At a regular meeting of the Student Senate, the committee on violations of Freshmen rules offered a suggestion for the treatment of those who break the rules. In brief it consists of the following: For first, second, or minor offenses, a committee of the Sophomore class shall administer a punishment which has not yet been devised. For a third, or a major offense, the offender shall be brought before the Student Senate for trial, which body shall recommend a suitable punishment.

After a long discussion it was finally decided to have the Pig Roast as the inter-class scrap. The dates were set to be from noon Wednesday, Dec. 9, until Thursday, Dec. 10, at noon. The rules for this event are being drawn up and will be posted on the bulletin board.

Attention was called to the fact that the Freshmen are not observing the meal hours set for them, and that they are crowding the entrance to the Dining-Hall as well as loitering outside. The Senate has ruled that not

NEW YORKERS FALL BY 19-0

Invaders Outclassed by Aggies.—Game Marred by Poor Showing of N. Y. Team.

The Connecticut Aggies found their true strength last Saturday when they ran rough shod over the fast Manhattan College eleven of New York, beating them 19 to 0.

The Aggies displayed a running attack in the first quarter that could not be stopped, scoring two touchdowns down after long marches down the field. The final score was made in the last quarter after Eddy's run for twenty-five yards, a pass to Makofski for twenty yards, and Makofski went through tackle for the score.

Manhattan's backfield could make no headway through Connecticut's line at all, and most of their gains were thrown away through the air by the

CONNECTICUT PREPARES FOR ANNUAL BATTLE WITH RHODE ISLAND STATE

AGGIES INVADE KINGSTON NEXT WEEK

Next week the Aggie football squad will have hard daily workouts in preparation for their most important contest of the year, the annual Rhode Island-Connecticut football game to be played at Kingston, Nov. 14.

With the return of Captain Brick to the lineup, after a two weeks' layoff due to a sprained shoulder, the chances for an Aggie victory has brightened considerably. Brick has been out to practice for the last week and promises to be in the pink of condition for the biggest game of his career.

The return of both Longo and Fenneman to the squad has also strengthened the team. Logan has been holding down Fenneman's end position in fine style, but there has been a scarcity of reserve end material.

Nanfeldt and Zollin will be the tackles that Coach Dole will pick to start the big contest of the year. Both men have been playing a great game throughout the season.

Bitgood and Johnson will draw the end positions. Bitgood has been playing his usual hard, slashing game all season, and is rated as one of the best guards in the New England Conference. Johnson the other guard has been playing a steady game since he made good in the early part of the season.

Daly, the Aggies cool headed center, has been playing a wing position in the absence of Captain Brink but will be shifted back to center for the Rhody game.

Schofield is likely to start at the quarterback position where he has been playing throughout the season. He is a clever receiver of forward passes, and carries the ball in fine style.

NEW HAMPSHIRE NEXT ON AGGIE SCHEDULE

Coach Dole's Men Out to Repeat Last Year's Victory—Granite State Team Yet to Meet With Defeat This Season.

Connecticut Aggies varsity football team will play the hardest remaining game on their schedule when they line up against the undefeated New Hampshire eleven at Durham, N. H., Saturday. The New Hampshire team is leading all the other college teams in the race for the championship of the New England Conference teams which includes all the state college teams in New England with the exception of Vermont.

The Granite State team holds victories over Norwich, Tufts, Rhode Island, and played a tie game with Springfield College. New Hampshire defeated Tufts 9-6 last Saturday and since Connecticut defeated Tufts the previous week by the score of 3-0 a close battle is looked for.

If Connecticut defeats New Hampshire, the Mass. Aggie eleven will be the champions of the Conference by virtue of their 13-0 victory over C. A. C. On the other hand if New Hampshire defeats Connecticut by a larger score than M. A. C. did, the Bay State Agarians will be judged the premier team.

Connecticut Aggies have just finished a week of strenuous practice and every man on the team is in first class condition to give battle to the Green Mountainers. With the return of Captain Carl Brink to the lineup, the Aggies will present their strongest lineup Saturday. Coach Dole has given his team new plays during the week's drill, and the Aggies aerial attack has been improved, so that the Varsity is ready to give New Hampshire its hardest game of the year.

Last year Connecticut defeated New Hampshire at Storrs 6-3 in one of the most thrilling games of the season. The Aggies will be in the game tomorrow in an effort to repeat last year's victory.

RHOE ISLAND FROSH TO MEET AGGIE CUBS

Freshmen Ready For Biggest Game of Season

The Conn. Aggie Frosh will battle their keen rivals, the Rhode Island State Freshmen eleven on Gardner Dow field tomorrow. In former years, no matter what degree of success the Rhode Island Freshman met with during the season, they played their best game of the year when they pitched against the Nutmeg State Frosh.

Coach Keaney's yearlings have but one win to their credit this season. They have worked hard to perfect an overhead game which to date has not produced good results.

FRESHMEN LOSE TO SPRINGFIELD FROSH

In a hard fought battle the Connecticut Frosh went down to defeat before the strong Springfield Freshman team by the score of 7 to 6. Connecticut made its score in the initial quarter when Sayers broke through the Springfield line and blocked a kick which was recovered by Wilson in back of the Springfield goal line. Connecticut failed to kick the goal after the touchdown.

Springfield came back strong and marched the ball down the field for a touchdown and kicked the goal. It looked as if it was going to be one sided affair for Springfield completely outplayed Connecticut in the first half.

In the second half it was a different story, and the Frosh came back with the old Aggie fight and held Springfield from scoring any more points and the game ended with the Cub Directors on the long end of the score.

O'CONNOR, CAPTAIN OF N. H., CONFERENCE LEADER

Eddie O'Connor, captain of the University of New Hampshire eleven, is the leading scorer in the New England Conference, which includes all New England State Colleges except Boston.

O'Connor has made five touchdowns, three field goals, and three points after touchdowns. Makofski, right half back of Conn., is included in the list. He has made three touchdowns. The leading scorers in the Conference are as follows. The columns of figures are respectively, touchdowns, field goals, points after touchdowns, totals.

CONNECTICUT OVERPOWER MANHATTAN ELEVEN

Biggest game of the year when they pitched the forward pass. "Mickey" Hayes, a Waterbury boy, played fullback for the New Yorkers and his work throughout the game was of the highest order.

The Aggies outrushed the Manhattan team, scoring eleven first downs to seven for the New Yorkers. Connecticut could not get their forward working at any time during the game except in the last quarter. The first and last quarters were Connecticut's only. The Aggie eleven was in possession of the ball in Manhattan's territory throughout the two periods.

Manhattan was only dangerous in the first quarter. The forward pass proved to be the only means by which the New Yorkers could gain; bringing the ball to the six yard line before Connecticut took the ball on downs. Connecticut's backfield carried the ball in fine style. Schofield ran the first kickoff back thirty yards before he was stopped. He also made a gain of twenty-five yards through the line. Moreland carried the ball for a gain of thirty-five yards in the first quarter. Eddy made two nice end runs and Makofski's line smashing was of the highest order.

The Manhattan eleven showed up the game continuously by excessively wrangling with the officials and the Connecticut eleven.

The game started soon after the Fresh game with Cohalan of Manhattan kicked to Schofield, who ran it back thirty yards. Connecticut started off like a new team, smashing through the New Yorkers line for a gain after gain. Moreland through tackle made three, Filmer two, and Makofski made it first down. Makofski smashed through left tackle for three years and on the next play Moreland went around left end for seventeen yards and first down.

Schofield made another first down around right end, taking the ball to the two yard line, when Manhattan called for time. The New Yorkers tried vainly to stop the Aggies backs but on the fourth try Makofski went over for a touchdown. Moreland dropped kick for the extra point.

Nanfeldt kicked off, the ball going over the goal line for a touchback. Manhattan's ball on the twenty yard line and after three attempts at the Aggie line they pinned. Moreland threw a pass to Schofield who was interfered with, and Connecticut was given a first down. Moreland was thrown for a loss but on the next play the ball went around left end for thirty-five yards. Makofski made the score, Schofield four, and Moreland first down. On the next play Moreland went six yards for touchdown. Moreland tried for the extra point but it fell to the ground incomplete.

Nanfeldt kicked off to Manhattan and after two plays the quarter ended. On the first play of the second period Hayes went around left end for a gain of eighteen yards. Two forwards and with Hayes pushing the ball Manhattan's eleven took the ball to the six yard line where Conn. stopped them and took the ball on downs. On the first down Moreland punched to the center of the field where Manhattan fumbled and Zollin recovered for Connecticut. Manhattan was given a penalty for talking and delaying the game. Eddy substituting for Filmer, gained twelve yards around left end. Schofield lost five and on the next play Manhattan intercepted one of Moreland's forwards. The New Yorkers completed two passes for eighteen yards as the half ended.

Nanfeldt kicked to a Manhattan forward who ran it back fifteen yards a forward gave them first down and Connecticut gave them five more for being- off-side. They completed an other pass but Hayes lost ground and Manhattan punched off-side on Connecticut's twenty-five yard line. Moreland made four, Makofski two, Moreland two and on the next play the Aggies fumbled and Burke of
RIFLE TEAM TO MEET
N. Y. U. NEXT WEEK

Last Year's Team Practically Intact
—Busy Schedule Being Drawn Up

The Connecticut Agricultural College Rifle Team will open its season against N. Y. U., Nov. 14. Most of the members of last year's team are back with the exception of Jacoby. At least there are many able bodied riflemen on the Hill this year, the competition for a place on the team will be keen.

There are no definite plans as yet, but it is hoped to have about sixty matches, including Boston University, Yale, University of Chicago, Harvard, George Washington, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Chicago, Indiana, Texas, Arizona, California, Georgia, Montana, Carnegie Tech, Rutgers, University of Pennsylvania, M. I. T., University of Delaware, and the University of Illinois.

Probably the match of most interest will be with Rhode Island State at Kingston. The Engineers defeated C. A. C. last year by a very close margin and the team will do their best to see that they do not duplicate it again this year.

The team will be coached by Captain Crim and Lieutenant Buntings, and under their supervision it is hoped that the team will have a successful season.

Some of the men have made remarkable records for themselves. At Camp Devens last summer, Kubl qualified as expert with a score of 236, and was also a member of the Corps Area Team, which went to the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. On the local range Lynch qualified as expert with a score of 236, and again qualified on the long range at Camp Perry. He was also a member of the Conn. Civilian Team. W. Griffin, A. Griffin, Kidwasser and Hitchcock all qualified as marksmen while at Camp Devens.

Trials will be held during the week to pick out the first and second teams.

AHERN CHOSEN HEAD OF DRAMATIC CLUB

Fifteen New Members Admitted to Organization.—To Present Program Once a Month.

Albert Ahern, '26, was elected to succeed Milton Moore as president of the Dramatic Club for the ensuing year. Ahern has been an active member of the club for two years, and is also a member of the State College Players.

Recent try-outs for the Club resulted in the selection of fifteen new members. The Dramatic Club now has a membership of approximately thirty, which includes the players and the production staff.

Early last month a meeting of all the candidates was called, and each person was given a part in some play which had been previously produced by the Club. He was then placed under the direction of someone who had appeared in the play from which his particular part had been selected.

At a meeting the following week, the candidate was called upon to deliver his part. The manner in which he presented it determined to a large extent his qualification for eligibility.

It was also announced that the Dramatic Club will stage a play, or group of one act plays, one Saturday night of each month, at the Armory.

The new members of the Dramatic Club are: Cuykendall, McLaughlin, Gatchell, Sullivan, Rabinowitz, Miss Reiter, Miss Wilkinson, Miss Green, Miss Gordon, Miss Wilkes, Miss Fossey, Miss Toutzke, Miss Palmer, Miss Koster and Miss Fellows.

"HOW TO STUDY"

The Students' Hand-Book of Practical Hints on the Technique of Effective Study by WILLIAM ALLAN BROOKS

A GUIDE containing hundreds of practical hints and short cuts in the economy of learning, to assist students in securing MAXIMUM SCHOLASTIC RESULTS at a minimum cost of time, energy, and fatigue.

ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED for overworked students and athletes engaged in extra-curriculum activities and for average and honor students working for high scholastic achievement.

Some of the Topics Covered

Writing Good Examinations. How to Study Science, Literature, Art. Brain and Digestion in Relation to Study. Why Go to College?

How to Take Lecture and Reading Notes. Developing Concentration and Efficiency. Cramming. Disadvantages of Cramming.

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan.

"The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intended may lead to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swain, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learned "How to Study," work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Inglis, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

GOTHAM SPORTSMANSHIP

It is often the case that it takes outsiders to discover some hidden facets of interest to the college community which the community itself has either overlooked or else completely ignored. Such was the case when last Sunday's New York Times appeared on the campus carrying on its sports page the story of the defeat of Manhattan College at Storrs last Saturday.

There in bold type is found an astonishing fact, "Storrs has a police force!" At least this meaning is conveyed in the story, for it stated that it was necessary to call the police out to restore order after the crowds had several times surged on the field in protest tothe Aggie's, Kehoe's rulings. Especially was it astounding when the cause for the crowd's behavior was due to the fact that the referee had given the ball to the Aggie elevens when the Manhattan team had had only three downs. Evidently the spectators are real sport lovers and wanted to see Manhattan get an even break even though that eleven was showing the worst exhibition of good football sportsmanship ever seen here at the college.

In looking over the writer of the game no mention is made of the team being penalized fifteen yards by the referee because some person other than the players, officials, the team's representative, or an incoming substitute came upon the field of play without permission from the referee as logically would happen when Football Rule No. XXII, Section 2, is enforced. Therefore it seems evident that whoever wrote the story for The New York Times must either be ignorant of the college, and its community, or else the story was written from a Manhattan point of view in explanation of the defeat. Also it might be of interest to know that the Athletic Department of the college has always followed its policy of employing disinterested officials for all of its varsity games.

FOOTBALL CYCLES

Cycles have come to play a very important part in the prediction of future trends. They are also studied to explain present tendencies, and so it is we are embarking on a new study of the football cycle whose path we hope will explain the football cycle.

Truly football has a ship cycle, if we so choose to call it, and we need not look very far to see its effect on men who entrain to Carter. Men out for the strong numbers at the beginning of the year, and, as the season takes its toll, they fall by the wayside to win! We did win and on the way back everyone, who lived along the railroad knew that Connecticut was victorious.

When the train leaves at 8.30 on Saturday morning one week, every Connecticut man and woman will be there. Even if some sacrifice has to be made, Connecticut will go to Rhode Island 100 per cent strong; for that is the way she does business! It may seem to many that going by automobile will promote their best interests, but it will not! Connecticut on top, half the student body feels the same way. The "Aggie Special" is for you. Join the parade leaving the Dining Hall at breakfast on November 14 for we are going to Rhody to WIN!

"stickettiveness"

We need only to look at the men on the varsity squad. Here are some men who have been out every year, and even though they did not make the team, they have stuck so that the men who did, could find them waiting to give them some good, strong, opposition at every play. Then there are men on the squad that did not make the team their first three years, but now play regularly. What can we say to them? Only this, that they are dead game sportsmen, and deserve the letter "t" that they will probably receive. Therefore it seems evident that whoever wrote the story for The New York Times must either be ignorant of the college, and its community, or else the story was written from a Manhattan point of view in explanation of the defeat. Also it might be of interest to know that the Athletic Department of the college has always followed its policy of employing disinterested officials for all of its varsity games.

RHODY BOUND!

In a formal statement President Besch has declared Saturday, November 14, an athletic holiday, thus making it possible for the entire student body and faculty members to attend the annual clash with Rhode Island at Kingston on that date. Already arrangements for the movement of the student body are complete and we are apprised by the Train Company that a special train has been chartered for pilgrimage.

To those who have been to Rhode Island before come pleasant memories of the fine time they enjoyed when Connecticut went down to renew its toll, they fall by the wayside to win! We did win and on the way back everyone, who lived along the railroad knew that Connecticut was victorious.

When the train leaves at 8.30 on Saturday morning one week, every Connecticut man and woman will be there. Even if some sacrifice has to be made, Connecticut will go to Rhode Island 100 per cent strong; for that is the way she does business! It may seem to many that going by automobile will promote their best interests, but it will not! Connecticut on top, half the student body feels the same way. The "Aggie Special" is for you. Join the parade leaving the Dining Hall at breakfast on November 14 for we are going to Rhody to WIN!

CONNECTICUT

The Senate wishes to remind the Student Body of the action they took last winter about the matter of collecting publication fees through the Business Office with the semester fees. The matter is again to be presented to the Faculty, and if it becomes necessary, the students may be called on again to support their former decision by another favorable vote. The leaders of the publications feel confident that they have the backing of the Student Body in this matter.

A long discussion was carried on regarding the dormitory situation, the new dormitory, and the equipment of the old ones.

Makofski will be used to hit the center of the line when yardage is needed.

Filmer, who has been playing a fine game all season will hold down a halfback position. He makes wonderful interference and his tackling is deadly.

Moreland, the other Aggie halfback is expected to furnish many thrills during the game, as he is a triple threat man, kicking, passing and carrying the ball with equal skill.

With wins to its credit for the last two years, the Aggie eleven will endeavor to make it three straight. Interest on the campus is at the highest pitch, and the talk is turning entirely to football. Connecticut roosters are praying for a good day and a dry field when the throng of northerners descend to the plains of Kingston.

To date the dope favors the Aggies and if everything runs true to form Captain Brink should have the pigskin in his clutches when he boards the Aggie Special after the game.

Rhode Island has played five games winning only one. They beat C. C. N. Y. which had a rather weak team this year. Rhody has a star kicker in Bosworth, who is playing his third year for the engineers.

Eight seniors will play in their last Rhode Island-Connecticut football game. They are Captain Brink, Fieneman, Nanfeldt, Johnson, Biggoud, Filmer, Moreland and Makofski.

The entire squad will make the trip to Kingston on the special train chartered by the student body.

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

In an isolated region, almost inaccessible in winter, this 6500 h.p. hydro-electric plant located on the Deerfield River in New England, starts, protects, and stops itself.

A Self-Starting Power Plant

Dawn—the slumbering city awakens and calls for electric current. Many miles away the call is answered. A penstock opens automatically, releasing impounded waters; a water turbine goes to work, driving a generator; and electric current is soon flowing through wires over the many miles to the city. This plant starts and runs itself.

Power plants with automatic control are now installed on isolated mountain streams. Starting and stopping, generating to a set capacity, shutting down for hot bearings and windings, gauging available water supply, they run themselves with uncanny precision.

Thus another milestone has been reached in the generation of electric power. And with present-day achievements in power transmission, electricity generated anywhere may be applied everywhere.

The non-technical graduate need not know where electricity comes from—nor even how it works. But he should know what electricity can do for him no matter what vocation he selects.

The last home game of the season was somewhat of a disappointment, even though it was a decisive victory for Connecticut.

Manhattan did not win any friends at Connecticut. Continuous arguments on the part of the visitors detracted greatly from the game. An exhibition as displayed by the New York team is rarely seen at college games, but is usually confined to the schoolboy's back yard.

And being in a critical mood, we might say that the officiating was not all it could have been. The officials possessed a greater amount of patience than was to be found on the sidelines.

Connecticut will do well to overlook the New Yorkers when making out next year's schedule.

The New York Times tells us that the police were forced to stop angry spectators from interfering with the game. Wonder what a New Yorker's idea of a cop is, anyhow. But it is a greater wonder to the inhabitants of New York when to find a policeman.

Maybe it was the first game for Manhattan that police were not called when they were the only ones to demand the presence of a cop. The following program was presented:

Students Appreciate Excellent Program—Concert Broadcasted From WCAC.

One of the finest programs that C. A. C. students have had the pleasure of attending this year was given by Miss Louise Stalings of New York at the Assembly on Wednesday, October twenty-sixth. Her vivid personality, ability in equally vivid costume and her audience at the very beginning and held it throughout. The exceptional ability that she showed turned to each one the theme of every song. The finest feature of her talent was that she so accurately atmospheric ed every mood in her music.

There was a great variety in her program. The two groups of French and Italian songs showed splendid facility in foreign tongues. Her American group included every type of music from the negro to the desert melodies. By the successive encores that were demanded there was no doubt of the Aggies appreciation of Miss Stalings.

Miss Stalings Delights Assembly

The orange waved high above the green last Saturday.

The last home game of the season was somewhat of a disappointment, even though it was a decisive victory for Connecticut.

Manhattan did not win any friends at Connecticut. Continuous arguments on the part of the visitors detracted greatly from the game. An exhibition as displayed by the New York team is rarely seen at college games, but is usually confined to the schoolboy's back yard.

And being in a critical mood, we might say that the officiating was not all it could have been. The officials possessed a greater amount of patience than was to be found on the sidelines.

Connecticut will do well to overlook the New Yorkers when making out next year's schedule.

The New York Times tells us that the police were forced to stop angry spectators from interfering with the game. Wonder what a New Yorker's idea of a cop is, anyhow. But it is a greater wonder to the inhabitants of New York when to find a policeman.

Maybe it was the first game for Manhattan that police were not called when they were the only ones to demand the presence of a cop. The following program was presented:

The Co-Ed Hockey team lost to the University of Maine team last Saturday at Orono by a score of 1 to 0. The game was hard fought, and the result gratifying to the girls as the contest was the first for the Connecticut team. The team left C. A. C. Friday morning arriving in Portland late that evening. They remained there overnight and continued to train the next morning. The Maine Co-eds entertained the Aggies at the college Saturday night.

This was the first intercollegiate hockey game for the Connecticut Aggie Co-eds, and the very good showing that they made indicates that there is good material.

The girls who made the trip were Grant, Brown, Welsh, Foley, Healey, Koster, Mondrad, Buell, Saxon, Swan, Hopkins, Dudley, Law, Green, Gustafson, and Bronson.

MONTIETH ARTS SOCIETY ENTERTAINED WITH MUSIC

Eric Demander, Signe Nordin and Annie DeBlasis, accomplished musicians from New Haven, entertained the Faculty and the Co-eds, under the auspices of the Montieth Arts Society, in Holcomb Hall last Monday. To Miss Demander, '26, President of the Society, goes the credit for having arranged this delightful musical affair.

The program was as follows:

   Eric Demander, Violinist
   Annie DeBlasis, Cellist
   Signe Nordin, Accompagnist
4. "Humorekke" Aulin
5. "Nocturne in Eb" Chopin
   Eric Demander, Violinist
6. "Sonata" Corelli
7. "Begleit" Schubert
   Anne DeBlasis, Cellist
8. "Rondo" Mozart-Kreisler
   Eric Demander, Violinist
9. Four Poetic Sketches by L. Leslie Loh
10. "Soliloquy" "Poeme Eroique" "The Story of a Rose" "Value-Caprice"
    Eric Demander, Violinist
    Annie DeBlasis, Cellist
    Signe Nordin, Pianist

Professor Croteau Prepares Excellent Program.—Dr. Dunn to Speak on Travels in France.

One of Professor Croteau's numerous and delightful programs will be presented at Hawley Armory, Nov. 11, at 7.30 p.m. The students have often been favored by these pleasant serenades, and Mr. Croteau has arranged an interesting program.

Dr. Dunn of the College Experiment Station will recount some of his experiences during a recent trip in France and will accompany his talk by a series of lantern slides on which he has collected.

Mrs. Alling and Mr. Andre Roux will sing a duet and will also render individual selections. Miss Germaine Dition will be the accompanist. To make the meaning of these songs clear to those who are not entirely at home with the French language, Professor Croteau has arranged to have lantern slides giving a brief resume of each song while it is being sung.

The rest of the program will consist of songs, recitations, a violin solo, and a French play which the French students have prepared. The following will take part: Violin solo, Miss Sklarinsky, accompanied by Miss Bena Cohen; a recitation, Miss Fine, silver; a song, Miss Mishkin; "La Comedie de celui qui epouse une femme muette," Miss Gordon, Miss Kaplan, Miss Mishlin, Miss Nellie Cohen, Miss FineSilver, Mr. Lifshitz, Mr. Lasker and Mr. Klein.

Prof. Croteau cordially invites all members of the faculty and student body to attend, and he assures that the evening will be well spent.

The Girls Glee Club, at its last meeting on Tuesday, October Fifth, began practice on several new songs which they plan to use in a concert. The club is not without its social aspect, and plans are being made not only for the continuance of "sings" similar to that held last week, but also for a party to be held at the Beach House.

The members of the Second Glee Club are keeping up their work, and it is expected that they will take part in the social activities of the regular Glee Club.
ENGINEERS VISIT
SUBMARINE BASE

Interesting Trip Made by Juniors and Seniors

The third of a series of Engineering Field Trips was taken by the members of the Junior and Senior classes in Engineering on Navy Day, when under the direction of Professor Wheelock they visited the Submarine Base at Groton.

Of special interest to the boys was the Submarine S-12, of the same type as the S-51 which was sunk off Block Island recently with the loss of thirty-three lives. They also visited the Submarine Tender S. S. Cambden and the N-31, which were at the base at the time.

In the laboratories which they visited they were shown the complete construction and operation of the torpedo, and the methods of aiming, testing, and of storing the torpedoes. The engine laboratory was also visited, where the engineer inspected Diesel engines, such as are used in the submarines, with which the young mechanic or engineer must familiarize himself before graduating to a submarine.

In the afternoon the boys took a trip around the harbor on one of the tenders of the S. S. Cambden, after which they witnessed a football game between teams representing the submarine and the S. S. Cambden.

The next trip to be taken will be during the week of December 1st when the class will attend the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at New York.

THE AGRICULTURAL CLUB

The Agricultural Club, Incorporated, is an organization open to all Ag. and Science students. It is entirely a voluntary membership club, and all students are cordially invited to join and help support and make the Ag. Club a bigger and better activity on the hill. Why not have a large attendance at the meetings to reap the efforts of the speakers. Those who have attended the meetings this fall can boast of having enjoyed exceedingly good lectures and consider their time well spent. There are many more good talks and speakers on the program for future dates and all students whose aim is to get more out of college life ought not to miss them. It is hoped that all those interested in the welfare of the Ag. Club of C. A. C. will cooperate to make it still a better worth-while activity.

At a supper for a group of girl friends last Friday evening at the home of her parents, the engagement of Miss Frances B. Davis to Mr. Wright D. Gifford was announced.
