Sophomores Favorites Before Rope Pull Begins

Members of Football Squad Cannot Contest

Freshmen Lack Confidence of Other Years and Prepare for Ducking.

At 4:30 o’clock yesterday the traditional Freshman-Sophomore Rope Pull, postponed from Thursday, took place on granite sets in Swift Lake.

As the “Campus” went to press, the under classes seemed little excited and it seemed to be a foregone conclusion that the Sophomores would win as usual. Those students who had money to bet seemed to feel the same way for odds of five to one were given in favor of the Sophomore team.

Even under those conditions the betting was slow.

Although the Freshmen succeeded in getting a rope across, it is pretty generally believed that this year will repeat itself, and that the Freshmen will get a ducking, although the surprise is possible.

Members of the football squad will not be allowed to pull, which will be most felt by the Sophomores. The rope which was used last year will be bought by the bowling team and given to the Athletic Association.

Democratic Candidates Appeal for Support

Congressman Augustus Lonergran, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, spoke at the Mansfield Fair on Thursday. His address was devoted mainly to an attack on his opponent Senator Brandegee. He reviewed the record of the present senator, laying stress on his votes in the Senate and his public utterances.

Mr. Lonergran also took up the League of Nations question and refuted a few of the main arguments put forth by opponents of the league.

R. V. Tyler, Democratic candidate for governor, spoke on state issues and promised a constructive policy toward the school system, if elected.

350 Students Expected

College opens this year with a total enrollment of 306 of which 55 are women. On October 19 this figure will be increased by 30, when the Freshman School of Agriculture men are admitted. The ultimate enrollment for the year will therefore probably reach the 350 mark. The Freshman this year number 71 men and 27 women.

College Honors Memory of Hero, Gardiner Dow

Friends and Classmates Praise His Character

Commemoration Services held in Armory on Anniversary of His Death at New Hampshire.

A special meeting of the Students’ Organization was called by President Newton Alexander, Monday, September 27, to commemorate the birthday of the late Gardiner Dow, ‘21, who died of injuries received in a football game at Durham, N. H., a year ago.

Mr. Alexander explained the purpose of the meeting for the benefit of those freshmen who did not know and called upon Chaplin Marshall Dawson for an invocation. President Charles L. Beach then spoke of Heroes, the qualities of a hero, and the different kinds of men that make heroes in their several walks of life.

He told of Charles and Richard Storrs, who founded the college, and for whom Storrs Hall is named; of Edward Whitney, for whom Whitney Hall is named; of Professor Koons and Professor Gulley, whose names are remembered in Koons Hall and Gulley Horticultural Hall. He especially mentioned our military hero of the Spanish-American war whom we think of when we hear Hawley Armory mentioned.

Gardner Dow became our latest hero when he gave his life fighting to uphold and win glory for his college Connecticut Aggie. His name, his deeds, his character and fine qualities will be perpetuated in the Gardner L. W. Athlete Field.

Book Store Opens New Headquarters in Main Building

Among the many new sights which greet the returning student this fall none seem to merit the attention more than the new home of the College Book Store. Situated in the basement of the Administration building, easily accessible and convenient for all, the store is fast becoming the rendezvous of the student body.

The quarters formerly occupied by the woodworkening department were assigned to the Store early in the spring because of the pressing demand for office space on the main floor.

Alterations were well underway soon after the close of College but unexpected delays in securing material caused some delay.

Waterbury Man Has Enviable Record in Studies and Collegiate Activity.

At the first meeting of the Senior Class, Newton W. Alexander of Waterbury, was elected class president for the coming year. Alexander, besides having an enviable scholastic record and membership in Gamma Chi Epsilon is president of the Students’ Organization and a member of the Student Council. He has been prominent in the student battalion, being commissioned major in 1919.

Begin Work on Site of New Girls’ Dormitory

$335,000 Appropriated by State Legislature

New Building Will House 100 Co-eds and Provide Social Center.

Workmen are busy on the site of the new girls’ dormitory for which appropriation of $335,000 was made at the special session of the legislature recently convened in Hartford.

It is reported that the plans for the building are not as yet complete, but building operations will begin as soon as possible. At present the workmen are busy cleaning brush and stones off from the site.

The action of the legislature successfully culminated a campaign waged for a period of over a year to get an appropriation for a girls’ dormitory, as action in that direction was begun immediately after the destruction of Grove Cottage by fire.

The college authorities feel particularly elated over the action, for this appropriation was the only emergency other than the ratification of the woman suffrage amendment that received successful attention from the General Assembly.

The bill was successfully passed by the legislature at the first meeting of the special session and was vetoed by the governor. At the second meeting it was again passed by the legislature and again vetoed by the governor, but was passed over his veto before the session adjourned.

This appropriation solves the problem of housing the young women enrolled in the home economics department, and will allow that department to continue its extraordinary growth of the past three years. It will allow the college authorities to use their energies toward gaining an appropriation for a new men’s dormitory which is as necessary at the present time as a girls’ dormitory, and possibly for a science hall to house all the scientific departments of the college.

The girls’ dormitory will be of a style appropriate to the size and the college buildings and will accommodate one hundred girls and the necessary instructors. There will also be laboratories for sewing and cooking and the necessary lecture rooms for the instruction required in the home economics course.

One feature of the proposed plans is a room for dances and social functions, and it is expected that the new hall will be the center of informal social activities as was the case of Grove Cottage when that was the girls’ dormitory.

Connecticut Backfield Stronger for Mass. Aggie Game Today

New Material Adds Weight to Aggie Aggregation and Ends and Backs are Expected by Coaches to be Able on Offense.

The Blue and White eleven will journey to Amherst today to try their skill against the Massassuette Aggies and a tough game is the probability. The Bay Staters always are represented by a fast and heavy squad and although no advance information has been received about their 1921 eleven at the Connecticut Camp, it is safe to say that they will have a strong team again this year. But that does not need to discourage us in the least because the coaches have sent the blue and whitesquad through a week of hard practice with considerable scrimmage and have ironed out a number of glaring faults that presented themselves in the opening game against Trinity. Besides this a number of changes have been made and the team looks considerably stronger than the aggregation that took the field last week. Graf is still holding his place at the center of the line and is showing a great deal of improvement over last year. The guard positions are still a trifle weak and uncertain and the loss of Maguire and Prentice of last year's team is badly felt. Hafey, Ferriss and Jarowalowsky are the three leading candidates but all three are green men and lack the experience needed to make a steady pair.

Mitchell is still playing that amazhng type of game that he showed in the Rhode Island contest lastfall, condition to play in the Worcester game, and Ricketts may line up with the Blue and White against Mass. Aggie tomorrow. Prescott, who would have been at his best under the conditions of last Saturday is sick with typhoid fever contracted just before practice started and this backfield weakness was added to, when Lord was counted out by his family physician.

So under the conditions it can be truthfully said that Connecticut made an exceptionally creditable showing against Trinity. The Aggies played very poorly for a football team, but did better than was expected of them. The defeat does not make the outlook for the least discouraging for if the eight men who upheld the honor of the Blue and White at Hartford can hold a team like Trinity's to a 14 to 6 decision, when the latter men are in their places, and the Freshmen have had time enough to show up, the Aggies under the supervision of when he assured the engineers' plays' right and left before they could get started. Bolan, who failed to show any strength in the Trinity game, has left the squad and his place will probably be filled by Patterson.

The end positions will be well guarded by Enigh and Purple, a new man. Coach Guyer has worked this pair especially hard in going down under punts and kickoffs and it is hoped that they will be able to stop the opposing backs from carrying the ball back to where it was kicked from as was done a number of times in the Trinity game. LeRoy and Peterson have shown up well in practice this week and are expected to bolster up the backfield which has been weak in both offensive and defensive work. Leroy has shown up especially well in defensive work and his tackling has been hard and sure. With Leroy, Peterson, Maier and Wallace to pick from, a strong pair of halfbacks ought to be developed. Daly will take care of the fullback position.

Next week the Aggies will go to Worcester Tech after which three stiff teams will be our opponents. Much importance must be placed on the Mass. Aggie game, because Connecticut has beaten her in football and because that game is more or less of an index to the success of the season.

The Game

Mitchell kicked to Trinity who could not gain through the Aggie line and was forced to punt. Frostholm fumbled the kick and Trinity recovered the ball in the center of the field. Trinity carried the ball to Connecticut's 12 yard line, where a forward pass went incomplete over the goal line, and the ball was given to the Nutmeggers on their own 20 yard line. The Blue and White could not gain enough and Mitchell punted to Connecticut's yard line. By a series of off-tackle plays, and a sensational 40 yard run by Bleecker, the Trinity fullback,

LONGER RUSHING SEASON
ADOPTed BY MEDIATOR

ROOMS CLOSED TO FROSH
AT 8:30 P. M. WEEK DAYS

Longer Rushing Season May Prove More Satisfactory to Freshmen.

A number of changes have been made in the fraternity rushing rules, adopted this year by the governing body, and the rushing season has been made longer than ever before, largely because of the belief that such action was the desire of the faculty. How the new system will work out will be interesting to note especially when it is considered that some institutions have considerably shortened the length of their rushing seasons. Having the fraternities closed to Freshmen at 8:30 o'clock p.m., is a feature that is expected by the "Mediator" to be of great value, and the manner of giving out bids will make the matter of joining a fraternal organization much more of an individual responsibility to a Freshman.

THE RULES

We, the undersigned, acting as representative fraternities do hereby agree to observe the following rules concerning the rushing of Freshmen:

1. No man shall be pledged to a fraternity until Friday, December 16, 1920.

2. All bids must be in writing and given out on the day and hour designated by the "Mediator."

3. A man shall be considered pledged, only when having given a written affirmative answer to his bid, and he wears the pledge insignia of his fraternity publicly. No verbal promises shall be valid under the cross bar and Connecticut had missed its opportunity to score. When the ball was put in play Trinity immediately punished the game ended with the ball in Connecticut's possession.

EASTERN COLLEGES FALL BEFORE OUR JUDGING TEAM

CONNECTICUT WINS CUP FOR SPRINGFIELD WORK

Jaqquith is High Man and Johnson Third. Alumni win Places

The Dairy Judging Team did their share toward putting Connecticut State College on the map at the recent Eastern States Exposition at Springfield. Connecticut State stood first with Mass. Aggie second against the competing Eastern Colleges.

The four men in the judging team from this college were P. B. Jaquith, R. E. Johnson, W. B. Burrinton and W. C. Chapman.

The standing of the competing colleges was as follows:

Connecticut 5963
Mass. 5922
New Jersey 5907
Cornell 5857
Penn. 5867
New Hampshire 5699

P. B. Jaquith won the highest individual scoring of the entire competition. R. E. Johnson scored second, and won the highest place in the Guernsey judging.

Connecticut won the cup for the highest college scoring and it will soon be on exhibition here. It will stay at Storrs until next year, when the highest standing college will receive it then.

Several other old Connecticut men won honors at Springfield. Sylvester Mendl '16 coached the New Jersey team which came third, Leffingwell, a graduate of S. of A., and who later entered Cornell in the fourth year course, won eighth place in the individual scoring.

CUSTOMARY PAJAMA CREW ENTERTAIN ON FIRST NIGHT

Freshmen go Through Usual Antics While Puddles Rise and Fall.

A striking debut was made here last Tuesday night, when the male members of the Class of 1924 entertained us with a line of march and several acts in front of the Valentine House. The Sophomores must have caught most of the Frosh as they were about to climb into bed, because, singularly enough, the Freshmen were all attired in that famous garment known as the "pa'ama." That is, the majority were clothed tastefully. Closer inspection, however, disclosed several suits of B. V. D.'s and one original creation whose color was a cross between an Italian picnic and a sunset in the Bay of Naples. It is reported that one Freshman was found hidden in a Storrs Hall trunk. He probably figured he'd better go home by baggage.

WORK HARD! FRESHMAN!

Again the campus is interested with the coming of a new Freshman class and as is always the case, it is being put through the usual and customary paces peculiar to the college. A freshman is a peculiar individual from the standpoint of the upper classmen, and as far as the college life is concerned most of them have comparatively little knowledge, and will know very little for a considerable period of time. For the reason that Freshmen are not acquainted with affairs at the college, they are looked on by the other classes that they should offer few suggestions and do not make much listening, until they are sufficiently familiar with Connecticut customs to carry them into execution or improve them. If a freshman is certain that he has the right dope on college affairs it is best for him to think so without telling others about it, first because he is quite likely to be wrong, and also because nobody is interested in his suggestion unless it is exceptional.

However, Freshmen should not refrain from using their think tanks, nor should they depend on the upperclassmen. A capable Freshman is more liable to get consideration during his first year than later on, and freshmen who mind their own business and work hard are greatly respected by upperclassmen.

LET’S GO, ALUMNI!

One of the most inactive and perhaps the weakest organization of the college, and the one perhaps most needed for the welfare of the college at the present time is the Alumni Association, which has been little more than a name until quite recently. It is needless to impress upon past and present members of the college the importance of a well organized, active and large alumni association, nor to point out its importance in stimulating and regulating all forms of college activity.

THE "CAMPUS" WILL MAKE ATTEMPT TO AID ALUMNI IN FURTHERING THEIR ORGANIZATION PLANS

“CAMPUS” will make attempt to aid Alumni in furthering their organization plans

The "Campus" this year will attempt to be one of the leading factors in aiding the interested alumni in their alumni association work. It will also maintain its policy of years before, and endeavor to be of service to the student body in furthering their desires, and assisting them in their work. Due to the extreme lack of rooming space, the "Camps" must give up its office in Kings Hall and retire to the north tower of Hawley Armory but it is expected that this handicap will be overcome, and the "Camps" board will endeavor to live up to the proud boast of the paper, that it is the newest and best college paper published by a college of the size of Connecticut.

JUST A FEW SURMISES

Tradition seems at first sight to be losing its power of control on the Hill for strange things have happened in the opening days of the college year. The rope pull is no longer run for the purpose of getting it over, nor having it on the traditional first Monday after registration days, but rather to serve other agencies than the classes involved. The limitation placed on football men does not help the rope pull, and if it should be continued would detract much from the importance of the traditional underclass battle. It is fortunate that in after years that the football season will not open at such an early date as this year, because the Athletic Council will not allow it to, and it is to be hoped that in the near future that the first Monday after college opens will again receive the appointment as rope pull day, thus allowing the classes to use their entire strength without detracting from the showing of the football team.

This year, also in spite of its being a presidential year, the classes seem both to elect leaders, and for the first time in the history of the senior class song goes on record as being the first class to elect. Probably the Sophomores are following in the steps of the seniors in trying to do without the election of president until after the rope pull because 1922 started the precedent last year, and is again delaying the election of its junior leader. It seems to be rather senseless for a sophomore class to be without an authorized leader with such important work as a rope pull on hand.

There is one grievous breach of tradition however, and that is the violation of the student body which upperclassmen have considered it their duty to maintain as regards the various Freshmen-Sophomore contests. There are a certain few upperclassmen, and it is good to think that the few can be emphasized, who cannot resist getting into other people's business. The trouble started when an upperclassman moved into underclass affairs on a certain occasion and although his actions were deplored, he was not penalized or called to account. The Freshman banquet was on the verge of being disgraced last year by the action of upperclassmen, who could not stand to play square when there was a chance of popularity coming in, and it would be too bad if the rope pull yesterday should have such conditions to detract from the honor of either class involved.

GOOD-BYE, DEAR OLD BUNK

The improved book store and the enlarged offices in the main buildings are characteristic of the changes which took place during the summer which caused considerable astonishment on the part of the old timers when they returned last week, but many were anxious to see changes of another nature, as such disappointment as were heard in the secretary's office when helpless students signed away their personal liberty, and what was far more bitter, daring to refrain from building bunks. The last hurt all except the Freshmen, for a room in the dormitory without a bunk, is just about as cozy as a jail.

No more will it be possible for twenty fellows to comfortably convene in the study of a room, and with the bunk gone, it is certain that the few college songs which are sung on the "Hill" will pass into oblivion, for whoever heard of singing without the "gang" assembled on a bunk. It has been suggested that the bunk preventative law was passed because bunks would be tempting places for long political arguments this fall, and would thus be a serious drawback to scholastic endeavor. Be that as it may, the old room doesn't seem home-like any more, for with the bunk gone, it is a case of sitting in a straight-back chair and trying to bluff yourself into thinking you are happy, or going to bed.

"PREXY" TELLS OF SPECIAL IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT AND SPORTS

College Assembly was held Wednesday morning, Sept. 22, for the first time this year. President Dell, who made remarks greeting returning students and welcoming the new ones. He expressed the delight felt by all the members of the college at having a chance in making the appropriation for a women's dormitory. The president also told of his interest in student government and athletics.
KAMPUS KLIPS

So Fred Goggin is going to sail the deep, blue sea! Most likely he'll start a Hot Dog Emporium in the Arctic Circle. Or else sell Cold Cream on the Equator.

Room 41 Storrs will be the headquarters for all political parties opposed to the Republicans. No meetings will be held there however.

What they did during the summer: Diddley Graf—Stuck a pitch fork in his hand.

Beano Graf—Toured Storrs in a Cadillac.

Buck Van Buren—Carried the hod.

Swede Sicker—Met Maloney in Chicago.

Newt Alexander—Won back his 'drug' in Washington.

Putnam—Played poker.

Moddel—Led Storrs Social Satellites.

Dutch Maier—Taught the boys in a Y. M. C. A. camp how to pray.

Phil Dean—Visited 'home' a few weekends.

Cuckoo Johnson—Chased New Jersey mosquitoes with a tractor.

Prof. Slate: "I suppose you have all heard of the story of Mark Twain, when he lay down to take a walk."

Monty in History 4: "Osborne do you smoke a pipe?"

Osborn: "Yes Sir."

Monty: "Hm! No you don't; you smoke the tobacco."

All those who have any money left after visiting the Treasurer's office, please apply to Mr. MacCarron of the Bookstore. Yes, ladies, Mr. MacCarron is unmarried and will vote for Mr. Cox in the coming election.

Professor Lamson: "Griswold, that hay is pretty green. You'd better put it up in windows for a couple of days."

Griswold, about an hour later: "I've hunted all over the Hill, Professor, and I can't find any windows for that hay."

held up the work so that it was not finished for farmers' week as planned and some of the work had to be rushed to open in time for the College year. The store itself is well laid out and well finished, a sanitary floor and a ten foot "American" soda fountain being some of its main features. The new fountain has caused much comment and has registered a decided hit especially with the coed clientele.

Many new lines of student supplies have been added, including athletic supplies and a small amount of hbardashery. In the near future it is the plan of the Book Store management to have a line of standard groceries and supplies to be sold as near cost as possible to the faculty and all College employees. This is in the opinion of the Book Store management, means another big step forward in the development of the store and will be in effect in a short time.

At the present time the Book Store has no equal among colleges of anywhere near the size of Conn. Aggie, and often of much larger size. The stock and fixtures of the Store are valued at over $10,000 and this will be made even greater when groceries are added. The interest of the student body in the store is intensified by the fact that over 80 per cent of the profits are used to defray the coaching expenses of athletic teams. In the college year 1919-20 the cash sales of the store were $23,952.69, netting about $800 for the Athletic Association. It is hoped that the sales this year will pass the $30,000 mark and will net over $1000 for the A.

Six years ago the store consisted merely of a small amount of space where the present accounting office is today and a small opening in the wall through which customers did business from the corridor. At that time the management of the store was in the hands of the Library Department and all business was handled by charge accounts. Only class supplies were carried, other essentials the students must secure elsewhere, often at much inconvenience. In 1914 it was placed under the management of the business office and in 1917-18 was moved to larger quarters, opposite the Secretary's office where it remained until it moved this summer. The first student manager of the store was Leslie Lawrence. He was succeeded in the same year, 1917-18, by Albert Dahinden, under whose regime a record breaking business of $16,583.06 was done. In the year 1918-19, "Connie" Mahoney became the student manager and under the influence of her genial smile the sales jumped over $8,000. The next year found Mahoney in the navy and Arthur Bird in charge. Last year "Connie" again took up the reins and the total sales swelled to almost $21,000. The business office reposed on Mahoney to return after graduation and take full charge of the store. This he consented to do. From a $4,000 business in 1912-13 to a $30,000 business in 1920-21, the profits from which have been devoted to the improvement of the store and in the future for defraying coaching expenses is a far cry and credit is due the Business Office for its encouragement and to Miss McCracken and "Connie" Mahoney for the genuine interest and work they have done for its development.

On Wednesday night the class of 24 experienced the tradition of "The Reading of the Rules." The night was exceptionally well ordered for The Reading. Old Luna was shining bright and full and the twinkling lights of the campus appeared far below.

Frederick C. Maier

The watchmen at the summit had lighted the Council fire at the first sound of advance and it was blazing merrily by the time the class of '24 arrived at the top. Quickly the Sophs circled them around the fire. At the command "Be seated" only the grim body of the Mediator Board and its spokesman, remained standing. The time was at hand for the Reading.

F. C. Maier of the Senior Class and President of the Mediator was the chosen speaker of the night. Simply, but forcibly, he read and explained each of the Freshman rules so that there could be no misunderstanding of their significance. W. Maloney, also of the Senior Class, followed Mr. Maier with a few words of advice to the entering class. The ceremonies were closed with a roasting cheer.

Swiftly the Fresh were formed into line and marched slowly down toward the twinkling campus lights.

It is reported that Henry Fonny, '29, is playing in the backfield of the Boston University football team, and the Aggies will have a chance to see if his playing is as good as when he played for Connecticut on October 30. He is taking a course in business administration at the university.

ALPHA PHI SECURES GAMMA CHI EPSILON CUP

COMPETITION VERY CLOSE

Averages Will Now Be Based on Marks Received from Mid-semester to Mid-semester.

The Gamma Chi Epsilon honorary fraternity will award the scholarship cup, that the organization offered last semester, to the Alphi Phi fraternity at College Assembly, October 9th. This award should have been made at Commencement last June but the averages could not be obtained at that time.

The rules governing the award are as follows:
1. This cup shall be awarded at Commencement to the organization having the highest achievement average for the year.
2. The winner shall be responsible for the cup following the award.
3. It shall become the property of an organization winning it any three consecutive years.
4. Gamma Chi Epsilon shall have exclusive control of the award.
5. The cup shall be awarded June, 1920, on averages based on the second semester of the college year 1919-1920, but this shall not be counted towards a leg. Thereafter it will be awarded on averages taken from mid-year to mid-year with the first regular award at Commencement, 1921.
6. Only averages of completed semesters shall be counted.

The standing of the fraternities for the past semester were very close, The Cosmopolitan Club and the College Shakespearian Club are a very close second and third respectively.

By eight o'clock the Sophs had one line of "spidermen" in front of Stores Hall and one in front of Koons. With exquisite skill the Soph military men managed to join the two lines into a straight line with his white-clad comrades."

Many peculiar brands of talent were now manifested as each actor, by request, did his little stunt before the assembled co-eds and the Aggies were pretty well warmed up all over. They were lined up facing the House and the festivities began.

The Exterior Aspect

The exterior aspect of the Hall is pleasing. When, in the process of time the immediately adjacent grounds have been put in proper order and the converging walks attended to, the building will rival in appearance any on the campus. Planned according to the English Gothic type of architecture, it is a wonderful addition to the already picturesque and beautiful grounds.

Two systems of dining will be in operation this year. Under the cafeteria system, patrons will perform self service and pay for the meals as they are obtained. The cost of eating in this way will be about $7 a week, which sum includes the overhead charge of $2 per week imposed upon all students of the college.

The other method will probably prove the most popular. Service will be rendered by waiters, guests being accommodated eight to a table. An increased cost of $1 a week over the cafeteria service is an incidental item connected with the table d'hote.

Up to date it has not been possible to start the table d'hote because of various minor delays and meals are being served through the cafeteria; but it is expected that both systems will be in operation within a week.

The new proper is an imposing room, long and high, very well appointed as is the whole building throughout. The Gothic style is maintained everywhere in the room. Even the chasen on the electric light globes is ornamented to suit the prevailing note. A speaker's stand occupies a strategic position above the entrance. As yet no one has ventured to take the platform. It has been noticed, however, that the speaker's balcony is the most efficient place from which to start from the standpoint of acoustics.

The cafeteria alcove adjoins the main room on the west side. On the right of this alcove are the washing rooms and on the left a small cafeteria dining room and a sewing room. In the tray-receiving room is a small tank which in the future will supply ice cold drinking water to two fountains which will be situated on either side of the cafeteria entrance. The other apartments on the ground floor consist of a hat and cloak room, an office and a reception room.

MANSFIELD FAIR HOLDS STAGE FOR THREE DAYS

Athletic Games and Many Exhibits Hold Attention of Town's People.

The Annual Mansfield Fair was held at the College, September 29 and 30, but due to the bad weather Thursday, was continued through today. Wednesday afternoon there were various athletic contests for the school children. Many participated in these games and prizes were awarded the winners.

On Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Circle of Mansfield made arrangements for a dinner after which they sold.

This year the College display was less than usual, but larger exhibits of outside products were shown. The Fruit showing was large and of good quality. It was judged by Mr. Darrow, the extension fruit specialist.

A very pretty floral exhibit was given and a beautiful display of dahlias shown, including an exhibit from Willimantic. The judge for this was Mr. Clark, who works for Dr. Reeder, the seed and flower grower of Philadelphia. The women of the town exhibited products of their art in canning and baking, which was probably the largest exhibit of this kind shown at our fairs. The ladies did not seem so interested in needlework this year and not such a large collection was displayed as usual.

This is the first time that the schools have put on an exhibition of school work. This shows what the schools are doing and that the children are interested in their work.

The State Training School of Mansfield gave a fine display of home craft and handiwork which they placed on sale. Another good display of basket-work was given by the Windham Girls' Club.

The Jordan Hardware Company gave an exhibit of electrical appliances and Max Pollack of Conantville had a very pretty design of the American Flag worked out on a board with colored spoons of thread.

The Willimantic Red Cross gave demonstrations for baby welfare and the local chapter of the Red Cross weighed ed and measured the children.

The vegetable exhibit was the largest shown at our fairs and was judged by Professor Stevens and Mr. Gager of Willimantic.

In the large tent near the Armory an exhibit of poultry including hens, geese and ducks were shown. In this tent there were also some guinea pigs and rabbits.

Because of the bad weather the live stock and dairy cattle could not be shown or judged on Thursday, but will be shown today if the weather permits.

tain absolute silence, and he must return his bids signed or unsigned before leaving the Armory.

COURSE SCHEDULE HAS BEEN RE-ADJUSTED

Examination Groups Determine Courses Scheduled

The course schedule system has been changed somewhat this year by adusting the various courses into eleven groups called examination groups. Subjects which are not likely to have been taken at the same time have been placed together in one examination group, and are in general scheduled at the same hours. No student may take more than one course from any group in a given semester.

In order to reduce the number of conflicts to the minimum, it has been necessary to schedule all courses on a regular basis; that is to say, at the same hour on Monday, Wednesday, Friday or Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday.

Work in the smaller laboratory courses has not in general been scheduled, in the belief that instructors can often discover hours which best suit their conveniences and that of the students who desire to take their work.

No Freshman may carry less than sixteen or more than nineteen credit hours.

Several departments have increased the number of their courses to cover some of the higher branches of their particular work.

The fees this year have been increased in common with other institutions throughout the country. Consistently with this increase, the various departments are paying higher wages to working students.

A new wrinkle in the matter of room tenancy has also been added in the shape of a room agreement which had to be signed by each student as he received the keys to his suite. A clause in the agreement stipulates that no bunks shall be erected. This is a severe blow to most of us who enjoy a little snooze or rest now and then on the bunk.

The basement contains the kitchen, the bakery, the storage rooms and the refrigerating room. Four large refrigerators are here situated, kept cool by an ammonia coil system, run by a special engine. Pipes from this machine also cool the kitchen refrigerator and the cafeteria refrigerator. Two dumb waiters ascend to the cafeteria alcove from the basement kitchen.

These are hand operated.

On the second story of the Hall are the living rooms of a portion of the staff. Most of the employees find living quarters in a frame house situated between the Hall and the Apse. This was built especially for this purpose.

Lawrence Cassel, '19, has accepted the position of assistant professor in the poultry department of the University of Washington, Pullman, Wash., and is the youngest member of the faculty of 350 employed at the institution.

STENOGRAPHERS LEAVE FOR PACIFIC COAST

PURPOSE UNKNOWN

Miss Ellis, Miss Jackson and Miss Brown go West

Three young ladies, stenographers in departments of the college, will start by law on the first lap of a journey of adventure and sight-seeing across the continent. They are Miss Elizabeth Ellis, of the Extension Service; Miss Georgia Brown of the Main Office; and Miss Madeline Jackson, secretary to Professor Sherman Hollister, and they will go to Springfield by auto where they will start their trip for Los Angeles, Cal. Their first stop will be at Niagara Falls, and they are planning to visit Chicago and Colorado Springs on their way to the Pacific Coast.

Miss Ellis, who has been in the employ of the Extension Service for the past three years has been a popular and conspicuous figure on the campus. She has had a prominent part in the social functions of the college community, and her presence has added to the interest and activity of the Campus. Miss Brown and Miss Jackson are also well known among the students and the faculty.

The young ladies when asked whether they were going west in search of husbands answered decidedly to the negative, but it has been suggested that they were not particularly satisfied with the usual run of Aggies men and are going west in search of a more wild and woolly masculine production than that in vogue on the Hill though it is hard to imagine such a thing.

The travelers will stay in California probably until spring, or as they expressed it, until their money gives out, when they will return east.

"Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" Many Freshmen also displayed accurate mathematical knowledge in assuming the angle. The hit of the evening was made by a Sophomore paddler in the hands of John Bananas. Taken as a whole, the exhibition was a joyful and satisfying event.

At the close of the exercises the Alma Mater was sung, followed by the old Connecticut cheer, led by the cheer leader.

The march was resumed, this time leading to Swan Lake, where the Freshmen were lined up in position for an excellent view of the water. W. Maloney of the Senior class then made a short speech in explanation of the Pyjama Parade tradition and on college spirit in general.

The regiment was finally dispersed at Storrs Hall. Later investigations do not confirm the statement that the Freshman threw away his suit of sky-colored pyjamas but it has been noticed that many of the Frosh now sit down with extreme care and solicitude.

MANY NEW INSTRUCTORS JOIN COLLEGE FACULTY

WEST POINTERS FOR DRILL

English Dept. is Enlarged and C. B. Gentry Takes Place of Dr. Eaton.

At the opening of college this year, several new members of the faculty are on the Hill for the first time. These are: Professor H. K. Denlinger of the English Department; Professor C. B. Gentry, taking Doctor Eaton's place; Professor F. W. Knipe, who will teach Agricultural Engineering; Captain R. E. Boyer and H. B. Dixon, the new Commandants; and Captain C. R. Strother, also of the military department.

Professor H. K. Denlinger is a graduate of Princeton and has also received an M.A. and Ph.D., at Black-burn College, Ill. Since then he has traveled the United States and Europe. For the last three years he has been in charge of the training camp of this country. He will teach Freshmen English, Argumentation and Public Speaking.

Professor C. B. Gentry is taking Dr. T. H. Eaton's place and will have full charge of Education. He is a graduate of the University of Chicago. He received an M.A. from Cornell in 1919 and studied one-half year at Columbia. He has taught Agricultural Education and was Assistant State Supervisor. He has had considerable practical experience, as he has managed a 200-acre stock and grain farm and was six years manager of a school farm.

Professor F. W. Knipe will teach Agricultural Engineering and the course on Gasoline Engines. He graduated from Pennsylvania State and then taught there for three years. He has been one year at Iowa State.

Captain R. E. Boyer is the new head of the Military Department. He graduated from West Point in 1903 and while there was one of the big football men, being captain of the team. He plans to uniform the students immediately and start range work.

Captain H. B. Dixon is helping Captain Boyer. He is also a graduate of West Point but has served most of his time in the cavalry. He was in the Spanish-American War and during the Great War had the R. O. T. C. at St. John's Military Academy, Wis. Top Sergeant C. R. Strother has served two years on the Mexican border and nineteen months overseas, being wounded in the Battle of the Marine.
