PATRIOTIC RALLY
HELD DECEMBER 5

OVER 500 ATTENDED.
Rev. B. W. Cook and Sergeant Arthur Gibbons Principal Speakers.

(By Chas. R. Brock.)

Five hundred people attended the patriotic rally which was held in the Howley Armory on the evening of December 5. Rev. B. W. Cook of Willimantic represented the State Council of Defense and was one of the speakers of the evening. The program further consisted of a talk by Sergeant Arthur Gibbons of Toronto, Canada, the singing of war songs by the Liberty Chorus, and the playing of an orchestra of thirteen pieces brought together especially for the occasion.

In the absence of President Charles L. Beach, who was confined to his home, Professor W. L. Slate introduced the speakers of the evening. Rev. B. W. Cook spoke on the causes of the war, its execution, and the parts each of the countries are playing and must play to win the war. He emphasized, particularly, what the United States might be expected to contribute as her share and what this meant to each individual.

"The war is not likely to end before the summer of 1919," said Mr. Cook, "and then the length of time it takes will depend on how long it takes the United States to get men in the trenches. To meet the needs of supplying and equipping these men means a great reduction in all lines of manufacturing other than that of munitions. This reduction in other branches of manufacturing will (Continued on page 7.)

EXTENSION ACTIVITIES.

The Board of Control of the College has authorized President Charles L. Beach to expend for extension activities during the year 1917-18 the full amount of the appropriation for the two-year period ending September 30, 1919.

During the past six months the College has been called upon by the State Council of Defense and the State Food Commission to do their utmost to stimulate increased food production and food conservation. The College has responded to these requests through the Extension Department, which has and is continually promoting educational campaigns and demonstrations throughout the entire state.

Every man on the Honor Roll is represented by a star on this flag. It was paid for by money raised by the War Committee of the Students' Organization and made by the girls. More stars will be added as more men enter the Service.

NEW CHEMISTRY LABORATORY SOON

CHAPEL BEING REMODELED.

Equipment and Supplies Purchased—Laboratory Work Will Begin Next Semester.

Work on the new Chemistry Laboratory is now well under way and the room in the Main Building which was the Chapel is being made over to accommodate the arrangements for the laboratory. Professor H. D. Newton and G. A. Blake started to draw up plans for the laboratory on the following morning after the old laboratory was destroyed, and a corps of carpenters was set to work immediately.

The platform at the west end of the chapel has been torn out and a new floor laid in its place. Water and drain pipes are being laid for the new laboratory tables and bobs are being constructed. The Chapel is to be divided into two parts, the main laboratory and a smaller laboratory for advanced work and the offices of the staff.

The main laboratory is to be equipped with five tables, running the width of the room. These tables will (Continued on page 2.)

MUSSER IN NEW YORK.

The Dairymen's League of New York, through the Federal Milk Commission, recently extended Carl B. Musser an invitation to attend a meeting in New York. He laid before the League the data regarding the price of milk collected by the Dairy Department of the Connecticut Agricultural College. The Federal Milk Commission will use this and other data obtained in setting the retail price of milk in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Chicago.

Professor G. C. White says he believes that a just price will be obtained in the near future for the farmers. At the present time, he says, they are not making much profit and in a good many cases are losing money.

be fitted with lockers for the accommodation of 190 students, working in four sections. The tables will also be fitted with water and gas, the latter of which will be supplied from a water and gas main, and the water connections will be fitted with lockers for the accommodation of students, working in the laboratory. The work in the new laboratory is being fitted out by the order of Mr. Edmonds, and the laboratory will be ready for the students in the fall of the present year.

The advanced laboratory will be fitted out for Agricultural research work and advanced work in Agricultural Chemistry. The entire quarters are necessarily small, but they will be made to answer all purposes by direct and alternating electrical current in the rooms which will be used in heating and for electrolytic work. Compressed air for blast lamps will also be available.

The annual meeting of the State Board of Agriculture was held in New Haven, December 11 to 13. The important speakers were Dr. L. H. Bailey, formerly Dean of Cornell University, and Professor T. N. Edmonds of the Department of Economics at Harvard.

DAIRY SAVING COAL.

The Dairy Department is observing the advice of the fuel administration in use of coal. At the present time the rooms have been kept cool by the outside air circulated through by an electric fan. The United States Department of Agriculture has done extensive experimental work on this and have found out that this is the best cooling system there is if the air is cold enough. In doing this a large amount of coal is saved by the College, for the engine that runs the refrigerating plant is shut down.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Spongel of 8 Chapin Place, Hartford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mabel, to Lieutenant Richard G. Plumley, 30th Infantry, U. S. A. Mr. Plumley was a member of the class of 1915.

L. Carl Alberti, '29, has left College. He is to attend a preparatory school for a few weeks prior to entering the Harvard Radio School.

Arthur W. Frewetholm, '20, has left College and is to enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps.

Charles A. Johnson, '18, was on the Hill Friday, December 7, for a physical around the tube next candidate for the third Officers' Training Camp. Herbert Wood has taken a position as instructor in poultry at the Georgia Agricultural College.

COLLEGE WITHOUT WATER.

parts, which caused some delay in repairing the damage. The parts did not arrive till about midnight, but by working all night, the pump was in running order by one o'clock the next afternoon. In order to put in the new parts nearly one hundred and fifty feet of pipe had to be removed from the well.

The breaking of the pump would have caused much inconvenience had the safety valve on the return pipe, from the standpipe worked, but this was out of order and allowed all the water in the standpipe to flow back into the well. This left the College without water entirely, and all day Thursday there were rumors about, that the College would have to close.

All the water that was used on the campus for nearly two days was hauled from the pond and nearby wells. The water for the dining hall was hauled from H. V. Beebe's well and pond water was used for the stock and dormitories. Large tubs of water were also kept in front of each hall and those who were not far-sighted enough to take some into their rooms the night before to Warm, were seen congregated around the tubs next morning, washing in the ice water.

When asked what the cause of the break was, G. A. Blake, Superintendent of Buildings, said: "It was caused by the over-working of the pump, since to pump the 60,000 gallons of water used daily the pump had to run twenty-four hours a day and in addition had to be increased in speed from twenty-five to thirty-one and a half revolutions per minute." He also pointed out how the condition of the water supply could be greatly improved if the students, particularly, shut off the water when it was not needed. "Few students," he said, "realized how much water they really use in a day. It has been found by actual measurements that they use 35,000 gallons of water in the dormitories alone."

"Using some precautions," he said, "would make it possible to keep a head of from forty to sixty feet of water in the standpipe at all times to be used in emergencies such as fire, and breakages in the pumping system."

G李E CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

The first business meeting of the Gle Club was held in the Armory, Thursday evening, December 6, at which plans were made, and officers elected for the coming year.

The officers elected at the meeting were: S. A. Edwards, president; L. A. Cassel, vice-president; H. B. Lockwood, secretary and treasurer; L. L. Crosby, manager; and D. W. Scott, assistant manager.

COLONEL GILMER LEAVES.

Colonel E. L. Gilmer, who has been here for the past six weeks as examining officer for the third Training Camp, left last Wednesday for his post at Fort Adams, Rhode Island. Colonel Gilmer received his appointment as colonel while at the College.

Those cadets having doubt as to their physical fitness for military training were examined Saturday, December 8, by First Lieutenant Boxer, Medical Corps, of Springfield.

TRAIN GARDEN SUPERVISORS.

(Continued from page 1) is to have charge of the work. This subject will be put in the list of electives for upperclassmen only and may be substituted for any other elective study. The Course of Study Committee advises students who are eligible for this course to keep the above in mind. The number of hours required per week and what the course is to include will be published soon.

The committee feels that those who are planning to go into extension work after graduation will find this course as well as the actual experience next summer an excellent pre­liminary training.

In addition to the course in garden supervision an extension course open to all classes will be given the second semester.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

When we were having chapel we used to sing our Alma Mater one morning each week and perhaps sang it with considerable spirit, yet, did we always get the full meaning of the words? Take the last verse for instance,—do you realize the present, not the past nor the future, meaning of those words?

"We will honor her while living
Help to make her great
Sing her praises to the people,
Of the Nutmeg State."

You little realize sometimes how much you are doing to prevent her from being great or helping her to be great.

This year there seems to be a spirit prevalent in the student body, to make our Alma Mater great. This spirit is not shown in one way, nor by just a few students, but rather it is revealed in many ways and by the entire body acting together as one great athletic team. Some are playing one part, some another, yet all are working together to win the game which is to score for Connecticut Agricultural College.

We are playing center, end, or half back in this great game. These different positions are being filled by organizations made up of students which act together as a unit.

Just try for a minute not to be one of the members of a unit, not one of the players, but just an interested bystander, then you can see that we are winning, pushing down the field for a goal.

Perhaps the new men do not notice it because they have not seen the spirit of the student body of former years,—however, the upperclassmen must surely notice a partial change. Notice the interest shown in drill, everyone is doing his best to learn and the hour is not one of drudgery but a period of pleasure. This unit of the great team is playing the game to the best of its ability.

How about another unit or a collection of units acting together as one, the "Campus" board and staff. Good literature has been shown in the College paper by a large number of students coming out for the board and attending the weekly staff meetings. The same spirit is present as is shown at drill three times a week.

The War Committee, which has been working to raise a small fund to pay for the Service Flag and for the sending of the "Campus" to Connecticut Agricultural College men in the Service, received money from each student. All were willing to help in this movement.

The Students' Friendship War Fund Campaign was launched and is being carried on by the students, all are cooperating to make it a success. This is one more activity that is helping to make our College. Perhaps not much of the activity itself but the spirit of doing things is what counts.

It is team-work that counts, and it is the attitude which falls down and will not do its part, the College is going to suffer. This year with its many opportunities will be the greatest in the history of the Connecticut Agricultural College. So let every student do his best whether he is on the "Campus" board, the Students' Friendship War Fund Committee, in the Dramatic Club, on an athletic team, or in any other college activity for it is all going to count for his Alma Mater.

Just keep the right spirit alive through this year and we can truly say, "We are honoring our Alma Mater while living and helping to make her great."

Dear Editor:

There is a rumor on the campus that last year the government appropriated money to the College for uniforms. Can the "Campus" give any information on this subject?

M. T.

ACKERMAN—LONG.

Much surprise was caused on the Hill on Saturday, December 1, when the marriage of Miss Doris Long and W. T. Ackerman on October 4, was announced.

Mrs. Ackerman has been connected with the College for the past six years both as a student and as secretary.

R. L. Longley. Mr. Ackerman graduated in the class of 1915 and has since been connected with the College as Instructor in Mathematics and Surveying and more recently with the State Board of Education as an Agricultural Supervisor.

Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman will be at home at Storrs after December 1.

Military etiquette went into effect on the campus a few days ago. All was the Greek letter Phi was worn, white leather and about four inches in height. Some of these Phi's were given out to the members of the Board in 1915, but, to the best of my knowledge, none has been awarded since that time.

It now seems to me that, considering the work which must be put into the trying-out for the Board and the work which is necessary to be done after making the Board, it would be only fitting and proper to give some letter of recognition to the members of the Board. The expense of the letters would be but little and could be easily procured from Mr. Abidan, the "Barnum Man."

Just think the matter over and see what can be done for those who work as hard for the "Campus" as do our athletes for their sports.

REB MOSS.

COTTAGE NOTES.

A tea was given at the Cottage on Saturday afternoon, December 1, by Miss Helen Bishop to the guests who were visiting the College over the week end.

The first meeting of the Girl's Glee Club was held under direction of G. B. Torrey, on Tuesday, December 4. Twelve girls practiced for the rally and were drilled in the patriotic songs for the rally. Although the number of girls is limited, Mr. Torrey said that there is no reason why the mod club should not be built up in time.

The girls at Grove Cottage recently gave a farewell spread to Helen Clark. Miss Clark is still at college but lives at the home of K. B. Musser.

JUNIORS TO BUY BONDS.

It has been decided by the Junior Class to invest the proceeds of the Junior Hop in Liberty Bonds. Although the money will eventually be used for the erection of a monument, in memory of Connecticut Agricultural College men in the War, this will not be possible for some time, as a great deal more money must be raised. The moneys as it is raised, by two students, was invested in Liberty Bonds, which will be convertible into cash when needed.

BREAKFAST AT COTTAGE.

Saturday morning, December 1, a subscription breakfast was given in Grove Cottage from nine to ten by the girls of the Junior class. It was opened to all those who attended the Junior Hop the night before and about forty took advantage of the late breakfast. The proceeds amounted to about eight dollars. The money will be added to that received from the dance and the entire fund will be used in buying Liberty Bonds.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brundage wish to take this opportunity to express their deepest gratitude to those who upon the night of the recent fire when the main building was threatened, so carefully carried their belongings to a place of safety.

Sir Douglas Mawson's Travel Motion Pictures were given in Hawley Armory, Saturday evening, December 8, as the second number of the entertainment course.
Oct. 10th.

I meant to have finished this letter in the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday but just after we got ashore on liberty a general recall was sounded and we had to go back to the ship and we've been out ever since. We're just on the last leg of the trip back. Oh, but it's been rough all the time, although the moonlight nights that we've had have been rather romantic. I thought the river would have gotten me by... well, I'll get even!

The camp is still far from being in the service of the United States. The rules and regulations must be very hard for some of the fellows, I think, and the being called away from home must be very hard on those fellows who have never become accustomed to be away from home.

The camp is still far from being completed, but a remarkable amount of work has certainly been done for the last summer and fall.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM H. BROWN, JR.

STORRS NAVAL ACADEMY FORMED

DETAILS NEARLY COMPLETED.

Actual Off-—Shore Practice to Commence Early Next Spring.

There was no little excitement yes¬ terday when two students learned that a naval academy had recently been established here at Storrs. They tried to keep it to themselves, but the facts leaked out. Considerable re¬cruiting is said to have been done during the summer and about sixty picked men reported to headquarters about the middle of October. As a sailor must know how to handle lines there was considerable practice in this work during the first week. On October 22 a thorough examination was given the "landlubbers." This was complet¬ed with some degree of satisfaction.

The recruits were then allowed to "cast off" and were soon under way.

Actual target practice and the handling of boats will not take place until spring according to the most recent information. The remaining parts of the uniforms are expected in a few days. The white service hats arrived recently and are being worn. The new men arrived at drill with them on recently and created a Marine Sensation. One of them was asked if he was a Marine; he replied, "No; this is what the sopho¬mores consider a freshman hat."

PARTY FOR ACKERMAN.

A surprise party was given to W. T. Ackerman in the Athenaeum Fraternity Room on the evening of Fri¬day, December 7. Mr. Ackerman was made to feel that he knew nothing of the affair until he was called to the Fraternity Room by a telephone message. When he entered, he was greeted by the sight of eighteen of his friends and by the waiting supper tables.

Mrs. Ackerman served a three-course sup¬per, after which the assemblage enjoyed themselves at the piano and on the pool table.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. T. Ackerman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brundage, the Misses M. C. McCracken, M. K. Ackley, C. Enos, H. Bolan, and W. B. Macdonald, W. P. Davis, George Stuart, B. A. Brown, S. B. Morse, C. D. Willis, G. A. Stumpf, B. E. Callahan, I. H. Merriman, Henry McFetridge, J. F. Wood.

Professor H. L. Garrigus has re¬turned from attending the International Live Stock Exhibition which was held in Chicago. He was gone about two weeks.

STUDENTS DISCUSS FINANCE.

Dickinson Explains the Use of Money Raised by Y. M. C. A.—Athletic Dues Set.

A meeting of the Students' Organi¬zation was held, Wednesday evening, December 5, in Hayweld Armory to discuss the Students' Friendship War Fund. E. N. Dickinson, chairman of the committee, made clear that the fund was to go for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. stations in the prison camps of Germany. At ten dollars, pre¬viously announced a fair amount for the students to raise is $2000, and all who possibly can are urged by the committee to pledge ten dollars, pay¬able on or before January 12. Mr. Dickinson said the first installment ($5) should be paid by the middle of December. Up to the time of the meeting about $450 had been pledged and after the meeting many students came forward and signed pledge cards.

At this meeting it was decided that the Mid-Year Informal should be held in the Armory, Friday evening, De¬cember 28. This dance is to be in the form of a farewell to the boys who are leaving to go into active service from the College. Two dance committees were appointed by S. B. Morse, President of the Students' Organization,—Executive: D. H. Horton, chair¬man, S. A. Edwards, F. B. Thompson, L. W. Cassel, and C. D. Willis; Decorative: P. L. Sanford, chairman, D. G. Hirch, E. E. Brigham, W. F. Maloney, H. E. Maguire, C. B. MacKay.

An informal dance was also decided to get up a minstrel show for the night after the Mid-Year Informal, December 29. J. S. Miller was appointed to carry out plans for the show. He called for a meeting directly of all who were interested and a large number of students responded.

Immediately after the meeting of the Students' Organization the Ath¬letic Association met to vote on the recommendations of the Athletic Council. The vote was favorable and the dues this year, on account of the omission of the football schedule and only half of a baseball schedule, are five dollars instead of ten for the men, and $2.50 for the girls. A bas¬ketball schedule, however, has been prepared and Manager F. B. Thomp¬son said that money was needed to carry out its plan. He requested all to pay at least half this amount before the first game is played.

CHAPEL UNCERTAIN.

When asked last week what is to be done about new chapel arrange¬ments, President L. L. Beach said that no plans had yet been made. The chapel in the Main Building has been given over to the Chemistry Department and is to be used as a laboratory and it is now being torn up and re¬paired for that purpose. As Mr. Beach said, "It was thought more im¬portant that the chapel should be used the whole day for chemistry classes rather than for ten minutes in the morning for service." Mr. Beach also said that nothing had been decided in regard to holding chapel in the armory each morning.

BULL BARN UNDER WAY.

Dairy to have Up-to-date Barn for Housing Herd Bulls.

The new bull barn, which has been under construction for the past few months, is nearly completed. On account of the advance in prices of materials, the number of pens has been reduced to four.

This barn is built of hollow tile and has concrete partitions. It has not been decided whether brick or wooden blocks will be used in the floor. The partitions will have an iron railing on top and a front of iron piping made by the James Manufacturing Company. The padlock doors will be arranged so they can be opened from the alley-way in front of the pens. This is one of the most modern improvements in bull barn construction.

The finishing of the new bull barn has been held up until the interior fixtures arrive. The equipment has been on the road for the last three weeks, and unless it arrives soon the barn cannot be completed before the cold weather sets in.

PATRIOTIC RALLY HELD.

set free from sixteen to eighteen million who can help manufacture for the government."

The cost of the war to the United States in money, he estimated would be $110,000,000 a day, and that if the war lasted two years Connecticut would have to subscribe from one to one and one-half million dollars a day. To accomplish this, labor troubles, in particular, must be put to an end.

He urged the cooperation of everyone in assisting the State and Nation in winning the present crisis, by getting into some sort of war work, such as Y. M. C. A. or Food or Food Conservation work.

In conclusion he emphasized what the price of failure might be. He also said that the cost of this war to women was enormous and that the women of the United States would be called upon in the future for war work.

The second speaker of the evening was Sergeant Gibbons who told of his experiences at the front, both as a soldier and as a prisoner. In 1914, several weeks after the war broke out, he enlisted in the First Toronto Regiment of the First Canadian Expeditionary Forces. The unpreparedness of the Allies was shown by the fact that in four months after enlisting his regiment was detailed for action on the Western Front. In No-Man's-Land Sergeant Gibbons' regiment was nearly annihilated, he was wounded twice and after lying for four days was taken to a hospital behind the German lines. After a short stay in the German hospitals he was transferred to a prison camp. In the camp, prisoners of the various nationalities were mixed in together as much as possible to prevent grouping and conversation. Around the camp, on high platforms, were mounted machine guns manned by German soldiers who were on the watch for mutinies.

Sergeant Gibbons finally got back to allied soil by an exchange of prisoners. He was successful in doing because he was crippled, and he was the only professional expert in navigation and indifference in regard to the war.

In conclusion he urged everyone not only "to do his bit" but to do his best. "To do this", he said, "people would have to give until it hurt, since our men in the Service are doing it for us gladly, and we owe it them."
SEVERAL WINTER COURSES PLANNED

TO COVER MANY SUBJECTS.

Six Departments of College To Discuss Production Problem at Short Courses.

The Connecticut Agricultural College which set a new short course record last winter with its series of evening classes for banking schools last through June and most of July, will open its doors again to the people of the state in a series of winter courses on a number of subjects.

Beginning soon after the holidays and extending to the close of the Easter vacation, these courses will cover the field of dairy husbandry, poultry husbandry, live stock farming, fruit growing, gardening and pig club work.

The courses this year are planned to meet the pressing problems of the day in each phase of farming. The position of Connecticut for example are facing the question of feeding their flocks at a sufficiently early age. The poultry short course will consider the feeding question from all angles and will solve the problem as far as a solution is possible.

The Dairy Department will emphasize the handling of a breeding herd. There is evidence that an increased demand for live stock and especially good dairy stock will be apparent after the war and even before. The handling of the herd for best results will occupy the time of the dairyman.

Live stock and general farming will be handled from the standpoints of more profitable live stock and better crops. Indications point to a greatly renewed interest in Connecticut live stock and this short course will discuss ways and means of handling it to advantage.

The Fruit Growing Course will concern itself with the problems of the fruit grower. Special days will be given over to special fruits, as for example, one day will be apple day, another peach, and so on throughout the week.

Gardening work will receive special attention since it is evident that home gardening will demand more attention this year than was the case even during the past season. The need of supervisors will be partially met at least through the garden courses of which there will be two.

Two days will be given over to pig club work and the girls and boys of the state, as well as older people who are interested, will learn the best method of handling pigs. Many girls and boys made considerable money in this way during the past summer and without doubt many will come to Storrs for this special work.

The dates of the courses are as follows:

Dairy Husbandry—January 8-18.

Poultry Husbandry—January 22-February 1.

Live Stock—February 5-15.

EXHIBIT AND SALE HELD.

An exhibit and sale of fancy articles was held at Grove Cottage, Friday, December 7, under the management of Kinball's Textile Shop of Norwich, Conn. The display included many fine linens, hand-embroidered handkerchiefs, cretonne bags and other dainty Christmas gifts.

A representative of the firm called on Miss Corinne Tapley, instructor in Home Economics, and received permission to hold the exhibition.

This display, according to Miss Tapley, offered a good opportunity to students in Home Economics to examine articles made of pure linen, imported since the outbreak of the war.

Mrs. L. W. Buckner and son, Crombie, of Kirkwood, Mo., are visiting Mrs. C. L. Beach, sister of Mrs. Buckner.
