Rhode Island Wins Close Contest.

In the best game on the Hill in years Rhode Island nosed out our team October 23 by a score of 9 to 7. The game was a fine exhibition of football by two evenly matched teams, one having a slightly better line while the other had a better backfield. The game was sensational throughout, thrilled by long forward passes by our team and spectacular end-running of the visitors.

Our men played their best game of the season, eager for a victory and fighting to the last minute of play, and it would be hard to praise one man any more than the other, as each man deserves as much praise as the next could upon him. But to Captain Renehan credit must be given for fine generalship displayed as well as for his long runs.

The outcome of the game was undecided until the referee blew his whistle at the end of the fourth quarter. In the first four minutes to play Rhode Island scored a touchdown by recovering a fumble and then pulling an unexpected "shoe-string" play, that brought them a few yards in front of our goal with a first down, and rushed the ball over, but failed to kick the goal. Our team came back in the next quarter with a touchdown, and Renehan kicked the goal, making the score 7 to 0 in our favor at the end of the second period.

Our team started off the third quarter with a fierce spirit and played in Rhode Island's territory most of the time, but were unable to get another touchdown. It was not until the last part of the third quarter that Rhode Island got the ball on a blocked punt, that the game was won by a drop-kick from the 30 yard line.

Mr. Hugh L. Chabot, owner of Strathglass Farm and host of the day, had arranged a very fine program and had endeavored in every possible way to make the Field Day a success. It is needless to add that he succeeded admirably. Autos met the party at Fort Chester, and transportation was satisfactory that everyone arrived at the farm before 10 o'clock, the hour scheduled for the judging contest.

The men on our team went down to Strathglass Farm quite confident and expecting to make a good showing. They had worked hard to become proficient and had made a number of trips to farms within the state and without.

The Inter-Class Cross-Country Run will be held November 13 as a side attraction to the Boston College game and the Football Hop. The course is a rough one, three miles in distance.

The finish will be in front of the grandstand, and since the race starts at two o'clock, it will be over just before the game begins. From 18 to 30 men are entered. Scofield, from Boys' High, Brooklyn, is showing up well for the new men, as is also Reeve, the freshman pitcher.

Agricultural Club.

On Saturday, October 23, the stock judging team went to Strathglass Farms, where they made an excellent showing, as results of the Judging Contest indicate.

First - Pennsylvania 1046;
Second - Connecticut 1024;
Third - Cornell 1024;
Fourth - Rhode Island 988;
Fifth - New Hampshire 888;
Sixth - Massachusetts 810.

The team, composed of Cahill, Minor, and Horton, and accompanied by Prof. White, Prof. Garrigus, and Mr. Musser, State Extension Dairyman, left on the 11:42 train the Friday morning, greater part of the day was spent at Fairvals Farm, owned by Wilson Lee of Orange. Here the team worked upon several classes of Ayrshire breeds and a fine strong lot of animals they were.

Prof. White, who gave a great deal of his time to the coaching of the team, must certainly feel very gratified at the showing the team made—particularly in dairy cattle. In this division Connecticut stood first. With horses, the team did not do quite so well. The breed judged was Clydesdales, and unfortunately the team had not been able to develop any horses of this breed. The principles of Horse Judging were worked upon, however, and how well the team mastered them can be

Our First Victory.

The Connecticut Aggies defeated the heavy Springfield Y. M. C. A. second string on October 30. The improvement of the backfield, together with a strong line presented a well-balanced combination that outplayed the opponents in all departments.

Our team was aggressive from the start and made their gains by a combination of end runs, line shifts, and forward passes, which the visitors could not break up. The touchdowns came in the first, second and fourth periods, and Renehan kicked the goal.

Anderson was the star of the game, rushing the ball for many gains, and also doing some fine work in the backfield, and Miller, Persky, and Neumarker on the line, also showed up well.

Touchdowns, James, Anderson, and Renehan.

A Real Post Office.

It is likely that there will be a change in the provision for United States Mail here at the College before long, for the Post Office authorities have sent an inspector to Storrs with a view toward obtaining a change that will bring more compensation to the college. For the amount of Postal Service rendered, and if possible to obtain a postal rating that is more consistent with the amount of work done here at college.

The amount of business in mail carried on here in a year warrants a higher compensation that is at present granted and though the rural station now in vogue was practically enough when it was founded, the college has outgrown it. The business transferred for Uncle Sam at Storrs, for a year is sufficient to maintain a third-class post office here on the campus, and to provide a postmaster for the office whose salary could be as high as $1,400 a year.

The college is willing to accept the change in the name of the post office if the post office will not do quite so well. The whole change does not receive a just compensation to the college. Smaller communities than this have much more satisfactory postal arrangements and more consistent postal rates.

Why should not the college community?

"THE COLLEGE."

Every college has customs and traditions, some so long established that their beginnings have been lost in the obscurity of scores of years. These traditions are religiously continued by the younger generation and gradually assume an important place in college life.

Here at Connecticut we have but few customs well established. This perhaps is because we are so young and it is also for this reason that our traditions are as yet formed in but a slight degree.

Nevertheless there are a few observances which we feel we could not well exist without. First in the college year comes our Rope-Rush between the two lower classes, quite unique in that the rope is stretched over a body of water. We strive to give three dances through-out the year and make them a big success. They are the Football Hop, the Military Ball, and the Junior Prom. Other days, new or old, whose observance is well established, are Alumni Day, High School Day, and Inter-Town Meet, and appropriate exercises on Memorial Day.

Among all the men who have gone out from Connecticut as alumni or ex-students, Willis Nichols Hawley, '98, stands out as the one who held most closely to his devotion to the country, and to those principles of manhood and patriotism instilled in him while a student at the then Storrs Agricultural School in 1894. He served as postmaster of Colchester for nearly two decades, a half of a point. Over all New England colleges entered in the ten highest individuals, was only excelled by Pennsylvania. The winning of second place is an honor of which all Connecticut men should be proud. Connecticut won over all New England colleges entered and also over Cornell, the score between Connecticut and Cornell being very close,—a half of a point.

In the ten highest individuals, Connecticut placed two men, Brown, first, and Minor, fifth. This was only excelled by Pennsylvania, who placed all three of the men on her ten-man team.

Were this an account of a football game, we would say that Cahill played the game of his life in the final game, and he has never lost, and has often made opportunities to study cows.

THE BETTER WAY.
A worthy acknowledgment of the better way to do dairy cleaning is found in the recognition given by Dairy Colleges and Dairy Authorities.

Almost to the man, State Dairy Directors have expressed their approval of the use of this special dairy cleaner.

The better way, made possible by the sanitary cleaning ingredients of Wyandotte Dairymen's Cleaner and Cleanser, meets the approval of $6 per cent. of all butter and cheesemakers. Hundreds of dairymen, milk dealers, and creameries patrons likewise approve of the better way for they, too, depend upon "Wyandotte" for their dairy cleanliness.

If you are not acquainted with the better way, why not ask your dealer or write your supply man for Wyandotte Dairymen's Cleaner and Cleanser. They will gladly supply you with the understanding that it will prove to be all that is claimed for it, otherwise the trial will cost you nothing.

WILLIS NICHOLS HAWLEY.

WILLIS NICHOLS HAWLEY was born August 9, 1876, at Hawleyville, Conn. After receiving a local education, he entered what was then the Storrs Agricultural College in the regular three-year college course as then given.

While in college Hawley became a member of the College Shakespeare Club and held many important offices in that club.

In the military company which the college had at that time, Hawley rose to the rank of lieutenant.

Through his college career Hawley was, in the words of one of his instructors, "faithful to his duties and much respected by faculty and students alike."

Graduating from the college in June, 1898, while the Spanish War was being waged with four fellow students enlisted in Company H, the 3rd Regiment Connecticut Volunteers then encamped at Niantic. Hawley was soon made a first sergeant and was sent to Camp Marion, Somerville, South Carolina, to drill new recruits. In the fall he came home for a furlough and shortly after his return to the camp in November, was taken sick with typhoid fever.

Rapidly growing worse, he was removed to the division hospital and then to the Red Cross Hospital at Philadelphia. The attack of the fever was so strong that his heart was unable to stand the strain, and on November 19, 1898, a few hours after his mother reached his side, he passed away.

The funeral was held November 21, 1898, a few hours after his mother reached his side, and a professor with five cadets in the library.

New Times, New Things
The old fertilizer formulas are giving way to the new. Every farmer meeting one subject should be furnished with a balanced ration to the crop and keep up the fertility of the soil. To do this the fertilizer should contain at least as much Phosphoric Acid. Our note book has condensed facts essential in farmers' meetings and plenty of space to record the new things that you hear. Let us send one to you before your Institute meets.

A supply of these is furnished by request to every institute held in several states. We will be glad to send a supply delivered free of charge to every institute, Grange or Farmers' Club Officer on request. It contains no advertising matter.
