.

There are only three male additions to the freshman class: Waldo W. Kuhl of Lawrenceville, Pa., Science; Edward S. Walford, Montreal, Canada, Agriculture; Frank G. Whitney, Jr., Hartford, Science.

The most important addition is the book and a strong one. It is genuine motive, a presentation

GRAND MARCH AT 8:30

Emil Heinberger's Synceptors to Furnish Music—Two-Year Club Withdraws Box—Novel Decorating Plan Rumored.

All cares and worries caused by the recent mid-year examinations will be cast aside this evening when the Aggies—ideal—cally Denlinger, Mr. and their guests make merry at the second big dance of the year—the Mid-Year Formal. Arrangements have been made by the executive committee which promise to transform Howley Armory into a scene of much festivity. Much interest is being shown on the part of the students and according to Hugh Greer, chairman of the executive committee, the dance will be even more popular than that of last year.

The committee has secured Emil Heinberger's synceptors direct from the Hotel Bond in Hartford to furnish the music for the evening. The dance will begin promptly at eight-thirty, when Mr. Greer and Miss Dorothy Hughes will lead the grand march. The program of dances as announced in the last issue of the Campus will last until two o'clock. The arrangement of fraternity boxes will be the same as previously announced with the exception that the Two-Year Club will not have a box this year.

The decorating committee have planned a novel scheme for transforming the interior of the Armory and those attending the dance will be shown something new in the art of decorating. This committee consists of R. W. Nelson, chairman, R. S. Filmer, L. A. Wilcox and L. E. Evans.

The patronesses and patronesses for the occasion will be Dr. and Mrs. Howard Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Seckerson, Dr. Henry K. Denlinger, Miss Dot Denlinger, Mr. Willard Wattles and Mrs. Marlon E. Dakin.

The following will attend the Formal:

Raymond Keeler, '25, with Miss Margaret Root, Berlin; William K. Schofield, '27, with Miss Lily Larsen, Greenwich; Donald Hadley, '27, with Miss Catherine Charter; Waterbury; L. CAPT. BALOCK AND COMPANY
OVERWHELM CLARK UNIV. 42-26
WORCESTER TEAM WEAKENED BY LOSS OF VETS

Captain Baylock is High Scorer of Game with 16 Points—Aggies Jump to Lead and Hold it Throughout—Form Best Seen This Year—Five Man Defense Responsible for Clark's Low Score.

Playing in rare form, Captain Baylock and his mates overwhelmed Clark University at Worcester last Saturday night in basketball with a 42-26 score. The game marked the half-way point in the Connecticut schedule, and the offensive work of the team was the best seen in some time. Captain Baylock played a game that was easily his best of the season, and the Clark team found it impossible to stop him.

The Worcester team did not give the Aggies the close game that was expected, as faculty rulings on two of the Clark stars, and the withdrawal from college of a third left the team greatly weakened. Although the score indicates a wide margin of superiority in favor of the Aggies, the game was hard fought throughout, and the Connecticut five earned all that it made.

Taking the lead at the start, the Storrs team held it throughout the game, and the Clark team never seriously threatened the Aggies advantage. Captain Baylock scored early and often, and ran wild through the Clark defense throughout the entire game. Eddy, Makofski and Baylock started things for the Aggies in the early minutes of the fray, and at the end of the first ten minutes of play Connecticut was out in front 13-4. Connecticut maintained its lead throughout the first session and at half time was leading 20-11.

In the second half, Clark came back fighting desperately, but they were unable to penetrate the Connecticut five-man defense to any great extent. The Aggie attack, however, swept on as before, with Captain Baylock, Eddy and Makofski doing the bulk of the work. The diminutive Aggie captain gave a pretty exhibition of clever floor work and passing which fooled the Clark guards time and time again. Connecticut put forth its best effort to lead the Clark five and in the closing minutes of play, speeded up and started what had all the appearance of a runaway. The Aggies were piling up the points with great regularity, and the final whistle was all that saved Clark from a still greater defeat.

Captain Baylock was the high scorer of the game, making 7 baskets from the floor, and 2 from the goal (Cont. on page 3 col. 1).

VARSAITY AT MASS.
AGGIES NEXT WEEK

Ninth Game of Season Expected to be Close—Many Students to Follow Team.

The varsity will travel to Amherst next Wednesday to play what shapes up as one of the toughest games on this year's schedule. "Kid" Gore's Massachusetts Aggies will be met on that night, and without a doubt the game will be the most severe test of the Connecticut five up to the present time.

On the face of things, it would seem as though the Massachusetts team advantage for the Aggies, five, if comparative scores are to be considered. Massachusetts Aggies will be met on that night, and without a doubt the game will be the most severe test of the Connecticut five up to the present time. Although the score indicates a wide margin of superiority in favor of the Aggies, the game was hard fought throughout, and the Connecticut five earned all that it made.

The Executive Council in stead of a President. The boys do their work and defensive play was of high order also. Maxon Eddy, with 12 points to his credit, came second in the scoring honors for the evening, while Makofski, with 11 points, came a close third.

For Clark, the work of Amsden and Higgenbottom featured. Amsden, though small and light, put up a great fight for the Worcester team. He scored 4 baskets from the floor and 1 from the foul line, leading his teammates with nine points for the evening. Higgenbottom, the other Clark forward, also showed up well for Clark.

The Worcester quintet was greatly weakened by the loss of Kallijarvi, Towne and Sachs, three regulars and veterans from the team of last year. Kallijarvi, the giant center who stands 6 feet 6 inches, was a big factor in the excellent showing made by the Worcester team up to the time of their set-back by Baylock & Co., and his loss was keenly felt by the Bay Staters last Saturday. Kallijarvi was lost to his team because of scholastic difficulties, as was Sachs, another veteran upon whom much was being expected in the Aggie battle.

In addition to the losses sustained because of scholastic difficulties, Towne, one of the best forwards in the history of the Worcester College, left school at mid-years and transferred to Brown. This left the Clark five without any veteran material, and the team that went up against the Aggies was composed almost entirely of green men.

<td>Pool Tournament to Start February 16 —Bowling Starts March 4—Last Year’s Champs Out to Win Again.</td>

The interfraternity pool and bowling tournament will start on February 16 when the first pool match will be played between representatives of the Phi Mu Delta and the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternities on a neutral table. The organizers expect the Phi Mu Rho match on February 27. The evening of the 20th will see the Phi Ep and the Shakes cross cues with the victor, meeting Alpha Phi on the 26th. The final match will be played off on the night of March 2.

Before the chalk dust of these battles blows over, the patrons of the wooden pin will take the stage, with all games being rolled on the alleys of Hawley Armory. As is the custom the freshmen will act as pin boys.

As the earth passed between the moon and sun, the moon was observed, the earth’s shadow falling on the moon, although it could not be observed by the human eye until dusk fell.

At 5:30 the eclipse was almost total, the moon not giving forth any light. A dusky orange semi-circle was observed, the rest of the moon being covered by a dark irregular shadow. From then the shadow slowly passed from the moon until at ten minutes of seven it burst forth full and brilliant again.

This eclipse was caused by the earth’s shadow falling on the moon, as the earth passed between the sun and moon. Although not as spectacular as the recent eclipse of the sun, it was of sufficient interest to hold the attention of many of the people on the Hill.
ATTENTION! STAGS!

It has become the custom for a large number of stags to make a club-room of the hallway leading into the Armory, at the time of the formal dance. Many times these stags are poorly dressed, their cigarettes fill the lobby with smoke, and their language is not of the best. These things tend to cheapen the dance; and what is more important, they make it very embarrassing for the women who have to pass through this hallway in order to meet their waiting partners. Naturally everyone likes to listen to the music and view the colorful spectacle; but if you are not attending the dance, the proper place to be is upstairs on the main floor and NOT in the entrance to the Armory.

CRIBBING

Perhaps the prevailing educational system is most open to criticism for its failure to make the student do original work. Facts are handed out to him in lectures and all that is required is that he memorize and repeat them parrot-like in a little blue book at exam time. Studiously he also as faculty, in order to pass a full realization that only by efforts of the student can real education be achieved.

Students, themselves, defeat the real purpose of education when they "crib." If they would stop to think for a moment, they would realize that by "cribbing" they do not in the long run deceive anyone but themselves. When they get out into the world, they will have to deal with the goods or fail. There is no alternative. "Crib-cards" will then be of no value to them.

To use a "crib-card" and slip one over on the prof may appeal to the curious nature of some Aggies. However, it is a poor way to get a kick out of life. "Cribbing" substitutes deceit and dishonesty for real effort; it weakens the moral fibre of the offender and hinders the obtaining of a true education. But above all this, the "cribber" is cheating his classmates who do not stoop to such tricks. He soon finds this out in his own esteem. In fact, in college where men are supposed to be men, the "cribber" should have no place.

MEDIATOR SETS SECOND SEMESTER PLEDGING DATE

The second semester fraternity rushing season is now in progress and will continue until the last Friday in March. While of course the rushing is not carried to the extent it was during the first part of the year, it nevertheless gives the seniors a chance to look around for prospective members whom they missed.

Pledges this year will be given out on Friday, March 27.

Winning the West

Irrigation by electrically driven pumps has made hundreds of thousands of acres of desert land in the Intermountain West blossom like the rose.

For a few cents a month per acre, electricity—the giant worker—brings the life-giving water from distant lakes and rivers to rainless valleys, producing rich harvests of fruits and vegetables, cereals and forage.

What electricity is doing for the farmer is only a counterpart of what it is doing for Industry, Transportation, City and Country life or any of the professions. It is a tool ready for your use and which, wisely used, will make the impossible of today an accomplished fact tomorrow.

How electricity does these things is important to the student in a technical school—but what electricity can do is important to every college man or woman, no matter what their life’s work may be.

The General Electric Company provides for agriculture little motors that do the farm chores and great ones that operate mammoth pumps to irrigate vast stretches of arid valleys.

If you are interested in learning more about what electricity is doing, write for Reprint No. AR391 containing a complete set of these advertisements.

RIFLE TEAM HAS BUSY SCHEDULE

Four Important Matches in Next Two Months—Rhode Island Here on February 28—William Randolph Hearst Match on April 15.

With hard work on the part of the College Rifle Team and its coaches, the team is now coming into shape for four important matches to be held at different dates throughout the present month and April.

The first of the four matches will be a three-cornered match with Nebraska and Washington, to be held some time during the latter part of the week ending February 21.

On the afternoon of February 28, the team will fire a shoulder to shoulder match against a picked team from the Rhode Island State College.

The match will be held on our own indoor range.

The third match to be fired at some date before April 15 is the William Randolph Hearst match. This is a national match under the supervision of Mr. Hearst and in which there is much competition.

The last meet, the date of which is not yet definite, is the Corps Area match. This meet will include nine competitive teams, the winner being entitled to shoot in a national match.

Victor Biart, outstanding interpreter of music favored us for a second time when he visited the college on Wednesday morning. When he opened his address, which preceded his interpretation, he said that it gave him great pleasure to again visit the college. The faculty and student body hope to have him here again in the near future.

In introducing the man whose work he interpreted, Mr. Biart related that Edward Greig was a popular composer of the late nineteenth century. He was born in Bergen, Norway, on June 15, 1843, and lived there until a friend of his family discovering his talent, urged him to study at Leipzig. There he learned much of the rudiments and technalities of music, but did not really awaken himself to the deeper feelings which he possessed.

Returning to Norway, he organized concerts and did much to promote music. It was at that time that he began to compose with the characteristics for which we remember him.

Greig, Mr. Biart brought out, is not the type of artist who is known for the skill and technical perfection of his work, but for its simplicity and touching qualities.

"It is this music," said Mr. Biart, "which has an appeal for everyone that is immortal."

When at the age of thirty-four, Greig was given an offer to compose the music for "Peter Gunn," a play written by Henry Ision, he produced the music for which we best remember him.

Mr. Biart rendered and interpreted several of Greig's works including selections from "Peter Gunn," "Aase's Death," "Morning," "Anitra's Dance" and "In the Hall of the Mountain Nymph." The closing number was "The Wedding Day at Troilhoren."

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

I t is the way a JOHN HANCOCK salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business. He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesmen today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for the years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold to the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

Interesting Address Follows Interpretation—Numbers Bring Continuous Applause.

The college was originated back in 1831. From that time, however, it has gradually been growing in size and research. Since that time, however, it has gradually been growing more and more to resemble a playground. Athletics, college newspaper, musical clubs, usurp the time for which we should remember him.

Mr. Biart delivered and interpreted several of Greig's works including selections from "Peter Gunn," "Aase's Death," "Morning," "Anitra's Dance" and "In the Hall of the Mountain Nymph." The closing number was "The Wedding Day at Troilhoren."

is to be presented in a novel way. The performance will last about one hour.

At present the Glee Club has an

LOWER CLASS RIVALRY

Sophomores Defeat Frosh 19 to 11—
Many Events Add Interest.

The girls' interclass swimming meets, arranged by the Co-ed Athletic Association, are arousing keen class spirit. In the recent contest between the freshmen and the sophis,
the latter captured the honors, scoring 19 units against the freshmen's 11. The order and results of the events follow.

The freshmen won first and second place in the long distance swim. In the second event, under-water endurcance, 27 made first and third places and 28 third place. The sophomores took first place in the plain dive. The final event, the backward swim, resulted in the frosh capturing first and third, and the sophomores second place.

The girls who did especially commandable work were Lille Larson, 27, Priscilla Swan, 27, Fayette South-wick '28, and Ruth Watrous, '28.

leaders for the game will be Sallie Croll, 27 and Flora Kaplan, 27, who have been organizing a cheering sec-

SUNDAY SERVICE

The service of the Storrs Community Church on Sunday, February 8, was attended by a large number of the faculty and students.

Mr. Alling devoted a portion of the service to the Legend of St. Christopher, given as a story-sermon for the benefit of the children of the community. The remainder of the hour was given over to the topic, “Patience in Preparation for Leadership.”

The interesting fact was noted, that the Bible has all personal contrasts made to the farmer. He stated that the cultured man and the one who could properly conduct himself about his own home and with his own family, was bound to make a success of anything he attempted.

Rev. Emerson Taylor, Educational Secretary of the Episcopal Church for the Province of New England, will preside at the pulpit on February 15.
