COMMUNITY HOUSE MORE DEMOCRATIC UNDER UNANIMOUS CHURCH VOTE

CHURCH AND SOCIAL CENTER TO BE SEPARATE

Building to Cost $75,000 Designed by College Architect, Mr. Perry of New Britain—Present Road Eliminated by New Site Between Church and M. A. Building—Diversified Purpose to Fulfill Long-felt Want.

The fulfillment of a long-felt want at the College was assured when, at a recent meeting of the members of the Storrs Church, it was unanimously voted to empower the trustees of the Church and such other members as they might name to act as building committee to proceed with the construction of the new Community House. This action was made possible by the encouraging results from the state-wide campaign to raise $300,000 for the Construction of the Church plant.

The campaign committee, composed of prominent Hartford business men and local men, have heartily endorsed the building plan. The building of the community house as a structure separate from the church is a divergence from the original plan, but the change makes the project more feasible from the architectural standpoint, and, as stated by Reverend Mr. Alling, "It will make possible a more democratic use of the Community House.

The site selected for the structure by the college landscape architect is on the church property midway between the present church and the Mechanics Arts building. Approximately where the relocated wagon shed now stands. In the development of the project, it is planned to eliminate the present road on the north side of the church, and to replace it with an improved road to the south. The Community House and the new church will be on this road facing the campus proper.

The building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $75,000, is now being designed by Mr. Perry of New Britain the college architect. Approximately detailed plans will be completed in two months. The contract will then be let and the ground broken for building operations sometime in May. The community house is to accommodate an auditorium seating 250 people, which is to be capable of being converted into a dining room; it will also have a stage, reception room, game room, smoking room, conference room with office, kitchen and cloak room.

Among the fuller religious and social activities the Community House is designed to serve are: adequate housing for the Sunday School; community work and development of the campus proper.

The speaker for President's Hour on Wednesday, March 4, was Professor J. W. Toomey of the Forestry Department of Yale University. Dr. Denlinger, in introducing the speaker, said that he was not only a forester but also a philosopher and worthy of the strictest attention. Professor Toomey spoke of forestry in United States and the advances it has made in the past twenty-five years. He said in part.

"A number of years ago it was my privilege to meet and be with the national committee to look into the national reserves established by Grover Cleveland. The ideal forestry was unknown in the west twenty years ago. No one understood why Cleveland set apart part of the national domain. When this commission reached Denver, it was met by the reporters of the city newspapers. The following day was published an eight line item concerning the commission and also a full page cartoon ridiculing the members of the committee. Since that day, however, newspapers have been discussing sanely and sympathetically the value of the forests.

In the past twenty-five years there has been a remarkable advance in forestry practice in the United States but scarcely a beginning has been made. This may be appreciated by comparing the present annual consumption with the present annual growth. We annually withdraw from our forests twenty-five billion cubic feet of wood, whereas the growth for the same year does not much exceed one billion feet. Since 1850 our ra.

STATE COMMITTEES PLEASED WITH INSPECTION OF COLLEGE DEPARTMENTS

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR BRAINARD AMONG VISITORS

Committee Spends Four Hours Going Through Dormitories, Watching the Battalion Drill and Looking Over Livestock.—Proposed New Water Supply Also Inspected.

The State Committee on Approvals and the State Committee on Agriculture, with Lieutenant-Governor Brainard and other guests, were well pleased with their four hour inspection of the College and its departments last week.

In the forenoon the committee inspected the boys' and girls' dormitories in detail, even pausing here and there to admire individual decorations in the rooms. Following the dormitory inspection, the committee watched the R. O. T. C. battalion doing close order drill, calisthenics, and manual of arms, including a demonstration of the "silent drill" by the first platoon of the sophomore company. Next an excellent dinner was served the guests in the Dining Hall.

The appropriations committee inspected the territory for the proposed new water supply and proceeded to the Mansfield Training School for an inspection of that institution also. The Committee on Agriculture remained at Storrs to inspect the live stock departments and go through the barns and sheep sheds, at the same time looking over the agricultural enterprises of the College.

The four hour visit was the longest made to the College by any committee of inspection, and, judging by the receptive and interested attitude of the visitors toward the College as a whole, we may safely say that their impressions were most favorable to the work and development of the institution.

PRES. MOORE ANNOUNCES JUNIOR WEEK COMMITTEES

Executive Committee of Seven Has Big Task—Something New in Favors Promised—Music to Surpass Previous Years.

Plans for Junior Week as well under way. Committees have been named that are now carrying out their individual tasks so that the coming event may be a crowning success.

The Junior Prom committee, of which Mr. Lewis J. Quigley is chairman, is, with the aid of Marshall Seymour, and Gerald Allard, looking for a source of music that will equal if not surpass all music ever had here.

An old debt incurred several years ago by the Campus has caused financial difficulties with the treasurer and the consequent suspension of the paper for the last two weeks.

However the Campus Board has succeeded in getting the matter satisfactorily adjusted, and we are glad to be able to assure our subscribers that the Campus will hereafter, as in the past, be issued weekly.
VARSITY HOOPERS TRiUMP OVER RHODE ISLAND IN SCRAPPY GAME

FINAL HOME GAME PROVES A THRILLER

Killing Pace Set From First Paves Way to Victory.—Rhode Island REGISTERs no Score for First Minutes of Play.—Captain Pinto Leads the Rhody Attack.

Playing before the largest crowd of the Connecticut Aggies that defeated Rhode Island State here on last Saturday night by a score of 38–21. It was the last home game of the season for Captain Pinto's team, and it was played before a crowd that packed Hawley Armory to its doors.

The game was rough and hard fought throughout and was featured by the sharpshooting of Captain Ba- lock and Makofski of Connecticut and the splendid team work and defen- sive play of the entire Aggie five. Scoring star Connecticut forward, was banished from the game in the first half along with Hill of Rhode Island, for swapping punches.

A killing pace was set with the first whistle, with both teams working hard to obtain an early lead. Great defensive play was shown by both teams in the early stages of the game with Connecticut displaying the best. Makofski of Connecticut scored first, getting an easy shot from under the basket. He helped himself to two more shortly after, and the Aggies were leading 8–0 when Captain Ba- lock made two throws from the foul line. Connecticut's stonewall defense with "Jerry" Allard of Putnam playing a prominent part, kept the Rhode Islanders from scoring a point during the first eight minutes of play and the Engineers were able to make but three baskets from the floor in the first session.

Hill, Brady and Jensen were the only men that seemed able to connect for Rhode Island and their baskets were made from well out beyond the foul line. Balock and Makofski gave the Rhode Island defense no end of trouble and they laid down a perfect barrage of shots on the Rhode Island basket. At half time the Aggies were leading 21–6.

The same killing pace was main- tained in the second half, with Rhode Island working desperately to come from behind. The work of the En- gineers showed to better advantage in the second session, but it was no better than the brand displayed by the Aggies. Captain Balock and Ma- kofski continued with their basket- shooting, keeping the Aggies to the front at all times. Captain Pinto of Rhode Island put up a great game in (Cont. on page 3 col. 1).

AGGIES LOSE FAST GAME TO CRIMSON

DEFENSE SHATTERED

Tall and Well-Trained Team Proves Downfall—Many Connecticutes at Game—"Stalling" Passwork Works Havoc.

Captain Balock and his men fell before a superior team when they played Harvard University at Cam- bridge on Wednesday night and lost a 34–26 score.

The Aggies were slow to start, but soon caught up their usual pace and drove Harvard to the limit to main- tain their early lead. Connecticut made several spurs that brought her within sight of the lead, but the Crimson always checked these in the nick of time.

At half time Harvard was leading 11–8, the whistle cutting off an Ag- gie drive that looked good for an even score at least.

Harvard broke through the Aggie defense in the second half due to their well-trained team, and to their taller players. Captain Balock playing his usual good game, was handicapped due to his stature. He rallied the team together time and again, but to no avail. When the Aggies would go down the floor to break up the Crimson "stalling" at the other end of the court the Bay Staters would start down the floor carrying the Aggie team off its feet.

The Crimson squad proved to be one of the best teams Connecticut has had to face this season, and may claim to be the first team to solve the Aggie defense.

Many Aggie roosters attended the disappointing game, and added some over-enthusiastic cheering to the occasion. The referee received the better part of it due perhaps to the strict manner under which the Con- necticut referees usually work and to which the roosters were accustomed.

BROWN ATTACK DEFEATS NEW FROSH COMBINATION

GAME DELAYED BY BROWN

Offensive Work of Watson and Bit- good Features Hard game—Many Fouls Called in Second Half.—The Heller Brothers Oppose Each Other.

The freshmen lost a hard fought game to the Brown yearlings last week when they emerged on the short side of a 21–14 score. The team was greatly weakened by the unexpected loss of Captain Hadley and center Williams, when these men were declared ineligible because of scholastic difficulties.

The Aggies took the floor with Watson and Bitgood in the forward births, Eddy at center, and Heller and Donahue at guards. This was an entire different lineup than any Coach Alexander has used, and the game showed that they needed more drilling to equal the play of the regular combination.

In the first few minutes the Aggies looked good and their flying start allowed them to take the lead. Pretty baskets by Bitgood and Eddy helped at this point, while the Aggie de- fense checked the Brown forwards at every turn. The team failed to follow up its advantage, however and (Cont. on page 8 col. 2).

CONNECTICUT DAY AT KINGSTON TOMORROW

The final game of the Aggie court season will be played tomorrow, when the varsity faces Rhode Island at Kingston. The game will follow the co-ed and frosh games in the after- noon. After last week's scrappy battle, the team is sure to face a hard game.

Rhody will have Connecticut on its own floor, a court hard to be beaten in and one that has been disastrous to Connecticut many times in the past. Preceding the varsity game, the co-eds and freshmen will attempt to take Rhody's measure. The girls team is out to avenge the defeat of last Saturday and the frosh will be there to defend anyone the King- ston cubs may offer to Connecticut's downfall.

The same varsity team that faced Rhode Island here will again attempt Rhody's defeat.

After the game with Harvard, a bolstering up of the Aggie defense has put Connecticut in a better position to down her old rivals.

RHODY YEARLINGS DROP FAST GAME TO FRESH

HADLEY & WILLIAMS OUT

Fresh Maintain Early Lead—Out- pass Rival Who Get Slow Start— Squad Shows Fine Teamwork.

Coach Alexander's freshman five staged a strong comeback tonight in their last appearance on the home surface in a well-played game they downed the Rhode Island year- lings by a 36 to 21 score. Despite the recent loss of Captain Hadley and Williams, the Aggie yearlings came through with flying colors and the team showed great improvement over the brand of play displayed against Brown last Wednesday. Af- ter getting away to a slow start that allowed the Rhode Island cubs to take the lead Connecticut's offense got under way and baskets by Eddy and Watson soon put the Aggie cubs in the van. Alexander's men outshot and outpassed their opponents and at half time were leading 17 to 11.

The Storrs combination maintained its lead in the second half and the Rhode Island cubs failed to threaten. Though at times they flashed a clever attack, Haire was the man upon whom the Engineers offense hinged and he turned in some pretty work, making six baskets from the floor and six from the foul line. Eddy and Wat- son led the Connecticut attack with 21 and 19 points respectively. The Aggie team was working together as a man and their play showed a great improvement over that earlier in the week.

COLLEGE VISITED BY FEVER CASES

Pupils Urged to Precaution—Public Spread—Only Three New Cases
Schools Closed as Preventative of Reported.

An increase in the number of scarlet fever cases in the community has commanded precaution to be used by health authorities to prevent further spread of the disease. This past week has seen an increase of three cases, one of which necessitated the closing of the Storrs' Public grade schools.

This is the second year that the fever has broken out noticeably here at the college, and at about the same time. All individuals are urged to report sick cases at once, so that a further spread of the disease may be prevented.

There were two cases at the infirmary prior to the breaking out of the three new cases mentioned. This number represents about the same number of cases as appeared last year, so that no apprehension is felt.

COLLEGE CLOTH OFFERED

The Farm Department has recently offered for sale cloth made from wool clipped from the college flocks. This suit has been made up in attractive patterns and represents real value.

Connecticut is a pioneer in this venture, for the idea has originated in numerous other colleges and universities, departments to handle cloth of like nature. This is borne out in a recent issue of a western college weekly paper which displays an attractive advertisement of this nature.

The farm office says, "first come first served" so get in line and profit from the offer.

Connecticut displayed a tighter defense in the second half, but the Aggie offense was unable to get going and overcome the Brown lead. The game grew rough in this session and many fouls were called on the visitors for holding and hacking.

For Connecticut, the offensive work of Bitgood and Watson looked good, while Heller put up a great game on the defense. Tyson and Heller showed up well for Brown.

THE CAMPUS DEBT

A debt of about six hundred dollars has been floating along for the past four or five years and now is due. If the students will throw a few coppers into the Storrs Post Office Box and let their Student Treasurer know the amount, the College Business Staff will ensure that the debt is paid. Even a small gift will make a big difference toward clearing up this last of the old debts.

THE KIND OF POET WE MUST DESPISE

If a man is bent on making an ass of himself, perhaps there is no way of preventing him. We all know that there are people who would gain win renown of sorts by any means whatever, be that means fair or foul. Marking up walls in the college buildings may aptly fall into the latter case if one were to judge from examples of these moronic histroraphics. A man who is supposed to be educated and selected from a high strata of society, sinks to no mean level when he registers his crude intuitions in "poetry" or "prose" on the walls of the public buildings.

Another matter in this line concerns the marking up of the bulletin boards. There is plenty of proof to the effect that these punsters are beginning to become a trifle hackneyed; their power to stir the imagination is on the wane. In fact, their originality is about zero and their composition is not far above the grammar school stage. The average student is hardly amused by these infantile tricks. He is only bored.

THE BLUE FUNK DAYS

About this time, a number of things are liable to happen to a man. He may become home-sick, love-sick, or sick of the college. In the first two cases usually come around in time but that time that voted to stand back of the publications for all debts, etc. We are not compelled at the point of a gun to do that, but we are certainly in honor bound to do so.

For three years the "Campus" has been working under serious handicaps, too many to enumerate here, but a newspaper we must have. Let us, therefore, aim the scheme for putting the "Campus" on its feet financially. Improvement of the "Board" itself and reorganization of the methods of the "Campus" will naturally follow. The whole college is going through a transitional period and the "Campus" affair is only a part of the whole system. The students are running their own publications. It is up to them to help when there is such an urgent need for it as at present.

THE SCANDAL MONGER: ATTENTION!

In connection with the recent robbery, there seems to be one paramount feature: Rumors went the rounds which were absolutely groundless on nothing but idle hearsay or prejudice. The student body should stop false reports of this kind. Perhaps the need not emphasize the result of connecting innocent people with affairs of this kind. The idiots who are spreading these groundless suspicions ought to be put in stocks.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHER

(For the C. P. used an understudy in the last issue. For his sins and indiscretions, we ask your indulgence.)

---CP---

We procured our little vacation at the right time. We may bless Washington with no snow for adding us in our resurrection after the deadening effect of the past melancholic period. Those days of ease—sans studies, sans worries, and sans cares—were wondrous indeed!

---CP---

"At this time of year, says our dyed-in-the-wood Aggy, our dispositions are not generally as sweet as usual."

---CP---

The C. P. has compiled authentic data from the C. P.'s biggest table. The highest percentage of infatuations have occurred during the months of January, February, and March. The suspicion is, however, that some students should continue to be进行. In other words, we don't want to see any more of the same.

---CP---

Someone has said, "Mr. Philosopher, you are far too facile in your "loving cup" contest. You should use a little more of the indefinite, if you will pardon me." Following the worthy suggestion the C. P. has taken his cue from the cross-word puzzle.

(1) "The primary handle is a name of a nut" (and) "Something good with a y") attached."

(2) A girl who is "nice" without the "i" (and) His nickname is what dancing ought to be, but isn't, in the Army.

A certain personage of the Storrs Navy has conceived the idea of forming a honorary fraternity on the Hill. Only those shall be eligible who have been jilted at least once and have more than three women on a string. "It will necessarily have to be," says the organizer, "a very select group." This person begged that he should receive no publicity out of the thing, being a modest chap, but in any event, his idea of all-round duty bound to remove the veil of secrecy and mark the enterprise with his seal of approval and commendation.

WORK ON COLLEGE YEAR BOOK SHOWS PROGRESS

Faculty and Student Sections Completed—Student Help Requested to Maximum

With Junior Week only a short time away, work on the Nutmeg, the annual publication of the junior class, is being pushed at a maximum in an endeavor to have the book out on Nutmeg Day.

According to Milton G. Moore, editor in chief, the material is going to the printers and engravers' hands every week. The faculty and senior sections are entirely complete while the junior classes will be finished. The Fraternity and Club section, the athletic, and the co-ed section are in condition, leaving only the humor section to be finished.

The board would like to receive contributions from the college body for this section. Anything, humorous snapshots, stories, or cartoons are acceptable. Since this section of the book is perhaps the hardest to account for, such help as the student can give will aid materially in the final publication of the year book.

CONN. VICTORIOUS OVER BAY STATE DIRECTORS

Forensic Contest Second Victory in as Many Years—Mr. Willard Wattles Coaches Team—Negative Side Well Defended by Able Team.

In the first forensic contest of the year Connecticut emerged victorious over Springfield College at Springfield. Connecticut's team, which defended the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that Congress should be given a two-thirds veto power over the Supreme Court," consisted of Sidney Lewis, '26, Marshall E. Coo, '29, Solomon Gierewsky, '27, and L. Richard Belden, '27, alternate. The team was coached by Mr. Willard Wattles of the English Department. The affirmative team was composed of Mesers Ford, Taylor and Rivers, representing Springfield College.

The victory was the second for Connecticut over Springfield in as many years, the Connecticut debating team having defeated the "Directors" at Storrs last year.

The University of Kansas has added a course in dancing to its curriculum at the request of the student self-government association, and the course is now open to students as an optional subject.

RIFLE TEAM BOWS TO RHODE ISLAND MARKSMEN

Usual Aggie Form Absent—Victory Due to Scant Margin—Only Shoulder to Shoulder Match This Year.

Showing far from their usual form the C. A. C. Rifle team lost to their Rhode Island rivals on the Hawley Armory range last Saturday afternoon. Although the team has a good record to date, the results of "Buck Fever" were evident, and the bull was manifestly safe. This was true of both teams, however, although Rhode Island won by a scant margin. The meet was the only shoulder to shoulder match of the year.

The best score prone was turned in by Radcliffe of Rhode Island, who was credited with a 91 score. The Aggie men were hopelessly outclassed in this position, the highest score of C. A. C. being only equal to the lowest of Rhode Island. In the sitting position, Sandburg of Rhode Island, turned in a 95 score, while Hitchcock was next with a 93. Kneeling, Jacoby of Connecticut hit the target for an 87, while standing, Lynch, a newcomer on the C. A. C. team hold the highest score with 81.

The best total scores were turned in by Lynch of C. A. C. and Grant of Rhode Island, both of whom were credited with a total of 338 points.

In the other matches of last week, Connecticut in usual form, won from Nevada University and the University of Washington. The score of the Nevada match was C. A. C. 547, Nevada Univ., 3267, Connecticut winning by 70 points. University of Washington forfeited, claiming that the ammunition was poor. However, they have the same ammunition as is issued to all R. O. T. C. units, and consequently the same as we used.

This makes a total of five wins for the Aggies against three losses with two matches to go. The Corps Area Match will be finished this week, with Connecticut making good showing. The National Hearst Trophy Match will be fired next week.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE BRINGS CRAWFORD, ADAMS & CO.

Delights Audience with Classical and Popular Numbers—Retrospective Engagement in Near Future Promised.

Crawford Adams & Company were received by the faculty and a few students on Thursday evening, February 19, in Hawley Armory. Surely those who failed to attend did not realize what a fascinating program was to be given.

The program consisted of violin and piano selections as well as several interesting dramatic readings. Mr. Adams devoted part of his time to playing numbers selected by the audience. Both classical and popular numbers were selected, all of which were given to the utmost satisfaction.

It was several years since Mr. Adams had been on the hill, but he hopes to be with us again in the near future. We are sure he would appreciate the presence of the entire student body.

GRANGE ENGAGES PLAYERS FOR SECOND TIME

Services Still in Demand—Entertainment Expresses Gratitude.

Connecticutites are still demanding the services of the Little Theatre. On February 20, the State College Players journeyed to Farmington to present "Pygmalion and Galatea" and the one-act comedy, "The Mayor and the Marquise." With the exception of Miss Coral Lavaloe who substituted for Miss Madelyn Wheeler as Myrine in "Pygmalion and Galatea," the original dramatics personnel appeared in their usual parts.

The entertainment provided for the players expressed the gratification of the Grange under whose auspices the performance was given. Following the presentation of the plays, the cast enjoyed dancing in the local Town Hall.

This trip to Farmington was a return engagement and, as last year, was managed by Henry French, a former C. A. C. man.

"Best Paid Hard Work in the World"

It's the way a John Hancock salesman described his work. He is a college graduate and in five years has put himself at the very top of his business. He never yet has called upon a prospect without a previous appointment. The best life insurance salesman today work on that plan, making it a business of dignity, such as any worthy and ambitious college graduate can find satisfying to his mental needs, and highly remunerative as well.

The man above quoted is the John Hancock's youngest general agent. This shows what college graduates of the right type can do in this business, how they can build up earning power and at the same time provide for an accumulated competence for the years to come.

Graduation is a vital period in your life and you are liable to hold to the business you start in. It would be well before making a definite decision to inquire into life insurance as a career. Address, "Agency Department."

The executive committee, of which Mr. Fienehman is chairman, is also attending to its assigned task. The executive committee is composed of seven members, the vice-president of the junior class acting as chairman, and each of the other six men being chairman of committees that will take charge of the canes, tree planting, the play, the banquet and the tea dance.

All committees are working harmoniously together with one point in mind—to make the coming event an abounding success, and a lasting impression to the members of the class of 1926.
CO-ED NOTES

CIRCUS INTERESTS FACULTY AND STUDENTS

Novel Entertainment Shows Originality—All Features of Barnum and Bailey Appear—Student Girls Add Talent—Given by Social Committee

Friday evening, February 29, the circus came to Holcomb Hall. A new and novel form of entertainment was originated by the girls with a minimum fee charged as admission in order to cover the expenses incurred. The circus had all the features of Barnum and Bailey, including a main tent, side shows, and the usual circus food, hot-dogs, peanuts and pink lemonade.

Phyllis Smith acted as chief Barker when Rally Croll announced the attractions of the main tent. These included Irene Ellis' Spaghetti Troupe which put over some snappy stuff in a manner quite professional. Floral beauty with Rebekah, otherwise Flora Kaplan and Rose Mishkin, proved themselves adept title-role walkers; Jane Rankin as a roller-skating bear also added to the fun. The star attraction of the evening came—however when Ruth Sours fought Grace Holcombe to a finish in four rounds. The girls came off in the most approved manner and showed quite a bit of pugilistic ability.

After the main performance, the crowd visited the side shows. The wild woman acted her wildest, the sword swallow thrilled her audience, the fat lady was alarmingly stout, the House of Terror was sufficiently terrorized, and the snake charmer herself was rather snaky. An added attraction was an honest-to-goodness fortune teller, otherwise Miss Griffin, who foretold the future in a very convincing manner.

"Peg" Hutton, as temporary chairman of the Social Committee, was in charge of the circus, being ably assisted by the members of the committee and various helpers. Everybody went, including all the students and the Home Economics faculty, and everybody enjoyed the performance.

The circus does not come to Holcomb Hall very often but it surely is well supported when it does. The evenings program was something unusual and as such, made a hit. Everyone entered into the spirit of the occasion and only that time worn phrase "a good time was had by all," will adequately express how popular the circus proved to be.

JUNIORS DEFEAT FROSH IN POSTPONED MEET

The long postponed interclass swimming meet of juniors against freshmen took place on Wednesday, February 25. The honors went to the junior girls who won by a small margin. Helen Grant and Margaret Demander represented "26, while Ruth (Cont. on page 8 col. 1)

ATTRACTIVE MUSICAL FEATURES ART MEETING

Program Given by Member Girls—"Negro Music" a Feature—"Mov· ies" to be Next Topic Developed

An entertaining and instructive musical program was given on Monday, February 16, to the girls of the Monteith Arts Society by three of its members, Miss Margaret Demander, Miss Hildegard Scholander, and Miss Gladys Burdick. The program was pleasantly divided into three parts, and was developed by discussion and illustrations.

Miss Demander introduced the subject by giving a short talk on Negro Music, which, she said, is the only true American Music. As an illustration of this type of music, Miss Scholander sang "Sweet Little Mary," a song of charming Negro melody. There followed a brief discussion of Eighteenth Century composers and music by Miss Burdick, and as an example of two of the greatest composers of this period, Miss Demander played the "Moonlight Sonata" by Beethoven and "Crescendo" by P. Tchau.

Miss Burdick spoke further on the music of this period and Miss Demander again illustrated her talk, playing Rachmaninoff's "Prelude." As a closing number Miss Scholander sang "All That I Can Say." The program was greatly appreciated by all present and was considered one of the best meetings of the year. The next topic to be developed by members of the society is "Movies," and the girls are looking forward to being presented with some very interesting material.

AGGIETTES SUCCUMB TO NEW YORK U. ATTACK

Score Shows Little Edge in the First Half—Second Half Proves Defeat

The New York University girls team descended on Storrs with plenty of vim and an assuredness of winning a game with a zero score on the Aggie side.

The first quarter of the game resulted in a score of three to two—an evidence of the co-ed ability to hold their well-trained opponents. At the end of the half the visitors were one point ahead with the numbers seven to six. The third quarter gave the advantage to N. Y. U., who, aided by the good playing of Misses Brinn and Metz, managed to raise the score to thirteen to seven. The game resulted in a defeat for the co-eds, the final score being twenty-two to twelve.

All points for Connecticut were made by Misses Grant and Nase.

At the R. I. game the co-ed basketball team will appear in the new uniforms. The orange and black overblouses with dark bloomers are distinctive and will greatly aid the players in distinguishing each other.
