HISTORIC PRODUCTION SUCCESSFULLY GIVEN

“TYRANNY OF TEARS” CLEVERLY EXECUTED

Small Cast but Each Plays His Part Well—Coaching Deserves Credit

“The Tyranny of Tears,” the first of a series of plays to be given this year by the Dramatic Club, was presented in Hawley Armory, Monday evening, November 24th. The production was a grand success and forecasts a most prosperous year for the Dramatic Club.

The general custom of presenting farce comedies has been broken away from and Miss Wallace showed splendid taste in choosing “The Tyranny of Tears.” In the picking of her cast Miss Wallace is to highly congratulated and the results of her able coaching showed up in the actors and acting.

Miss Loretta Guilfoile, as Mrs. Parbury, a loving but jealous wife, acted her extremely hard part in an excellent manner. William Malone as Parbury, furnished plenty of amusement, and Robert Hughes served the red chamapgne as well as any butler could do.

The play was not only a dramatic success but a financial success as well. Total receipts amounted to about $150. Manager Webb arranged to have advertisements in the program and in this manner the programs paid for themselves.

THE NUTMEG

The Nutmeg is getting on the skids and everything points to a most successful year-book. Many of the male students and faculty have already bought pledges and according to Manager Maloney, the Co-eds have pledged 100 per cent strong.

The managing board has announced that the individual who scores the most points in the coming inter-class basketball series will be presented with a free copy of the Nutmeg.

LAST SCRIMMAGE HELD UNDER BUNTING CANOPY

FOOTBALL SEASON ENDED NOVEMBER 25

In Spite of Weather Formal Dance Proves a Huge All Round Success

The football season ended when on the evening of November 25, the last scrimmage took place on not a field marked off with white lines, but a floor (which incidentally is painted with black lines) above which stretch- cansopy of blue and white bunting in basketweave effect.

The usual football tog's were exchanged for uniforms of a more distinctive cut, the only protective armor worn being the white and shining breastplate of stiffly starched linen. This, although designed to cover the vulnerable spot, a certain pumping station, seemed ineffectual in some cases as rumor has it that certain of the men are still suffering from injuries to that part of their anatomy, inflicted by their tulle-clad opponents. The resulting score bids fair to be a tie, although official returns are not in at the time this goes to press. The time of the game consumed some five hours.

Pickett's Orchestra furnished the songs and cheers which spurred the participants on.

Cosy, attractive and artistically dec- ibrated dances along the side lines awaited the weary players between the halves, or more properly, the eighteenth.

The spectators on the bleachers above the canopy were few, but were duly impressed with what they witnessed.

The weather was very moist but that in no way dampened the enthusiasm of the lovers of the sport. It did however offer difficulties in the way of importing and exporting some members of the visiting team, but these were overcome with comparative ease.

It is estimated that the affair netted the Athletics Association as much as any game of the season. About sixty five couples attended and it was the first formal dance since the war. Taking everything into consideration it was a huge success.

This success was financial as well as social. The percentage of profit was lessened, however, because of the new but attractive decorations, the old ones having “walked off.” The amount cleared, $21.50, was turned over to the Athletic Association.

EXCURSION TO KINGSTON SHOWS COLLEGE SPIRIT

“FOLLOW THE BOYS” BY NUMEROUS STUDENTS

Victory Over R. I. State Celebrated in New London—At the “Far East”

A striking exhibition of college spirit was shown when two thirds of the college body followed their team and all the loyal to victory. It was with that determination and pep, backed by the student body, which enabled our out-weighted gridironers to bring home the pigskin from Rhode Island, a feat accomplished for the first time in eighteen years.

The student body left the Dining hall at eight, amid the cheers of those who could not go and with banners flying, marched to Eagleville. Here the dumbfounded station master with the aid of wife, paper and pencil strove to make correct change but the multitude of five dollar bills proved too much for Eagleville currency. For soon the old man had run out of pennies which caused the price of tickets to rise three cents. By this time he was all excited, for Jaynes gave him a five and the agent handed in return the ticket, the change and also the five dollar bill much to Jaynes’ astonishment, but with pity and a porting sigh he handed back the bill, much to the agent’s surprise.

A distant whistle of the fast C. V. was heard as she puffed around the curve and bellowed down the straight-away. Amid the squeaking of rusty brakes and cheers the crowd boarded the noted train and were carried away, while the inhabitants of Eagleville (both of them) watched that worn out engine slowly but surely fade into the distance.

No sooner was everyone settled down than the train pulled into “Willy” but the lure of the big city was too much; those that did not rise early enough for breakfast rushed madly to the “Greasy Spoon,” and were yanked away by the shrill whistle of the moving train and sat eating the rest of their interrupted breakfast on the steps of the rear car.

The noise of that merry crowd stopped the way-siders in their tracks for never before was the C. V. known to have four cars on it and crowded full of people that sounded full. As the train neared Norwich Ricketts began to get busy for he was nearing the scenes of his childhood and as the train pulled into the station, jumped off in hopes of seeing some one he (Cont. page 6, col. 2)

WAITS EIGHTEEN YEARS TO GET BEST OF RIVAL

CONNECTICUT TRIMS RHODE ISLAND STATE

Game Keeps Spectators Guessing Till Last Minute—Score 7-3. Goodearl Injured

The Connecticut Aggies triumphed over their old rivals Rhode Island on the Kingston Field by the score of 7-3 in the most exciting games ever seen on the Kingston grid-iron. Both teams were evenly match- ed and it was a battle royal from whistle to whistle but the Aggies outplayed and outgamed their opponents in all branches of the contest and deservedly had the ball pulled out of the fire in the last few minutes of the last quarter.

Two hundred Aggie rooters followed their squad with eyes glued madly to urge their heroes on. The engineers started with a rush and before the blue and white eleven realized the danger they had the ball on our 12 yard line. Here the Aggies braced and threw the Engineers back without gain, taking the ball from them on downs. Hopwood tried to boot the sphere out of danger but was forced to kick into the terrific wind that swept the field so that the ball did not go very far and Rhode Island was again in position to score. Rhode Is- land could not make any headway against the Aggie line and dropped back to the 30 yard line and boked the ball over the goal posts for Rhode Island’s three points.

There was no more scoring until the last few minutes of play and altho the Nutmeg eleven clearly outplayed their opponents in the 2nd and 3rd periods, luck broke against them and they were unable to push across a tally. With hope almost gone, luck turned and a misplay on the part of the Rhode Island center gave the Aggies their chance to score, which they accepted with a rush and by means of a forward pass and three (Cont. page 2, col. 3)

RHODE ISLAND GAME

(line plunges the Aggies smashed Rhode Island's hope and gave the Aggies their first victory over the Engineers in a number of years. The game was fought on a field that was a heap of trouble, making practically all of the gains for his team. The game was fought on a field that was a heap of trouble, making practically all of the gains for his team. The game was fought on a field that was a heap of trouble, making practically all of the gains for his team.

The second part of the show consists of a varied mixture of offerings. Fiddlers Four will render music of both the topical and rag variety. Scoop Manwearing has a message to deliver to all oppressed women and such men as are interested. And the Musical Bell Hop will take the crowd to harmony land for a few minutes. The musical program is under the supervision of Bill Gerhardt who will be ably assisted by a ten piece orchestra.

The game by quarters...

FIRST QUARTER
Rhode Island won the toss and chose to receive the ball. Hopwood kicked off to Murphy who managed to twist and squirm his way back to the forty yard line before he was downed. Good-earl was picked from behind on the play and received a badlysprained ankle. He was game to the core tho, and after a few minutes' rest rein­ vised the game.

Rhode Island tried our line but found it to be a stonewall so they shot the next play around Good-earl's end. Altho he was almost unable to touch his foot to the ground he threw himself into the interference and smeared it so that Hopwood was able to get the tackle, Johnson making only two yards on the play. Good-earl was again laid low and forced to leave the game. Ricketts went in at right end. Murphy smashed thru on a skin tackle play for nine yards making a first down. Here the Engineers gave the Aggie rooters a bad scare by shooting a forward pass that fooled Connecti­ cuit's backs and it looked as if they would get a touchdown but Hopwood headed him off on Connecticut's 20 yard line and pulled him down. Twice Murphy tried our line in vain...

Thursday evening a formal dance was held in the ball room of the Copley-Plaza. Fraters were present from all the New England chapters which include, University of Maine, Tufts College, Brown, Rhode Island State and Connecticut.

The annual National convention of fraternity will be held in Pittsburgh. Representatives will be present from all the twenty-three chapters. William Penn Hotel will serve as the scene of activities, which will include a formal dance and banquet. There will also take place a smoker at the Eta Chapter House.

TENNIS ELECTIONS

With the prospects of a good tennis team in mind, the best eight men as shown by the last tournament, met and elected Griswold captain and as Bridges was manager of the Tennis Association he was given the power to act as manager of the coming season's team and to get the games. It is hoped that we will have on our schedule New Hampshire State, Rhode Island State, Wesleyan, Trinity and Brown at least.

Tennis should be one of the sports here as it is one of the game that can be played after one graduates from college and is being pushed by our alumni for Professor Larson has offered to take the team on one of its trips in his car, while E. C. Eaton, '11, has offered to pay the expenses of a trip.

The prospects of the coming year are good for there is fine material from which can be developed with a little training a team that should make a creditable showing with the above Colleges.

In the face of tremendous odds, Connecticut's eleven has completed a successful season. A brief resume of the misfortunes which befell the squad during the season will bring home to us more forcibly the meaning of this statement. In our first game one of our players lost his life; in the second game a man was badly injured that he was unable to play except for a few minutes, for the remainder of the season; in the third game we were not at our best for the season; in the fourth game our best line plunger and hardest tacker was injured so that he could not play the last game of the season. Then the team went up against the heavy Holy Cross eleven, and two more of our boys were carried from the field—and they did not play until the last game. In the first game still another man was laid low for the season. In addition to these injuries two men received broken shoulders in scrimmaging. The game against Boston University was the turning point. The men on the gridiron were not at their scatter- ing resources, the occupants of the grand stand cheered and everyone fought for all he was worth, either mentally or physically. The jinx was chased away, and we came through with a victory. Two records were broken; we won 28 points to 0, and that victory gave the boys in blue the courage and self-confidence which brought home the bacon from Kingston. Even one more victory would not have distanced our spirits. The boys took a rest on November 15 which apparently was just what they needed to put on the finishing touches for the contest with Rhode Island. Then the real old pep began to crop out. The whole community talked and thought football. If you had told a football man that Rhode Island was going to win you would have knocked you down. The night before we had an old time mass meeting—enthusiasm ran high—the cheer- ing was loud and lusty.

Then we went to Kingston and gave our old rivals the first trimming we had given them in the sixteen years. Our team spelled SUCCESS for us—it meant more coming as it did after so much hard luck and so many defeats. The only thing which marred the victory was one injury.

Let us give credit where it is due. Be grateful to the gridiron heroes, whose courage, pluck and endurance made success possible. Be grateful to the men who shaped and moulded the squad into a fighting machine. And don't forget those who fed up the boys just before that first victory. Maybe the jinx was broken at the Valentine dinner table.

VACATIONS

VACATIONS are the spice of college life. Education is a wonderful thing and the more of it you get the broader you grow in the wisdom of the world; but he must be an unnatural wonder who can study all the time. Probably very few college men realize what an education means until they have finished it. Anyhow, very few know what home means until they get away from it and it seems mighty good to get back there and after keeping bachelor's hall in a rabbit warren dormitory. Of course, there are other reasons why vacations are so welcome. We go home to get a "feed;" to see "The Girl;" to get some "cash" or for other well known and excellent reasons, some of which are more or less flimsy.

But the fact remains that without an occasional rest from our labors, we would be a pretty poor bunch of workers in any line or occupation and a student needs a change almost more than any other man. Brain work is exhausting and wearing than a great many occupations that require only manual labor.

It behooves us then to take a vacation as such and to give ourselves a complete change from our customary routine. Thanksgiving is over now, and we ought to be in good shape to continue the fight and keep up our end of the percentage in studies. Do your Christmas shopping early and early and you can find some good marks before that vacation. Make some New Year's resolutions now to keep up ahead of the class and when New Years comes, it won't be so hard to do it.

BLACKGARDS

Two years ago a bunch of students organized the Blackguards. There were three primary motives that prompted the working spirit of these men; first, to make money; second, to put on a first class minstrel show and its dance act and its singing-enthusiasm ran high—the cheer

MRS. C. H. SAVAGE

IN MEMORIAM

Alumni of the College and students of the institution who are acquainted with the family extend their sympathy to our friend Mr. C. H. Savage in his sudden bereavement. On Sunday, November 25, Mrs. C. H. Savage who had just undertaken her operation for appendicitis at a hospital in Willimantic, failed to rally, owing to the condition of her heart.

Her death was most unexpected to do every one, for she had been active in both Grange and Church work until practically a few hours before going to the hospital. It ground her duties to speak of her own suffering and none outside the immediate circle of her family and intimate friends knew that for the few years Mrs. Savage had suffered greatly from periodic attacks of illness. It was in the hope of obtaining relief from that she had last consented to an operation.

Shortly before her death Mr. Savage had been honored by being sent as a delegate from the State of Connecticut to the organization meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation at Chicago, a meeting held to organize the State Farm Bureaus into a National Federation. Those who were present reported that Mr. Savage's representation of the State at Chicago attracted favorable attention; and at a meeting of the New England representatives of the Farm Bureau Federation held at Boston a few days ago, resolutions of sympathy were adopted to be sent Mr. Savage.

The funeral services at the Church at Storrs where the funeral was held Wednesday, November 26, attested the great esteem in which Mrs. Savage was held by everyone of her public-spirited activity during her long residence in this community, it was felt that some special words of appreciation needed to be said on this occasion. In speaking of her life and work among us, Mr. Dawson, minister and chaplain of the college, said: "Loyalty was the keyword of her life. She was loyal to her family, her friends, her community, her church." In closing the funeral service at the burial, the words were appropriately used, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works follow them.

CHURCH NOTES

10:45 at Church on Campus—Mr. Dawson will occupy his own pulpit on Sunday.

The Sunday School will meet immediately after the Church service. Services will be held at the usual hour, 4:45. Mr. Lockwood will be the speaker.

The usual C. E. Meeting will be led by Mr. Freeman of the C. E. The meetings promises to be of great interest. Topic: Truths that Jesus taught.

A Gateway—Electrical

ONLY a forty-foot gateway bounded by two brick pilasters and ornamental lamps, but unlike any other gateway in the entire world.

For back of it is the General Electric Company's main office building, accommodating 2300 employees. And just next door is its laboratory with the best equipment for testing, standardizing and research at the command of capable engineers. Then down the street—a mile long—are other buildings where everything electrical, from the smallest lamp socket to the huge turbines for electrically propelled battleships, is made by the 20,000 electrical workers who daily stream through.

What a story this gate would tell, if it could, of the leaders of the electrical industry and business, of ambassadors from other institutions and from foreign lands.

The story would be the history of electric lighting, electric transportation, electric industries and electricity in the home.

This gateway, as well as the research, engineering, manufacturing and commercial resources back of it, is open to all who are working for the betterment of the electrical industry.

Illustrated bulletin, Y-863, describing the company's several plants, will be mailed upon request. Address General Electric Company, Desk 43, Schenectady, New York.

RHODE ISLAND TRIP

knew, but his game met that of a cop who jumped back the for the back saw one knew he too well or vice versa.

The train continued on its journey down the banks of the Thames River where it was called out all the points of interest along the way, such as, the best place to get good board (a saw from our), and above all he pointed out one of the gravest situations in that part of the country, where people were dying to go, a hill covered with white tomb stones. His life was mapped and soon we were in New London changing engines and on our way to Kingston through a wilderness of brush and sand. At the station we were met by the Rhode Island Freshmen. Cars awaited the team and our fair Co-eds. The rest of the Aggies lined up in squad formation led by the haughty Seniors and Juniors followed by the proud Sophs with their banner flying high, and tagging behind came the men Freshmen in large numbers. Quantity if not quality. With songs and cheers, a game and dinner ahead of them, they marched on with vigor, while Co-eds and gridiron champions ped by in autos.

As the procession neared the college they broke out with the well-known song, "The Aggies won the Boston game and down to Rhode Island they'll do the same," much to the agony of the spectators. They were shown the dormitory, the dining hall, or the place to get rid of our money and ate the fruit of our investment, the mainten ance by which we were to cheer our team on to victory. After dinner we inspected the college and it wasn't long before the pictures of C. A. C. looked mighty good to us. But down and four to go, the whole Rhode Island team lay low but with locked arms the Aggies' gridiron line swept on and the third down found the pigskin lying peacefully a foot over the goal line. The referee glanced at the umpire with a dispairing look and gave a touchdown. If ever a crowd looked and acted as if they knew they were going to lose this one did. Co-eds were hugging those in reach, canes and water sprinkled on the air, with the deaf ening cries of victory; but across the field stood a body of 300 who never murmured but stood in awe and dis paired. The last game was lost to a "Bunch of Farmers," as they placed.

No army ever marched so triumphantly as did that body of students who marched back to the train. With VOLLEY BALL

In keeping with the plan to make athletics an important factor in the physical development of the student body, a volleyball schedule has been drawn up by R. J. Guyer. The fresh men and sophomore classes have been practicing for several weeks. December 10 will open the season with the Sophomores lined up against the School of Ag. The Freshmen pitted against the Juniors. The fac tory will have an opportunity when they are matched against the individ ual classes.

and then a forward pass went wild. Murphy smashed thru tackle for 10 yards making it first down on Connecticut's 10 yard line. With her back to wall Connecticut braced and the next four attempts at our line Rhode Island was able to make a first down on our 30 yard line. Murphy was Forced out of bounds and the ball was put in play on Connecticut's 20 yard line because in the last desperate attempt to score the Rhode Island quarterback heaved a forward pass which grounded behind the Aggie goal line.

Hopwood skirted Rhode Islands left end for ten yards but on the next play he was thrown for no gain and running clear across the field in an attempt to gain around their right end. On the next play Turner broke thru and smeared Hopwood for a seven yard loss. Hopwood tried to boot the ball to safer territory but the high wind caused it to go high and short and Rhode Island was again in possession of the ball within striking distance of the Aggie goal line. Murphy made a good try thru tackle but Johnson was stopped without gain.

On a beautifully executed crosscriss that finished 15 yards off completely Murphy sprinted around on the left end and for fifteen yards bringing the ball to Connecticut's 20 yard line. Puffed out with the crosscriss they tried another one at Rick ets but the Aggies had profited by their loss in the previous play and...

Ricketts smeared Johnson before he could gain an inch. Nordquist hit the line for 3 yards and then Johnson dropped back and booted a pretty drop kick squarely between the posts.

Score: Rhode Island 3—Connecticut, 0.

Rhode Island kicked off to Connecticut and Ricketts received the ball on the 10 yard line and carried it 8 yards before being tackled. Prescott hit the line for 2 yards and Murphy crashed thru for 4 yards. The quarter ended with the ball on Connecticut's 2-yard line in the Aggies' possession.

SECOND QUARTER

Baxter crashed thru for 6 yards on a skin tackle play and Prescott made it first down. Hopwood tried the left end in vain and Murphy found the Rhode Island line holding like a stone wall. Baxter heaved a forward to Alexander but the wind carried it wild. Hopwood booted a beautiful high spiral way down in Rhode Island's territory to Murphy and Alexander threw their captain before he could take a step. It was Rhode Island's ball on their 27-yard line. Connecticut was over anxious and received a five yard penalty for offside. Nordquist hit the line for three yards and Johnson added two more. At this stage of the game Maguire and Blake engaged in a slight altercation and both were promptly banished from the field. It was a sorry blow to the Aggie eleven as Maguire is a tower of strength in the line.

Patterson went in for Maguire and Brownell took Blake's place. Rhode Island found the going rather rough and so after three attempts at trying our line they punted to Hopwood. Baxter went thru center for 5 yards and Prescott added four more. Murphy punched the Engineers' line for first down and Hopwood sent a thrill thru the grandstand by tearing around left end for 15 yards. Johnson was injured on the play but pluckily returned to the fray. Murphy hit the line for 5 yards and Prescott tucked on an additional 4. Baxter squeezed thru for a scant two but that was sufficient to make it a first down. Baxter tried a forward pass but Nordquist had his eyes open and intercepted it on Rhode Island's 30 yd. line. Murphy made 2 yards thru center and Nordquist got 2 more. Johnson tore around left end for 9 yards and the half ended with the ball in the middle of the field.

Score: First Half—Rhode Island, 3 Connecticut, 0.

SECOND HALF

Hirtle kicked off to Prentice after considerable trouble as the wind persisted in blowing the ball off the mound before he could kick it. Prentice was downed on the 40 yard line. Murphy hit the line for 3 yards and Baxter twisted thru for 3 more. Baxter heaved a pass to Mitchell but it was low and Mitch couldn't hold onto it. Alitho it was only the fourth down the ball was given to Rhode Island on downs by the referee in spite of the protest of the headlinesman. Mitchell broke thru and pulled Murphy down for a ten yard loss on an attempted end run. Johnson hit the line for 3 yards and Nordquist couldn't gain an inch.

Nordquist punted to Hopwood on Connecticut's 30 yard line. Hopwood tried the right end and gained 8 yards. Baxter was only able to make a scant one but Murphy tucked down his head and ripped thru for first down. Prescott made two but Baxter found no holes in the opposing line so he heaved a forward to Alexander but it went far over Al's head and gained nothing. Hopwood tried his luck at left end and made ten yards. The ball passed to Rhode Island on downs.

Baxter twisted thru for 3 more. Baxter tried another forward but it failed and with the ball in midfield the fourth down Baxter again tried the air route without success and the ball passed to Rhode Island on downs. Johnson got away for 8 yards and Murphy made it first down by adding 6 more. Murphy hit the line for six but at this stage the Aggies tightened their defense and the ball passed to Connecticut on downs. Hopwood raced around left end for forty yards after Murphy, Prescott and Baxter had smeared their defense but was called back and Aggie was penalized 15 yards for piling on after the runner was down.

Connecticut tried Rhode Island's line twice but it nettled only 3 yards and in the bargain the blue and white was penalized 15 yards for piling on. Baxter tried another forward but it failed and with the ball in midfield the fourth down Baxter again tried the air route without success and the ball passed to Rhode Island on downs. Johnson got away for 8 yards and Murphy made it first down by adding 6 more. Murphy hit the line for six but at this stage the Aggies tightened their defense and the ball passed to Connecticut on downs. Hopwood raced around left end for forty yards after Murphy, Prescott and Baxter had smeared their defense but was called back and Aggie was given a 15 yard penalty because one of her men was caught holding. Again Hopwood tried the line and made ten yards. The quarter ended with the ball in Connecticut's possession on Connecticut's 42 yard line.

CHARLES LEWIS BEACH, President
Valentine Meadow Forms the Scene of Action—Skinner and Begg Lead Class

The Sophomores again demonstrated their superiority in rope pulling by defeating their opponents after an exciting five minutes pull. The only differences were that in this case the 2a Class in Animal Husbandry represented the Sophs while an elderly and stubborn Shorthorn cow took the place of the Freshies and Mr. Skinner, assisted by Mr. Beggs, held down Zunk's position while the cow had to do without, a Croft.

The following morning An. Hus. class on November 15 were judging cattle on the Judging Pavilion when a young bull was rushed up and informed them that a cow, in some mysterious manner, had fallen into the big ditch in Valentine meadow.

Mr. Skinner immediately issued a call for volunteers but the class had already left for the scene of action.

Arriving at the battle ground a rope was hurriedly tied around Bossie and the second great rope pull was on.

For five minutes of stubborn resistance the Freshies' representative admitted defeat, but so rallied that, as soon as she felt solid ground under her feet she started full speed for Maguire, whom she evidently blamed for her plight. But she had given her a straight arm (involuntarily) and to "Speed's" protection. He, in turn, started to jack the rest of the class but they had disappeared. Thus ended another victory for the Class of '22.

NEW STUDENTS

It is interesting to note that our number of ex-service men is steadily increasing. Mr. Frank J. Blanchard of South Manchester, Conn., and Thomas W. Hogan of Unionville, Conn., have recently come to C. A. C. under the Federal Board direction. Both men have served in France and have been wounded.

Mr. Blanchard was in the service for over two years and during that time received wounds in the Toule sector and also in the St. Mihiel drive. He has had the rather unusual experience of being buried in a dugout with nine other men and is the only one who escaped with his life. Mr. Blanchard expects to take a special course in Horticulture while at C. A. C. He is also interested in basketball and expects to try out for the College team.

Mr. Hogan was a private in Co. M., of the 9th Infantry. Before going across, Mr. Hogan was a member of the Nat'l Guard and was sent across from an improvised camp at New Haven, Conn. He spent about one year in France and was wounded at Chateau Thierry. He was discharged last February. Mr. Hogan expects to take special courses in Dairy Husbandry.

FOURTH QUARTER

Baxter threw a short pass over the center of the line to Mitchell who retreated from the line to Mitchell who retreated off ten yards before he was downed. Murphy tore thru the line for 6 yards but on the next two plays we were unable to gain an inch. Baxter squeezed thru for 5 yards and made it first down. Hopwood tried the end twice but found them blocked so Baxter heaved another pass but it didn't work.

The ball went to Rhode Island on downs and our last chance seemed gone. Ricketts hurt his shoulder and was forced to retire in favor of Marsh. Johnson made 2 yards and Nordquist added a big 7. But Prentice got thru on the next play and stopped the Mighty Murphy for a 2 yard loss. Nordquist dropped back to punt but the Rhode Island center heaved the sphere far over his head and Baxter tackled him for a 15 yard loss and the ball went to Connecticut on downs. Connecticut tried Rhode Island's line but managed to get only 4 yards on three attempts so Baxter tossed a short pass over the line to Gleason. It struck Gleason's sore hand, bounced into the air amid a loud groan from the Aggie supporters but "Rube" kept his head and grabbed it out of the air and dashed for Rhode Island's goal line. He was pulled down on the two yard line. Aggie was not to be denied however and after three plunges Baxter carried the ball over for victory. Hopwood kicked the goal and ended the perfect day.

Score: Connecticut 7, Rhode Island 3.

Hopwood kicked off to Johnson who returned it back to his thirty-yard line. A forward Johnson to Gardiner was good for 15 yards but here Mitchell halted their parade by intercepting a pass sent over the Rhody center heave the ball to Gleason. It was good for 15 yards but here Mitchell halted their parade by intercepting a pass sent over the Rhody center. Gardiner made a big gain of 20 yards and the whistle blew ending the great battle ever fought by these rival teams.
