In an atmosphere filled by the fragrant aroma of roasting pig, the traditional classic between the freshmen and sophomores will take place some time between Wednesday noon December 9, and Thursday noon December 10. This is the decision of the Student Senate after many months of discussion in which many new statutes for the traditional Pig Roast were considered.

The main purpose of staging a Pig Roast is to stimulate class spirit among the freshmen. In organizing themselves for their first important stand against their sophomore professors, they grow to know one another, many new and lasting friendships are formed; and a sense of co-operation is instilled in the class. They are also given an opportunity of proving themselves of mettle superior to the soph, and being rewarded for their efforts by the lifting of the freshman cap rule.

Several changes appear in the rules as drawn up by the Senate for this year's class. The time limit has been lowered to 24 hours in order to stop crops, and Horticulture. Treasure, Winsor's Butler, and Miss Edith M. Wood of Middletown, Melodians, a nine piece orchestra, will render the music for the occasion.

A new feature will be innovated this year in connection with the grand march. The honorary guests of the evening—the football men—will precede all the others. They will be led by Captain Carlos Brink, '26, and Miss Phyllis Robarge of Willimantic. A distinct break in the line will separate the football men and the rest of the participants who will be led by the Chairman of the Hop Committee, Ernest Spores, and Miss Margaret Hutton of Winsted.

The following have signified their intention of attending the Hop:

Ernest E. Spores and Miss Margaret Hutton of Winsted; Carlos H. Kennedy and Miss Edith M. Wood of Thomaston; Leilad E. Evans and Miss Cele M. Annual Fair Promises to Be Great Success.—Various Departments to Compete For Scoville Cup.

Friday, the eleventh of December, will see the opening of the Ag Club Fair in the Armory, and the festivities will continue until Saturday at midnight, when the annual Barnwarming comes to an end. The exhibits, which are ready to be shown for the public at noon on Friday, will show the work of the departments of Dairy Husbandry, Agronomy, Apiculture, Bacteriology, the Botany and Genetics, Animal Farm Machinery, Entomology, Forestry, Horticulture, Floriculture, Home Economics, Poultry and Military Science. The departments are, as last year, competing for a cup which is awarded to the department having the best exhibit. This cup will be on exhibition on the opening day of the fair in the C. A. C. booth, and will also be the medals that are to be awarded to the winning judges in each of the various departments. These contests have always been one of the features of the fair, and everyone is urged to take part in them.

Freshmen have as a good chance in these contests as anyone else. The following subjects will be judged and a medal for first given in each: Dairy Cattle, Dairy Products, Animal Husbandry, Poultry, Crops, and Horticulture.

Friday evening, beginning at 8:00 o'clock, there will be two plays presented by the Dramatic Club preceded by the awarding of the Scoville cup, medals, and the honors won at the football hop.
The entire student body turned out a week ago last Wednesday afternoon to witness the annual clash between the Sophomore and Freshman elevens. The Sophs scored twice in the first half and Eddy's never failing toe sent the ball between the bars for an extra point after each touchdown. The final score being 14 to 0.

Before three minutes had elapsed the Sophs carried the ball over for the first tally of the game. The Freshmen were somewhat bewildered at the first offensive game that the Sophs played. In the second period after long runs by Noonan and Williams, Eddy carried the ball ten yards around left end for the second touchdown.

The Freshmen kicked off and after three unsuccessful attempts to pierce the yearing's line Williams kicked. The Freshmen returned the kick on the second play, the ball rolling behind the goal line where it was touched by one of the Freshmen, and Noonan, the fast Sophomore quarterback, picked up the ball for a touchdown. Eddy was successful in his attempts for the extra point.

Williams kicked off to Sahagian, who ran the ball back twenty-five yards. An exchange of punts followed, giving the Freshmen the ball in mid field. A pass from Sahagian to Hewitt netted twenty yards, and on the next play Brown carried the ball ten yards. At the end of the quarter the Freshmen had the ball on the three yard line where they lost it on downs.

In the second quarter both teams punted frequently, and there were fumbles made by both sides. With the ball in possession of the Sophs in mid field, runs by Noonan, Williams, and Eddy resulted in Eddy carrying the ball over for the second touchdown. Eddy kicked for the extra point.

The second half saw the ball seeing from one end of the field to the other with neither team threatening to score. Both teams opened up over-head attacks which resulted in many passes being intercepted.

Williams, Eddy and Noonan were the outstanding ground gainer for the Sophomores. Dixon, Brown, and Calercio were the shining lights on the Freshmen.

Graduation T: Claim Many Football Men

Over Half of Squad to Be Lost in June.—Big Gap to Be Filled Next Fall.

The Connecticut's football squad will lose fourteen men through graduation next June. This is one of the biggest holes ever left in the ranks of any major sport at Connecticut, and Coach Summers A. Dole will have a big task ahead of him in building up a gridiron machine for the 1925 season.

Eight of the eleven that started against Rensselaer are members of the senior class. They are Captain Frink, Nanfeldt, Biggood, Johnson, Konemann, Moreland, Filmer and Makoski. The other seniors who played their last game on the gridiron for Connecticut are Allard, Hohn, Donovan, Baker, McAllister and Longo. These men have played a strong game during their entire college career, and have always upheld the Aggie standards in football. The seniors had by far the largest number of men out for football, and although the season was not as successful as was hoped, the members of the fourth year class deserve a great deal of credit for their showing.

The present Freshman team is expected to furnish reserve material for the 1926 varsity squad. Coach Dole will have five juniors and seven sophomores of this year's squad as a nucleus for next year's eleven. The juniors are: Zollin, Daly, Schofield, Logan, and Lorantzen, while the sophomores who will be available include Eddy, Adams, Geisler, Aaron, Lifshitz, Anderson, and Williams.

Basketball Squad Holds First Practice

Five Letter Men Report.—Coach Dol. Has Promising Material

About 15 men reported for the first varsity basketball practice of the season held in Hawley Armory last Tuesday afternoon. One of the hardest schedules ever attempted by an Aggie five starts Jan. 8, when Norwich University journeys to Storrs.

The prospects for the coming season look good as there are five letter men from last year's team, and also some promising material from last year's Freshman team. The letter men from last year are Capt. Makoski, Biggood, Seymour, Schofield, and Allard. Other promising material among the candidates are: Donovan, a senior, who did good work in the class games last year; Greer, who has been on the varsity squad for three years; Eddy and Watson, who made their numerals on the freshman team last year.

1925 FOOTBALL

Another football season has come and gone. Connecticut's 1925 eleven went through a difficult schedule of nine games, winning three, losing five, and tying one. To one who views a team's record from the narrow perspective of games won and lost, leaving aside all other considerations, the record of the Connecticut Aggie eleven for 1925 is without doubt a disappointment. The Campus entertains no such feeling in viewing the season just closed; however; it offers only congratulations to Coach Sumner Dole and the small squad of twenty-five who carried the Connecticut colors this year.

That Connecticut's schedule was the most difficult ever attempted by an Aggie eleven is admitted. Meeting teams like New York University, New Hampshire, Maine, Tufts, Massachusetts Aggies, as well as others of lesser strength, put the limited resources of the Aggie squad to a severe test from the first to the last of the nine contests played. There were no "breathing spells" in the form of "set-up" contests on this year's schedule which enables a team to recuperate from the effects of one hard contest before engaging in another. Coach Dole's men had to battle every Saturday day starting with the Wesleyan game, and the weekly battle continued until the Rensselaer contest that closed the season.

This in itself would present no insurmountable difficulty if the Aggie squad was a large one in which there were many experienced players. Coach Dole's squad numbered twenty-five. So far as The Campus has been able to determine, it is the smallest college football squad in numbers in New England, if not the East.

Here again the difficulty would not be so great if all of the twenty-five were seasoned and experienced men. Aside from the starting lineup, and possibly three or four first string substitutes, the squad was composed of men with little or no experience in intercollegiate competition. And as football is played today, a team to win games must have a large supply of reserve material that can be put into a game without weakening the offense or defense. Such reserve material comes only with actual playing experience, which was the only factor lacking in the substitute material of this year's squad. They had fighting spirit and a desire to uphold Connecticut's name in football, and there was no group of men in college today that deserves more praise than the small band that made up the Aggie second team.

With so small a squad it was not strange that injuries took a heavy toll this year. Unable to make the substitutions that would have given his players much needed rest, Coach Dole was forced to play many of his starting lineup throughout the majority of the games. Injuries were suffered by several of the men, which hampered their effectiveness for the greater part of the season.

In stating the difficulties encountered by the 1925 eleven, The Campus is not attempting to establish an alibi for Coach Dole and his team. No alibi is needed. Yet it is well to draw attention to the series of unfavorable conditions which had to be met, for only by this means may the undergraduate and the alumni learn and understand the story that is never told by the scoreboard.

The 1925 eleven was one that played hard, clean football every minute of the game. It was respected by opponents and won the admiration of all who saw it in action. To Coach Dole and his squad of twenty-five, The Campus offers its congratulations for the 1925 football season!

"PLAYING DOODLES?"

The sophomore freshman football game recently played on Gardner Dow Field was one of the best interclass gridiron battles seen at Storrs in several years. Packed with action and sparkling play from start to finish, the contest attracted a large throng that followed the game with much interest.

After congratulating the class of 1928 on their victory, their class spirit, and their splendid display of real football ability, it is suggested that they search their memory for the words of a recent speaker at President's Hour.

"Playing Doodles" as described by Dr. Hawn, with its accompanying implications, is recommended for their earnest consideration. To be brief and to the point, why let three or four sophomores be the only representatives of the class on the varsity football squad, especially when there is so much good material in the class of 1928?

Spirit and enthusiasm shown by the sophomores as they set out to win from the freshmen was good to see, only how much better it would have been had it been present among those same men when Coach Dole issued his call for candidates on September 15.

Class spirit is a fine thing; and it should be allowed to expand to the extent where it will serve the entire college. At this time, when Coach Dole faces the prospect of heavy losses through graduation, it is suggested that the class of 1928 send its football talent to the varsity squad next season, where it will have the opportunity to gain greater distinction, both for the college and the class.

There will be a regular church service in place of the usual Young People's meeting next Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Graham of Norwich, who comes here highly recommended, will be the speaker for the evening. He is a man who possesses the ability to put his sermon across in an interesting and convincing manner.

Everyone in the community is urged to attend the service Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. Graham's subject will be one of particular interest to the people of Storrs.

SIDELINE GOSSIP

The R. P. I. game brought to a close a long and tough schedule.

For a squad of but twenty-four men, a nine game schedule is a real grind.

Considering the many handicaps contended during the season Connecticut has every reason to feel proud of the accomplishments of Coach Dole and his twenty-four men.

There were many surprises during the season, but one of the most startling was the defeat of the regular Freshman team by the Sophomore team in the annual classic between the two lower classes.

It was the worst exhibition of football displayed by the Frosh all season Storrs Hall was "broken" after that game.

Varsity material was observed within the ranks of the Sophomores. However, it was the first opportunity upperclassmen had to observe this material. Certain Sophomores, who played an excellent game, were out for football for the first time this year! By playing the game they did they showed themselves up not as stars as the case might have been, but rather as "pikars" who were so devoid of ambition or college spirit, that they did not go out for the Varsity team a year when their presence was greatly needed. Support of one's class is a fine thing, but support of one's college is far the finer.

As a pep creator, interclass games have shown their value. Let there be many more! We await the coming of the basketball season.

FLINTSTONE MODEL TAKES LIVESTOCK CHAMPIONSHIP

Herd Makes Fine Showing at American Royal Exposition.—Other Winnings Prove Herd Value.—Livestock Now Enroute to International at Chicago.

The showing of the college's herd of Milking Shorthorns at the American Royal Livestock Exposition at Kansas City last week, was exceptionally good. Flintstone Model, Connecticut's sire, won the senior championship and was followed by many first and second prizes from the female herd. The herd made this showing against a field in which a hundred or more herds were represented.

Ribbons, trophies and $400 in cash were won by the college herd; the outstanding achievement of which was the winning of the first prize and senior championship in the aged bull class by Flintstone Model, Connecticut's famous Milking Shorthorn sire.

It was the first time that cattle from Connecticut, or even New England had been shown at the American Royal in Kansas City and held as it is in the very stronghold of the gentlemen's country, the winnings of the State College herd are all the more noteworthy.

In winning the senior championship at the American Royal Flintstone Model defeated in class the Grand Champion of the Pacific International, the famous Innisfail Perfector from the Innisfail herd of California. This victory adds another to the long list already made by Flintstone Model, including second prize at the International at Chicago in 1925, four times Grand Champion at the Eastern State Exposition, Grand Champion at the New England Fair at Worcester twice, at the Maine State Fair at Lewiston, and at the Danbury Fair twice.

Other winnings by the college herd include first prize for Black Creek Katy 2nd, in the aged cow class; four second prizes, one third prize, two fourth prizes, one fifth prize, and one sixth prize. The competition was extremely keen, eight herds being shown from Colorado, Iowa, Wisconsin, New York and the Connecticut Agricultural College herd.

The college cattle are now en route to Chicago, where they will be shown at the International Livestock Exposition, the world's greatest cattle show.

Machinery works: Man thinks

According to college tests, man develops one-eighth horsepower for short periods and one-twentieth in steady work. As a craftsman—a worker who uses brains—he is well worth his daily wage. But as a common laborer, matching brawn against motorized power, he is an expensive luxury.

With a fifty-horsepower motor, for instance, one man can do the work of 400 common laborers. He is paid far more for his brains than his brawn.

The great need of this and future generations is for men who can plan and direct. There is ample motorized machinery for all requirements of production and construction. But motorized machinery, no matter how ingenious, can never plan for itself.

And that is precisely where the college man comes in. Highly trained brains are needed more and more to think, plan, and direct tasks for the never-ending application of brawn-saving electricity.

SOPHOMORES WIN 3-0 FROM JUNIORS IN HOCKEY

The Sophomore Girls proved victorious over the Juniors in an inter-class hockey game played on November 16th, with a final score of 3-0.

In the first half of the game the Sophomores played better than the Juniors, scoring their first two points. In the second half, the teams were more nearly matched, the winners just getting acquainted with the Co-ed’s way of running affairs.

The Juniors won from the Freshmen in the inter-class tennis match played on Wednesday, November 18th. Flora Kaplan represented the Juniors, and Cecilia Graf, the Freshmen; Miss Kaplan winning two sets out of three. The scores were 6-4, 2-6, and 6-0.

The Juniors won the inter-class hockey game from the Freshmen on November 19th by a score of 1-0. The game was an exciting one as both teams were evenly matched.

GIRLS’ SOCIAL COMMITTEE ACCEPTS HANDBOOK AND ADOPTS BUDGET SYSTEM

At the last meeting of the Girls’ Executive Council held last Wednesday, November 17th, in Holcomb Hall, the “Handbook” was accepted and the Budget System adopted.

The “Handbook” is somewhat similar to the Connecticut Handbook except that its contents consist only of the rules and regulations of the Women’s Student Government Association. Formerly, the rules were typewritten on sheets of paper and passed around to the girls. This method was found to be very unsatisfactory, as the sheets were easily torn or lost. The bound Handbook will be a permanent reference, and a means of acquainting other colleges with the W. S. G. A. at C. A. C.

The Budget System, a new arrangement by which the funds are managed, was also adopted at the meeting. In this system there is a Budget Committee, the Chairman of which is appointed by the Secretary of the Executive Council, and the rest of the committee consisting of the presidents of the W. S. G. A., the Montiel Art Society, the Social Committee, and the Glee Club. This committee takes charge of the funds of all these organizations and when money is needed at any time by any of the organizations it is secured through the committee, each department being entitled to the amount it deposits.

GIRLS’ SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The Girls’ Social Committee, consisting of Margaret Hutton, ’26, chairman; Frances Hopkins ’27, Ruth Holmgren ’28, and Eleanor Foley ’29, are active in making up a program for the rest of the Co-ed Social year.

The dance given by the Co-eds on October 31st was a fair indication of what they can do. The dances to come will give other opportunities of getting acquainted with the Co-ed’s way of running affairs.

Although plans are still tentative, Miss Hutton expects to give two circuses this year. A Christmas party, several “At Homes,” and a new type of Girls’ frolic, are also on the list.

A new custom was instituted this year, whereby the Junior member of the Social Committee automatically becomes the chairman in her senior year.

W. S. G. A. MAKES CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION

At the regular meeting of the W. S. G. A., held on Thursday, November 17th, in Holcomb Hall, a revised form of the Constitution was accepted. The new constitution will appear in the Handbook recently drawn up by the Executive Council.

Miss Service, President of W. S. G. A., brought out the advantages of the new Handbook over the former means of acquainting new students with the rules and regulations at Holcomb Hall. She urged the girls to be careful in their observance of the rules relating to entertaining and reporting in on time.

HOME ECONOMICS PLANS FOR AG. CLUB FAIR

The Home Economics Exhibition will be one of the principal features of the Ag. Club Fair to be held in Hawley Armory on December 11 and 12. The Committee in charge of arrangements, Carrie Main ’26, Irene Ellis ’26 and Grace Holcomb ’27, are planning something unusually effective for the Exhibition, which will show the development and accomplishments of the study of Home Economics.

Honorable mention was given the girls for their exhibit last year, and in the two years previous to that they received the silver cup which is given to the Department having the best exhibit.

the Eastern States Exhibition by the Dairy Products Judging Team. The admission charge to the Fair and the Friday night activities will be 35 cents.

Saturday will close the fair, at which time the Armory will be transformed to represent a New England barn, decorated with greens and the fruits of the harvest. The dancers are urged to attend in rural costume, or old clothes. The committee has stated that as this is the one costume dance of the year, it reserves the right to refuse admission to anyone not dressed appropriately. Prior to the dance, there will be a straw ride from Holcomb Hall, by which means of appropriate transportation, the belles of Storrs will be taken to the scene of the festivities. The music, which will start at 8:30, will be furnished by the Peerless Orchestra of Willimantic. Leslie Wilson, chairman of the Fair committee, will be assisted by the heads of the various departments and their assistants in putting across what promises to be one of the best Fairs ever.

OLD BLEACHERS

TO BE REPLACED

The old bleachers on the northern side of the A. A. Field have been torn down and removed. These stands were used for eight years, having been erected in 1917. As a result of exposure to the weather for this period, the stands were in such poor condition that it was necessary to do away with them. Recently new bleachers, running the length of the field, were set up on the visitors side. The plans are to paint these stands and transport them to the home side before the baseball season. For the 1926 football season there will be another set of stands erected on the visitors side. This will do away with the putting up of the temporary bleachers by the Freshmen.

A few other changes are to be made on the field. The track on the northern side of the field is to be widened three feet so as to make it possible to run off the hundred yard dashes in single heats. A two hundred and twenty yard straightaway is also being considered.
