Excellent Program to Be Broadcast Through WCAC

The famous Marchesi Quartette of Hartford is appearing for a recital in the Armory tonight. With them several other features will be given. The entire program will be broadcast by WCAC, the College Radio Station, directly from the Armory. The Colonal Male Quartet with Mr. Charles Bradford Beach, the baritone, as soloist, will give a musical program which will be broadcast from the Armory by WCAC on February 26, 1925. This quartet is also well known in Hartford and was engaged to appear here through the combined efforts of the social committee and the broadcasting station.

WCAC has added new features to its programs. The station now regularly has educational talks and music on Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays at 7:30 p.m. Every Monday there is a lecture given on Dairy, on Wednesdays Vegetable Gardening is taken up and on Fridays there is a poultry course given. These lectures are given by the Extension Service At 7:45 on Mondays the College Student String Orchestra under the direction of Mrs. M. E. Alling broadcasts a short program of classical music. This orchestra is composed of students of the college and includes Miss Sklarinsky, Miss Cohen, Mr. Walden, Mr. Miller, Mr. Noble, the head of the station, has received many letters from people in this and neighboring states who write that they especially enjoy the programs from WCAC.

Mr. Noble also said the station has applied for permission to operate on a higher wave-length. There are at present twenty-six stations which operate at the same wave-length as the local one. Mr. Noble explained that the Boston supervisor to whom the application was made is now making a survey of the entire territory and he stated that when this survey is completed he hoped that a more favorable frequency channel would be granted.

First Broadcast In Three Starts For Connecticut—Captain Makofski and Allard Lost In Second Half

Connecticut lost its first basketball game of the season to Wesleyan at Middletown Wednesday night, when the Red and Black five registered a decisive victory over the Aggies. The final score was 49-26 and it tells a story of a surprising upset, for although a close game was expected no one foresaw so decisive a defeat for Connecticut.

Playing on the narrow Wesleyan court, Connecticut was at a great disadvantage, but it is doubtful if the playing surface was the deciding factor in the result. Wesleyan presented a faster offense and a tighter defense, their shooting was more accurate, and they outclassed the Aggies in all departments of play. Many close shots were missed by the Aggie team, several circling around the ring and rolling outside.

With "Dick" Dillon of Hartford refereeing, the team found itself playing under the closest officiating experienced thus far during the season. This, coupled with the intensity of the play, resulted in many personal fouls, and both Captain Makofski and Allard were banished in the second half because of this. Phillips and Bradshaw of Wesleyan were also lost to their team for the same reason.

Wesleyan started off with a rush with the opening whistle, and took an early lead. So well did their attack function that in the first fourteen minutes they gathered twenty points, holding Connecticut scoreless in that time. At half time, the Red and Black led 28-12.

Coming back strong in the second half, Wesleyan continued to outpoint the Aggies, though until Captain Makofski and Allard were lost the Connecticut team held their own with the Red and Black. Schofield made thirteen points for Wesleyan.

Mr. Noble explained that the Boston supervisor to whom the application was made is now making a survey of the entire territory and he stated that when this survey is completed he hoped that a more favorable frequency channel would be granted.

Predicted Close Game Proves to Be Runaway Affair For Aggie Hoopsters.—Invaders Fail to Impress Large Crowd

Connecticut defeated Tufts in basketball 38-23 here last Saturday night, turning what was expected to be a tight contest into a runaway affair. It was the second victory in as many starts for the Aggies, and as last week against Norwich, the team made an impressive showing.

Displaying an attack that penetrated the Tufts defense, scoring consistently near the backboard and from the sidecourt, Connecticut took an early lead and held it to the end. At half time, the Aggies lead 23-8, a margin of fifteen points which they held to the final whistle.

Captain Makofski lead Connecticut's attack with a total of fifteen points. He made seven from the foul line, playing an excellent game in the distance.

With but two minutes left in the first half, Coach Dole sent his second team against Tufts, repeating his stunt of last week. The seconds divided scoring honors with Allard, who sank three in a row.

Robeson, Tufts star forward, was unable to make a basket from the floor, so closely was he guarded. Connecticut's five man defense was functioning perfectly, and Tufts had few chances to shoot except from well outside the scoring zone.

Do You Know? “HOW TO STUDY”
The Students’ Hand-Book of Practical Hints on the Technique of Effective Study

by WILLIAM ALLAN BROOKS

A GUIDE containing hundreds of practical hints and short cuts in the economy of learning, to assist students in securing MAXIMUM SCHOLASTIC RESULTS at a minimum cost of time, energy, and fatigue. ESPECIALLY RECOMMENDED for overworked students and athletes engaged in extra curriculum activities and for average and honor students working for high scholastic achievement.

Some of the Topics Covered

Why You Need This Guide

"It is safe to say that failure to guide and direct study is the weak point in the whole educational machine." Prof. G. M. Whipple, U. of Michigan. "The successful men in college do not seem to be very happy. Most of them, especially the athletes are overworked." Prof. H. S. Canby, Yale.

"Misdirected labor, though honest and well intentioned may lend to naught. Among the most important things for the student to learn is how to study. Without knowledge of this his labor may be largely in vain." Prof. G. F. Swan, M. I. T.

"To students who have never learned "How to Study," work is very often a chastisement, a flagellation, and an insuperable obstacle to contentment." Prof. A. Ingalls, Harvard.

"HOW TO STUDY" will show you how to avoid all misdirected effort.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS:

How to Study,

Short cuts to enable the student to study with winning efficiency.\

"How to Study" will show you the foundation on which every scientific discovery has been built. This book, written by a scientist, explains the fundamentals of the subject. It has been highly recommended by the National Education Association, by colleges and universities, and by every educational authority.

The book is a valuable addition to the school library and a practical, time-saving guide for students. It is a collection of practical hints and short cuts which have been gathered during a long career of teaching and research. It is a book that will save time and enable the student to get more out of his time and effort with less danger of failure. It is a book that will help the student to succeed in his studies and to become a success in his life.

This book is a practical guide to learning, a practical guide to success in the study of any subject. It is a practical guide to the most efficient use of time and effort. It is a practical guide to success. It is a practical guide to success in the study of any subject. It is a practical guide to success in life.

MILITARY TRAINING

Military training in high schools and its compulsory feature in colleges is condemned in a statement issued by a representative group of state teachers, educators, churchmen, editors, social workers and prominent men and women. The attack is contained in the foreword to a pamphlet on "Military Training in Schools and Colleges of the United States," by Winthrop D. Lane of New York City.

The publishing of the pamphlet follows closely the action of the students of the City College of New York in their demand to their President through a popular vote to remove the compulsory clause which requires military training in their college. Other colleges and universities have followed the lead of this institution in making demands that military training be removed, but their united action has made little impression on the Presidents of their respective institutions. As a result the above mentioned pamphlet has made its appearance to attempt to mold public opinion.

In explaining why this pamphlet has been written Mr. Lane says: "The object of this pamphlet is to put the facts into the hands of the American people. The public has not been apprised of the object of universal compulsory military training, but upon the present (substitute it has not spoken.

"Congress, under the emotion of a great European war, put into effect the National Defense Act, and in so doing authorized the President of the United States to introduce military training into civil educational institutions; the War Department is now showing what this may mean, but the general public has hardly known what is going on."

The foregoing explanation is in some ways logical, and in fact the pamphlet should be read. But the action of the Student Senate in refusing to take up the matter by not joining a federated society to do away with the compulsory training is to be commended. As long as it is necessary to comply with the federal requirement that we must maintain military training, if we are to receive federal financial aid, we should do so and keep the training until such time as Congress shall make the necessary change. The idea, that military training can be thrown out of our American colleges by radical propaganda now being distributed, is absurd.

1925 HANDBOOK

Failure to report the proceeds from the sale of the 1925 Handbook has reached an exasperating stage. No public report, either to the student body, or to the Senior Class, has yet been made, thus casting many reflections, not only on the management of the Handbook, but also on the Auditing Committee. If a report has been made to the latter body, it should have been made public last year instead of allowing student opinion to form which bears no credit to those who had charge of the issuing of the yearly Handbook.

Outward appearances would seem to indicate that a stage in student life has been reached where some one in authority, say the college auditor, should be paid to audit the books of all college organisations. For numerous reasons the new auditing committee instituted last year cannot hope to cope with the situation. The result has been that the books of the larger organisations, such as the Nutmeg and The Campus, have never been examined. These larger organisations run in the interests of the student body, should be controlled by them. To be fair to them, and to the student body, and to avoid the building up of any more huge debts, an auditor would be a welcome addition to the ranks of student life.

PLEDGES

Now that the new Community House is nearing completion, and final drives are being made in the larger cities to raise the remaining funds necessary to finish the complete program for the establishment of both a Community House and new Church, with an endowment fund to maintain them both, our attention should be directed to the pledges which we, as a student body, made as our contribution to the project. At the meeting held over a year ago, the student body pledged $1,300 to the fund. Speakers, who are using our cause in various cities, have stated that this is our contribution, and have held it up to the people, whom they addressed, as showing our confidence in the need for these two new buildings.

To date very few of the student pledges have been paid, and no direct appeal has been made to the new freshmen to aid us financially in raising more funds for the Community House and Church fund. We should consider that it is a privilege to contribute to this fund, for as members of the student body, we will have the opportunity to use the Community House where outsiders will not. Pay up your pledges to Dr. Sinnott at once, and thus show your willingness to do your share in securing a new completed social and religious center.

THE RIFLE TEAM

The exceptionally fine record made by the Rifle Team merits the attention of the student body. The results of the ten meets held this semester show that the team is worthy of more recognition than it has received. Out of the ten meets, the Aggie team has nine victories to its credit, with some individual scores nearly creating new world records.

It seems only fair in recognition of the time and energy spent by the members of the team, that they be rewarded with some form of letter such as was suggested at the A. A. meeting last Thursday night, and that this activity be recognised as a minor sport.

The team is the natural outgrowth of the greater activity of the R. O. T. C. unit which has been noticed with a great deal of satisfaction since a change of officers was made four years ago. The Athletic Association should take cognizance of this greater activity, and be quick to reward these men, who carry on the minor sports with such a marked degree of success, the same as they have rewarded major sports' men.

FRENCH CLASSES GIVE FINE ENTERTAINMENT

El Senor Moreno-Lacalle, Dean of the Spanish school at Middlebury College and Director of the summer school, who is a noted lecturer and author, spoke at an entertainment given by the French Department on Wednesday evening, January 13. His talk was an illustrated lecture on the works found in the Museo del Prado of Madrid. He gave the history of this museum and said that it contains the greatest of Spanish paintings. He praised especially the work of El Greco, Valazquez, Murillo and Goya, and showed some of their paintings on the screen. He spoke in very clear and musical Spanish.

Doctor Denlinger, who is very well informed on South American literature and history, spoke on Ruben Dario, one of the national heroes.

The Spanish classes gave a short play, "Amor Innocente," in which the Misses Betty Gordeos, Nellie Cohen, and the Messrs. Jack Rottner, Sholom Kaplan and Douglas Devine took part. "Pauvre Silvie" was given by the French 2 class, and the following were included in the cast: Misses Esther Lasker, Julia Gaberman, Julia Sklarinsky, Rena Cohen Cohen, Sally Elmionsky, Henrietta Casrle and Helen Klein, and the Messrs. Sidney Fine and Verne MacDonald and Francois.

Mr. Oscar Nanfeldt was the star of "Mere Barberin" and was assisted by Samuel Gould and Philip Dodge.

Two songs completed the program. The Spanish students sang "A La Luz de la Luna," and were accompanied by Mr. Davis at the piano. The French 2 class sang "Le Cycle Du Vin," and Miss Cohen played the piano.

RADIO COURSE TO BE GIVEN NEXT SEMESTER

A course in radio work, which is listed in the catalogue as M. E. 21, will be given next semester as a three-credit course by arrangement. There will be a two-hour laboratory period and two lecture-periods which will be arranged to accommodate the greatest number. To register in this course one must have College Physics or should see the instructor. Those taking the course will be able to build a set in the laboratory by either making or buying the parts.
FRESHMAN FIVE  SUBDUES TUFTS

Take Exciting Game From Jumbo Cubs In Overtime Battle.—Strong Medford Five Meets First Defeat

Hewitt's goal in the second three minute overtime period defeated the Tufts freshmen last Saturday evening, 19 to 17. It was the opening game for the Aggie frosh, and they displayed enough fighting spirit to give the Tufts five their first defeat of the season.

White and Hewitt were the chief scorers while the guarding of Sahagian, Schildgren and Dall was of high order. Croze, acting captain, was banished from the game because of personal fouls, and Anderson replaced him.

Ellis and Fitzgerald were the main cogs of the Tufts five, each scoring six points. The Tufts freshmen were rated as one of the best freshman fives in New England.

Tufts led at half time, 9 to 5, but in the second half the Aggie yearlings came back strong to make the score fifteen all. In the first overtime period White dropped a pretty basket from the side of the court and just as the whistle blew Martin of Tufts tied the score again. Hewitt made a goal in the second overtime period for the winning score.

Work without Toil

Ten or twelve hours a day toils the coolie. If he carries all he can, he moves one ton one mile in one day. For that he receives twenty cents.

Cheap labor! Yet compared with our American worker, receiving at least twenty-five times as much for an eight-hour day, the coolie is expensive labor. In America we move one ton one mile for less than one cent. The coolie, working by hand, accomplishes little; while the American, with electricity's aid, accomplishes much.

Plenty of electricity and cheap electricity — these are two great advantages which America enjoys over the rest of the world. While our present generating capacity is 20,600,000 kilowatts, new developments call for 3,000,000 kilowatts more per year.

To college men and women — potential leaders — will fall the duty of finding more and still more work for electricity, with less and still less toil for our workers. For the task is but begun!
Co-ed basketball game last Thursday has improved immeasurably since Clau ous over the Junior girls in a hard-court. The floor work of the Sophomores won SOPHOMORES WIN their game last week with the Juniors after January 14, in Hawley Armory, defeating their opponents with a score of 21 to 9. The lineup was as fights basketball games with the exception of Mills, who will play with the Juniors, and Buell with the Freshmen. The Sophomores, as yet have had no chance to show their ability on the basketball floor, but will in the near future.

This was the beginning of the girls' interclass basketball games. Each class, with the exception of the Senior class, who because of their lack of necessary material is to be exempt from all interclass athletics, is to play four games.

Up to the present time the Sophomore class is far ahead of the other two classes in the number of points it possesses towards the interclass cup. The Sophas having seven points, the Juniors three, and the Freshmen two.

The Sophomores have taken the lead in the number of points won in all the contests held so far, hockey, tennis, and bowling, and with a fair start for doing the same good work in basketball.

CO-EDS PLAY FIRST HOME GAME TOMORROW

The second game of the Co-ed basket ball season is scheduled with William's Memorial Institute of New London for January 23 on the home court. The probable lineup of the first string is the same as that which started at New York the 9th, with Murphy, forwards, Murphy, Murphy, and Murphy, centers, Ellis and Bartell, were served by members of the Socieguards.

The Student Senate has asked The Campus to make public a list of the books which were purchased for Reynolds, the freshman injured during initiations last September. These books were purchased with the money collected at a Student Org meeting last November. The selection was made by Prof. H. A. Seekerson, head of the English Department.

The list includes Drums, Caravan, Jungle Days, Many Laughs for Many Days, Portrait of Man with Red Hair, One Red Lamp, and Cousin Jane. The Student Senate also subscribed to five magazines with the balance left, thus insuring a supply of good reading material to the shut-in man.
