Belden Chosen Campus Editor; Fienneman to Be Business Manager

New Board Takes Over Duties with Next Issue

Cleveland Named Managing Editor and Tong Assistant Business Manager. — Associate News Board Increased to Twelve Members

L. Richard Belden, of Hartford, will with the next issue of The Campus assume his duties as editor-in-chief, heading the new Campus Board that was elected last Monday night.

Mr. Belden's election comes after three years of active service on The Campus, during which time he has worked up from a member of the associate news board to the position as managing editor, which he held during the present college year. Mr. Belden is particularly well qualified for his new duties, for in addition to his experience as a member of The Campus Board for the past three years, he was prominent in student publications at the school.

Saints of the Junior Prom will be lead tonight in the Armory by the Sherman Wilcox Junior Prom, which will be held in the Armory by the dancing committee, announces that the decorations will be simple, yet attractive, the color scheme being one of blue and white. Japanese lanterns which will be used for the lighting effects will add an exotic touch to the hall.

On Saturday afternoon a tea dance will be held in the Armory by the Junior Co-eds. The same orchestra employed at the Prom will play for the dancing which will last from 3:00 to 5:00.

One of the features of the Prom will be the appearance of the members of the Student secret society, the Druids. They will be distinguished by a narrow red ribbon running diagonally across their shirt fronts. In the course of the evening they will tap seven men of the Junior class who have been most prominent in college activities.

The Patrons and Patronsesses of the evening will be Doctor H. K. Denning, our Deborah; and Miss Olive Nase of the Professor and Mrs. C. A. Wheeler Professor and Mrs. Henry Dorsey.

The following will attend the dance:

John Brockett and Miss Edith Counghin of Wethersfield; Earl Blivine and Miss Jessie Anderson of Hartford; Paul Steele and Miss Carole MAIN of Newborn; Frank J. Whitney and Miss Frances Hills of Hartford; John C. Schrader and Miss Grace Keverted of Hartford; Edward S. The Connecticut Day is Successful

New A. A. Field Improved — Co-eds Serve Meals — Dance at Night

Great improvement on the new A. A. field was accomplished on Tuesday when the faculty and students observed the annual Connecticut Day by suspending classes and working on this project. A number of other changes were also made.

The work started immediately after a breakfast in the Dining Hall served by the Co-eds, when the first game went into the field. Under the super-

NEW HAMPSHIRE WINS TRACK MEET

Final Score 112 to 22—Adverse Weather Conditions Hamper Men Greatly—Granite State Team Shows Fine Form.

Connecticut met its third successive defeat in track at Durham last Saturday at the hands of the strong New Hampshire University track team. The fast, well balanced Granite state team carried off first place almost at will in nearly every event, garnering a total of 113 points. The Nutmeg states trailed far behind with only 22 points. Except for the fact that a heavy gale was swirling across the field, track records in several events would no doubt have been broken. The runners had to face a stiff wind which put them under a considerable handicap. In spite of this, however fast time was clocked in the sprints and hurdl es.

There were only three first places taken by Connecticut men: the half mile, the shot put, and the high jump. Galen, however, was forced to fall back, finishing second. Connecticut men took third places in the following events; Hohn, discus throw; Lieb, long jump; Ladd, hurdles.

The weather conditions were so bad that no attempt was made to break the tie. The two jumpers were allowed four points each in the scoring. In the high jump Moss was a length and a half ahead of the nearest man. Schofield, ss 5 1 1 2 2 2 then drew another pass after Gilberg, rf 4 1 0 0 0 0.

Granite State track team had a running time of 21.3 seconds. The Aggies added two more runs in the fifth inning when Nanfeldt, cf 3 1 1 2 batted and Eddy fanned. Nanfeldt connected for a double and scored on Schofield's field and face hit. The Aggies added two more runs in the fifth inning when Nanfeldt connected for a double and scored on Williams' home run which was one of the longest blows ever seen at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD WINS FROM A ggies NINE

Springfield College stopped the winning streak of the Connecticut Aggies baseball team last Saturday at Springfield when they emerged the victor in a closely contested game. The Aggies were leading 4-2 up to the eighth inning when two Springfield pinch hitters hit safely, scoring two runs for the physical directors giving the final score 6-4.

HAYFIELD FOLLIES
TOMORROW NIGHT

To Conclude Junior Week Activities — Carry Aired Over Much Discussed Junior Show.

Saturday evening the class of 1927 will produce an original revue entitled "The Hayfield Follies," that deems well to surpass anything of its kind that ever has been produced on the campus. The Follies will conclude the activities of Junior Week. The show is being produced under the direction of Mr. Titley of the English department.

In the show there will be a chorus of "girls," which include the "Misses" Schofield, Nanfeldt, Rowe, Bergeren, and Kennedy, ably assisted by "Miss" Rabb as leading lady. It is reported these "girls" in the lines of singing and dancing, cannot be surpassed.

"John Barrymore," in the person of John Sullivan, will render a solo. Sullivan is the real find of the show, and his singing will be one of the features.

A satire on the "Drunks of Oudel," will be under the title of "Bums of Stew," in which the chorus "girls" will take an active part in this part of the program.

"Sis" Flns, the local funmaker, will give an illustrated talk on various topics that are being broadcasted about the campus, and will explain them thoroughly.

A reproduction of Mr. Torrey's famous "I'm a sucker" will take a prominent part in the production. This scene is sure of being interesting as it shows how these informal meetings may be improved.

Another feature will be the classroom scene that will be "typical" of the classes, and how they are conducted.

SCHOFIELD NEXT
A. A. PRESIDENT

William K. Schofield will be elected president of the A. A. for next year and Andy Sayers secretary, at the A. A. meeting next week. Their election is assured because of the fact that they are unopposed for office.

The only position that is contested is the position of vice president. The nominees for this office are Arthur Williams and Harold Watson.

Schofield has been a prominent man in activities on the "Hill." He has been a clever man in sports and has been chosen next year's basketball captain. Billy was twice selected as a forward on the All-New England team. He is also a member of the Mediator and vice president of the Varsity Club. He has also held the vice presidency of the A. A. Schofield has been rated as one of the most versatile athletes that ever played for Connecticut. His fraternity is Alpha Phi.

Sayers is a prominent member of the Freshman class of which he is president. He won his numerals for football, and is a member of next year's varsity. He is a member of Alpha Phi.

THE FACULTY ISSUE OF "THE CONNECTICUT"
THE CONNECTICUT CAMPUS

The Mediator gets a brickbat from us, and our only difficulty is to find one large enough. Fraternity ambitions to land offices and caps and to gain control of that activity, along with rushing, bring about a situation that is painful to the college. We are underhanded, crooks, drunkards and robbers, according to the other fellow. Men hate each other. One group is arrayed against another, struggling for every advantage. Politics worthy of Tammany Hall are common. And the college suffers.

Why? The main reason is because the Mediator lacks GUTS enough to lead in our faculty. After four years, we compliment that organization. It is the nearest approach to prophecy we have seen in this Campus. So far as we can ascertain, its most useful function is to fill each rush-hour with flagrant violations of rushing rules that everyone knows about but unnoticeable by the Mediator. For fear of hurting someone's feelings that august body allows a condition to grow which is doing more harm to the college than any other thing we can think of.

We suggest that the Mediator get down to business, or go out of business.

Summer dolle gets a bouquet from us, too, and it is one well deserved. Here again is a case where one should have been here at least four years to see and understand the changes he has brought about.

Dole has worked under difficulties which few appreciate, and the success attained by his team is too often not to be rebuked. Whether ever more important than winning on the field, Dole has worked and stood for the type of sportsmanship that develops character in his men through athletic competition. And although we often overlook that point, it is clearly the best reason for having athletic effort to develop character in our college. We compliment Coach Dole for keeping that ever before him.

 freshmen disciplined by the student senate DESERVE A BRICKBAT, and also others in the class, who through the too merciless handling of their cases were not sentenced to the pond. "SLACKERS" is the term that well describes these men, who shirk freshman labor and thereby place a heavier burden on their classmates. May they go through life early and often, until they learn to do their part!

Past difficulties and a bad circulation have been overcome, and the paper is now being DELIVERED to subscribers. Mystery Man
PUZZLES STORRS
Stranger Relates Weird Tale of Buried Treasure

A real mystery man, one of the strangest characters that has been seen in this city for many years, arrived in town yesterday, bringing with him a weird tale of buried treasure that rivals the stories of Captain Kidd and Treasure Island. The visitor, who declined to disclose his identity, other than to say he might be known as "M. Sunshine," was accompanied by a parrot which, like his eccentric owner, was a most peculiar sort of bird.

The mystery man first attracted attention by the squawking of the parrot—a bird which his owner claims is the only cigarette-smoking parrot in captivity. The bird's shrieks of "Old Gold, Old Gold," and its refusal to be quiet during the wee small hours of the morning, resulted in "M. Sunshine" being asked to dispense with his plumaged companion or else leave a well-known hotel, where other guests were complaining that they could not sleep.

"M. Sunshine" protested in vain that in Egypt, where he claimed to be a character of no small prominence, though he would give no details of his personal history, parrots were welcome in any hostelry. He demanded that his bird be allowed to remain in his room and raised all sorts of a fuss when he was informed that either the parrot must go to the basement or he must leave the hotel.

Hotel employees sought in vain to convince him that it just wasn't done in American hotels, but the mysterious stranger was obdurate. And when an ultimatum was delivered "M. Sunshine" wrapped the glided cage of his shrieking bird in a green baize cloth, paid his bill and indigently left.

To reporters who talked with him he announced that he is a well known philanthropist and that he has plans for spreading "Old Gold" all over New England. Asked to explain his rather rambling assertions, he said, "I cannot say who I am or where I come from. But in good time you shall know. And when my secret is out there will be old gold for every man in this city." Hotel employees said he appeared to be plentifully supplied with money, but was eccentric in many ways. He talked ramblingly of "guineas," "bags of old gold," "My treasure chest," and such things, and appeared to be a harmless sort of old gentleman.

While reporters talked with him, he lighted a cigarette and after taking a puff calmly handed the weed to the parrot. The bird proceeded to take it in his claw, puffed away at it and then blew smoke at the newspapermen. "It's his favorite pastime. I taught him to like cigarettes when I first had him," the strange old gentleman said.

The last seen of the old man was as he boarded a taxi with the bird still screeching "Old Gold, Old Gold," from beneath the green baize cover.—Advertisement.

When They Go On Grass

Grass Alone Won't Make Milk

Very soon your cows will go to fresh pasture. They like it and it stimulates them. It is good as far as it goes, but they cannot eat enough to maintain their condition and their full flow of milk on grass alone.

In 100 pounds of average pasture grass there is 3.7 pounds of digestible protein, but only 15.9 pounds of total digestible feed. That is not enough. Your cows would have to eat 170 to 190 pounds of grass a day. They cannot graze or hold 100 pounds.

The Voice of Authority

Grass Alone Won't Make Milk

By Prof. W. J. Fraser, Illinois Experiment Station; "It would require 15 acres of pasture to support an ordinary cow. To raise this area she would have to travel 30 miles a day and live on a mixture of feed. There has been a special study at the Illinois Experiment Station. We dipped 100 pounds of dry grass in a pound of water, and we found that the cow cannot hold that much grass.

Your cows will go right on making milk, but they will not make it all out of grass. They will draw protein, fat and mineral matter from their own bodies to fill the milk pool. They will get poor, exhaust themselves, become unprofitable and go dry weeks or months before they should.

Give your cows a balanced grain mixture with their grass. Feed three to eight pounds daily per cow according to yield. Grass is laxative, therefore you should avoid laxative concentrates. The following ration is one of the best you can feed:

Cow Grain Feed 300 pounds; ground corn 300 pounds; ground oats 200 pounds; wheat bran 200 pounds. Start this ration when cows go to pasture and they will go through the summer and into the fall—in fine condition and full production.

This Valuable Book Free

"The Gospel of Good Feeding" is a brand new book of 64 pages. It gives you the answers to the feeding problem. It will help you to make your cows go on grass—day in and day out—summer and winter. It contains 72 ration formulas for dairy cows, steers, hogs, sheep and poultry.

Dear Editor:

We have always assumed that the Junior Play was an entertainment produced and sponsored by the Junior Class, but we have recently observed that the Junior Week presentation for this year is to be something entirely different. In the first place the play is not being produced by the Junior Class, but rather by professionals who are laboring under a contract with the class. In the second place those professionals commercialize the dramatic art here at the college and thereby tend to demoralize the spirit behind the college theatricals.

As far as we are able to ascertain, the Junior Class as a whole was not consulted in regard to this matter. Some members were not aware that the class is paying three students and one member of the faculty to produce the entertainment. There are very few Juniors in the cast and yet the play is being staged as the Junior Show. What objection is there to our State College Players? If the money were used for repairs on the stage in the Armory, instead of going into the pockets of those seeking personal gain, the college would benefit to a far greater extent. We are greatly surprised that a member of the faculty should accept payment for his services in a student enterprise of this nature. Suppose the Directors of the State College Players, or of the Girls' Glee Club or of the Debating Club were to charge for the time that they put in on their various projects?

If dramatics are to be commercialized, why not procure the services of real professionals instead of allowing masquerading as professionals?

W. W. NARAMORE '28

To the Editor:

It has been brought to my attention through various sources that dissatisfaction with the arrangements under which the Junior show is to be produced is rampant in the junior class, feeling that there are rumors of melons to be cut, of perquisites to be paid, or perjury on the part of the junior class, committee, of villainous men bent on fleecing from the junior class its proper harvest, a condition in this class, despite Shaksperean drama, that is common to all the other plays of the term. If the collegeold men fraudulently turn their brains to powder, would not have been enough to blow their hats off. This theory can be ably substantiated merely by attending one of our athletic games. Some of theseShellshells, whose presence in the "Harford Follies" would certainly lend realism to the scene, are actually accused of any fellow playing for an opposite team in a deadly enemy of our institution, and should be treated as such. When an opposing player comes to bat, they immediately burst into song and try to change the course of the game. These same fellows are the ones who immediately want to call out the "rigging" when some fair-minded umpire happens to call a strike on a Connecticut batter, when the ball has "grooved" squarely across the plate. During the football season these facts were even more painfully brought out. These individuals, thinking that the injury of an opposing player the best thing that could happen, was being carried from the field, ask the man if he were hurt, or make some similar scathing remark.

It so happens that most of these fellows, if they could be induced to don an athletic uniform, would be about as graceful as St. Vitus walking a tight-rope. Still they persist in this ungraceful razing.

It seems to the writer that if nothing else can be done it might be possible to persuade the "Doc" to give a course in athletic ethics, and endeavor to elevate these individuals at least to the condition of a Moron.
