PRESENT PLAYS
TOMORROW NIGHT

State College Players to Give Three One Act Plays

The Dramatic Club plays will be presented tomorrow night in Armory at 8 o'clock. The program consists of three one act plays, and will last about two hours.

The three plays which are to be given are: "The Bracelet," "The Cloak," and "The Drums of Oude." "The Bracelet" is an exceptionally good society play. "The Cloak" is an hisorical play, centering about the Civil War. "The Drums of Oude" is a play with all the ingredients of a good melodrama--guns, dynamite, blood, thunder, and what not. Its writer, Austin Strong, is a recognized master of this type of play.

One of the features of the evening will be the Blairside Revelers of Hart ford, consisting of eight pieces. This orchestra will broadcast from the radio station during the first part of the evening, and will come to the Armory about 10.30 to play for dancing.

BULLETIN HOUSE
TO BE MOVED

Poultry Experimental Station to Supplant Old Bulletin House Near New Campus. Altered to Be Made In Building.

The building known as the bulletin house, the old school building, and the barracks will be moved to the west side of the new cemetery, to establish a special plant for the poultry experimental station. The reason for the construction of this station is the frequent interruption of experimental work by the introduction of disease from the birds in the egg laying contest. Since special efforts are always made to perpetuate a certain breed it is believed that isolation from the birds which take part in the egg laying contests will prove beneficial. Certain alterations in the buildings will be made to meet the demands of the poultry men.

Upon the removal of the bulletin house the grounds around the church will be leveled off and beautified to form a fitting surrounding for the church which will soon be erected.

NEW CATALOGUE TO BE OUT MAY 1

Because of the necessary change in the college curriculum for the coming year, the publication of the 1926 and 1927 catalogue will be delayed and will not be ready until about May 1st. The committees are working diligently on the revision of the curriculum, and the proof will be sent to the printer at a very early date.

The Sophomores strengthened their hold on first place in the interclass basketball league last Monday night by defeating the Juniors in a hard fought game. While the Juniors were losing, the Seniors were defeating the Freshmen and took possession of second place. The Sophomores are expected to come through and win the title this year, but they will have to continue their pace as the hard fighting Seniors will furnish stiff opposition.

The Sophomores defeated the Juniors by a 22 to 13 count. The Sophomore club after trailing at the end of the first half 6 to 8, stepped out in the second half and played the Juniors off their feet scoring 17 points to 5 for the third year men.

Aggies Atone For Defeat at Kingston

-Captain Makofski, Allard, Bidgood and Green Play Final Game

Connecticut Aggies brought a successful basketball season to a close last Saturday night by defeating Rhode Island State 43-29 on the Hawley Armory court. The game was hard fought and keenly contested throughout the forty minutes of play holding the interest of the largest crowd of the season. This victory brought the Aggies total number of wins up to eleven games out of fourteen starts and stoned for the 33-27 defeat administered by Rhode Island the preceding week.

Aggies Score Rapidly

Play during the first half was fast and spirited. Connecticut led first in the scoring column when Captain Makofski made good a free try for the basket. Rhode Island scored when Bowser dropped the field goal. The lead then alternated for eight minutes of play. Here Connecticut started a fast offensive swing that swept the Kingston outfit off its feet. Field goals by Schofield, Williams and Eddy swelled the Aggies total to 14 points while Rhode failed to add to its six points. Eddy was fouled twice while playing.

Rhode Island Threatens

After the rest period the Aggies increased their lead when Eddy sunk two field goals quickly in succession. At this point the Rhode Island teams threw a scare into the Aggie spectators when they sunk four field goals bringing the score up to 24. At this point the Aggies jumped and Eddy and Williams were effective against the visitors.

Rhody Threatened to Take the Lead

In the first half the Aggies found the score up to fifteen points. Coach Dole shifted his line-up during the game, and both combinations were effective against the visitors. Schoefield led the Aggies in scoring, and Eddy and Williams were close seconds.

EDITORIAL NOTES
Don't be surprised at anything you see this week; fraternity initiatives are now under way.

The High School teams are with us again. Let's all cooperate to show them real Connecticut hospitality.

All we need to convince us that spring is here in the sight of fresh- men straining on the roller to put the baseball diamond in shape. Cheer up, '29, the worst is yet to come!

This week our "Safety Valve" is militaristic if nothing else. Two contrasting views are presented; take your choice.

The election of Schofield as captain of the 1927 tennis squad is the popular one. "Congratulations, 'BILL', and best wishes for a successful season."

Without question, Doctor Poole is one of the most interesting and effective speakers we have ever had for President's Hour. Let's have him every year.

Football for 1926 begins next week. Coach Dole is faced with a real problem in building an eleven for next fall, and right now is too early to lay the foundation.

A GOOD RECORD
In defeating Rhode Island here last Saturday afternoon, the Aggies closed one of the most successful court seasons in the history of the college.

Eleven victories in fourteen games is the record of Captain Makofs's team for the season. Harvard, Springs- field, Vermont and every team in the New England Conference were among the quintet of defeats.

Trinity should be mentioned also for unless our Hartford rivals take the count, a season cannot be considered altogether successful. Trinity wins the last two times, and it is interesting to note that in the last four seasons, the Hartford team has lost every one of the eight court games with Connecticut.

A defeat sustained at the hands of Rhode Island at Kingston is the only one the Aggies have to their credit this year, the Aggies' right to the claim of being the best team in the New England Conference, and in the opinion of many, the best team in the country. Rhode Island, in her second game with Connecticut, was defeated, and defeated by a decisive margin. The Aggies have played every member of the conference at least once, something no other Connecticut team has done. This, coupled with the fact that we have lost but one conference game, would certainly justify anyone's claim to the title of the best team in the conference, according to the verdict of the Aggies.

We need not strike any blow at the Aggies as being a team that has not played a hard schedule, for the fact is that the Aggies' record is one that few other Connecticut teams may be able to carry.

A POOR LOSER
Practice makes perfect, so the old saying goes. All of which makes us wonder about Trinity's correspondents for the Hartford "Courant." Presumably he writes all the glowing accounts of Trinity's athletic bat who must be in so doing has been furnished with an excellent opportunity of showing that he is indeed a poor judge.

It is truly well versed in the art of pouting out allibis for the teams of his Alma Mater. From him we learn that although Trinity outgrew all of Trinity's opponents, the dear old "Blue and Gold" had to be forced to bow in defeat because this man played when he had pneumonia, "Captain Whosla" had to be operated on for Bright's disease, and the rest of the team was ill with lumbago.

All of which brings us to the Trinity runaway match at Hartford last week. After reading his story in the morning paper, we wondered if we had really seen the game which was described. "Trinity makes game interesting throughout"—"Trinity amazes seventeen points in the second half"—and so on through the column. The story was proof enough that imagination is a great thing.

The correspondent, in the course of his story, was unnecessarily harsh in his criticism of Schofield. This criticism, we believe, was resented by as-fair-minded observers of the game, whether they were followers of Connecticut or Trinity. No comment is necessary here, but in passing the story might be said: If the correspondent was as good a journalist as Schofield, he might at least have reported it. Frank Gilchrist, the Grantly Rice backed off his throne long long ago!

SMOKING
Smoking in college buildings is a violation of a Student Senate Rule. Mention of the fact is made at this time because apparently many in the student body are unaware of the existence of this rule. Smokers may often be seen in the Main Building, Hawley Armory, and other college buildings.

Inasmuch as the faculty has taken no action regarding smoking in college buildings, preferring to leave it in the hands of the Student Senate, one of two courses should be followed. The Student Senate should either enforce the rule or abolish it.

And it should remain unwise to abolish this rule in view of the expressions of dissatisfaction heard daily regarding present conditions. The Social Committee, in particular, finds the increase of smokers at the Saturday night dances a source of annoyance. Complaints have been heard from faculty members and unless some measures are taken to remedy the situation, it is not difficult to foresee faculty action on the matter. All of which means the Student Senate should require a more general observance of its rules, taking immediate steps to enforce them.

THINK IT OVER
The development of Connecticut's football team will begin in earnest next week, when Coach Dole plans to start his spring training. Present plans call for three meetings a week of the squad, which will count as regular physical education work. The basic formations and plays for next season are outlined, which will enable the candidates to make a faster development when practice begins in Sept.

Coach Dole has already announced that candidates for the 1926 eleven must attend spring practice. Study the schedule that must be played, and considering the number of men who will be lost to the squad by graduation, the need for this is apparent.

As usual, Connecticut will play a hard schedule, meeting among others every New England Conference. To the men of the junior, sophomore and freshmen classes; now is the time to decide if you want to play varsity football next year. Do not wait until the annual class game before displaying your football ability. Get started next week in varsity practice, and then come back in the fall ready to do your part.

THE R. O. T. C.

To the Editor of The Campus:

There seems to be a growing tendency to disapprove of military training in the schools and colleges; even going so far as to agitate legislation against it in New York. Opinion voiced by older persons seems to be the result of a general prejudice against anything of a military nature; while many of the younger generation who come in contact with such training cultivate a general dislike for it either through failure to exert themselves or out of a usual routine or by antagonism created against anything of a compulsory nature.

Such independence on the part of the student cannot last long in this economic cooperative world of ours. Just as the rules of an athletic contest must be adhered to, so must the laws of life which govern our independence. Military camps and camp life as found at schools at recess, are better a man with military desires; but in trying to evade the military organization. The student is purely local and not a student cannot last long in this time keeping them in a good frame of mind and settling petty differences as they arise. Military camps and camp life as taken up are a valuable asset to anyone who may come in contact with "boys' work" of any description. First aid will be of help in the many automobile accidents which are always occurring. As far as calisthenics go, they are found in schools at recess time, in offices where stenographers receive no other exercise, and in factories where employees are required to work while seated. Just think how much better a man with military knowledge could lead these than the ordinary layman. Brevity and accuracy in observation, as well as keen observation, are benefits to be derived from scouting and patrolling which may mean dollars and cents to a future business man more than once. And last but not least, comes obedience and respect for superiors. The ability to receive and carry out, as well as give orders, is a qualification needed by any departmental manager. The way in which an organization gives and receives orders within itself is a definite indication of the reputation of that firm with the public because the opinion of the public starts with the small worker of the organization. If anyone has heard comments on our unit for a few years ago he will realize the good the present commandant has done in establishing these attributes, and be sorry to see him leave, or to see the abolishing of a unit at any form, that compulsion for the project foundational for these, such as opinion of the public starts with the.
