5. Report of the President.

President Austin touched briefly on the following items:

a. He informed the Senate that Governor Rowland appointed Dr. John Rowe as Chairman of the Board of Trustees and Thomas Ritter as a member of the Board of Trustees.

b. He announced the following University appointments: John Martin as President of the UCONN Foundation, William C. Hunter as Dean of the School of Business, and Jeff Hathaway as Athletic Director.

c. He briefly described the consolidation of administrative functions and introduced Linda Flaherty-Goldsmith as the new Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of the University.

d. He described the recruitment and enhanced quality of the incoming freshman class. He anticipated no increase in size of the class next year but indicated that this may be a political challenge. He will look to the legislature to get an agreement to move to 35,000 students with appropriate budgetary adjustments. Enrollment management has engaged a consulting firm to examine tuition costs and student aid. An increased emphasis on Marshall/Rhodes scholarship applications is anticipated.

e. He discussed the investigation of inappropriate activities at the Environmental Research Institute. He stated his confidence that the problems are now self contained.

f. Mr. Faustman asked a question about the impact of early faculty/staff retirements. President Austin answered that there has been no commitment from the State about the refill rate (estimated to be around 50%) but that it is expected within the next few weeks. He indicated that the University is already a year behind in the recruitment cycle. 9. Ms. Hiskes presented the report of the General Education Oversight Committee. (See Attachment #3)

She described the plans for implementation of the new general education requirements which will take effect with the freshmen class entering in 2005. She also described the accomplishments of the committee since 8/25/03, indicated that guidelines and a timetable are available on the web, and alerted the university community to the need to start implementation. An online proposal form is in preparation and GEOC will offer workshops and forums on issues related to general education. Longer term goals are to present a comprehensive slate of courses for approval in April; the Senate may need an extra meeting to approve these courses. Other goals include: implementation plans for each major field for the W, computer literacy, and information literacy competencies; creation of learning centers; and a long term plan for future oversight of general education. She invited input from the University community.

Mr. Mannheim asked whether, in 2005, general education courses under the old system would still be available, and if current students could elect to follow the new system. Both questions were answered affirmatively.

The Senate Executive Committee welcomes all members to the beginning of another academic year. We look forward to a year in which we will discuss and debate issues that are before the Senate and in which we will continue our efforts to provide input into the workings of the University.

The Executive Committee has met four times since the end of the last academic year. We met on separate times with the President and Chancellor during the summer to discuss issues before the University. We met at the end of August with the Chairs of the Senate’s Standing Committees to set the agenda for this meeting and to review issues that will be considered by each of the committees during the coming year. We also discussed the plans of the GEOC Committee, including the proposed schedule that will be discussed separately at this meeting. This will most likely require an extra meeting in the spring semester. The Executive Committee met this past week with the central administration to continue discussions of issues before the University. At that meeting, we had a lengthy discussion with Vice President and Chief Operating Officer Linda Flaherty-Goldsmith on issues that she is working on. We also provided her an opportunity to hear about some of the current concerns of the faculty and professional staff at the University.

The Executive Committee is delighted that Ms. Tammy Gifford joined the Senate as Administrative Assistant in the spring. She has been active the past summer updating the Senate web site and working with the GEOC Committee, in addition to the usual duties. All Senate information is now readily accessible on the web site, including the Senate By-Laws. The site also provides easy access to Senate Committees.

The Senate is fortunate to have Senator Susan Spiggle continue as moderator for the upcoming year. We are also grateful to Prof. Gerry Gianutsos, who has been Wymanized for this year and who has agreed to serve as secretary during the fall semester.

Respectfully submitted,

John DeWolf, Chair
