FIFTEEN THOUSAND DOLLAR SWIMMING POOL TO BE CONSTRUCTED IN BASEMENT OF ARMORY

AUSTIN C. DUNHAM GAVE PROPERTY TO COLLEGE IN 1917 AND TRUSTEES SOLD FARM IN FALL OF 1918.

The fund of $25,000 which the college acquired in the fall of 1918 by the sale of the Dunham Farm at Newington will be used to construct a swimming pool and to establish a scholarship fund. This step was authorized by the college trustees at a meeting held on Wednesday.

The new $15,000 pool will be built in the basement of Hawley Armory at the south end, where excavation for the pool has already been made. It will be of standard size, 60 by 25 feet, 9 feet deep at one end. Provision will be made for the accommodation of spectators at the swimming meets.

Building Dept Will Start Construction.

The building department under the supervision of L. B. Tenney will construct the rougher portions of the pool, leaving the tile finish to be done by a special contractor. The college architect, D. K. Perry, will be consulted before arrangements are completed for providing light in the pool, which will probably be ready for use next fall. It will be known as the Dunham Pool.

$10,000 For Loan Fund.

The remaining $10,000 of the Dunham fund will be used to establish a loan fund similar to the one now in existence, which provides yearly loans of $100 to needy students, according to a statement issued by President C. L. Beach yesterday. This fund will be known as the Dunham Scholarship Fund.

The swimming pool is an undergraduate dream of long standing. Excavation was made to receive the pool several years ago but the college has never been able to obtain funds for its construction. Appropriations that have been made for it in the past were shifted to take care of greater needs.

Faculty contributions for the Monteith Concert may be sent by mail or delivered personally to S. Kostolefsky who is in charge of the concert funds.

Special seats will be reserved for faculty members in the Armory.

A few members of the faculty will be seated in the patron's box which will also be occupied by visiting celebrities.
CO-ED TEAM UNABLE TO WIN IN FAST COMPANY
LOSES TO COLLEGE TEAMS AT END OF SCHEDULE

Started Season Well With Victories
Over High School Fives

Last Saturday night's game with Meriden High School ended the 1921-22 basket-ball season for the co-eds. The team played off a schedule of nine games. The team started off the season with a win over Farmington High School. The game was played December 10 on the Hawley Armory floor. Honors were equally distributed among the players in this first game. The Lyman Hall High School team next went down to defeat before our team's advances to the score of 23 to 13. Miss Wakeman pressed the point-getter in this contest, netting 13 out of the 23 points piled up by the team. The New Hampshire State College team gave our girls the first set-back from behind, and substitutions were announced today by the intercollegiate football rules committee.

The Lyman Hall High School team managed to win over Farmington High School with a score of 23-7 in the first game of the season. The first business of the meeting was to vote on the adoption of the rules which were made to conform to the constitution of the association some time before and which had been published in the Campus and posted on the bulletin board for some time. These revisions were read by President Putnam and were adopted without change.

The election of football manager was next in order and P. J. Revelly, assistant manager, was elected manager for the coming season. Two candidates for assistant manager, Bamford and Allan Hotchkiss, were ratified by the Athletic Council, and in the balloting Hotchkiss won by a margin of 25 votes.

In the basketball election Robert Laubacher was elected manager from the position of assistant manager by a majority of football experts for years, and since the abolition two years ago of the punt-out, many of the leading coaches took up the campaign for abandonment of the play. They declared it useless as it stood and harmful to the game. It was understood that W. W. Roper, Prince-

Changes Made by Rules Committee at Meeting

New York, March 11.—The rule covering the new play, which is yet to be clarified and put in final form follows:—

“Goal from touchdown. When a touchdown has been made, the side scoring the touchdown has possession of the ball anywhere on or outside the five-yard line for a scrimmage, from which, by any legal play, as from an ordinary scrimmage, pass, kick or run, they may score a field goal or touchdown and that the score of any character shall not net them one point.

“If the attacking side makes a foul or illegal or incomplete pass or other play they lose their chance for the one point following touchdown.

“If the defending side offends the rules the score of one point shall be awarded to the attacking team.

New Shift Rule.

“The new shift rule reads:—

“In all shift plays, ‘Both feet stationary on the ground’ is interpreted to mean a sufficient momentary pause as to admit the official seeing in the play. Also that the ball is not snapped when the men are in motion. It is the intention of the rule that when a man shifts to a new position he shall come to a full stop so that all momentum is lost and make a new start from a position at rest where the ball is put in play.”

New Clipping Rule.

The clipping rule follows:—

“Clipping is throwing the body from behind across the leg or legs (below the knees) of a player not carrying the ball and shall be ruled as unnecessary roughness.”

Note: This is not meant to apply to close line playing.”

HOTCHKISS AND WEBBER ASSISTANT MANAGERS

Manager Ferris to Arrange for a Dual Track Meet With Rhode Island at Storrs.

The undefeated Freshmen quintet closed the season Monday evening with two brilliant victories. The fast School of Ag team was taken into camp by the score of 25-7 in the first game of the double bill, and in the second the Frosh buried the Sophs under a huge 28-10 tally. The novelty of playing two games in one evening did not affect the freshmen at all, the team traveling at high speed thrusting the eighty minutes of play.

First Game.

The School broke away to a three point lead before the Frosh started but were soon trailing 1925 after three baskets from the floor in quick succession by the half time the Freshmen were leading 12-5. Captain “Louie” Ganem lead the Frosh attack with four goals from the floor and one from the foul line. Eatin played a good game at the guard forward also unable to increase the score. Eddy did the jumping honors and looped three from the floor. Potter and Quigley, at the back positions performed well, holding the opposing forwards to a basket each and sinking two baskets apiece themselves. Vail and Erwin were the only point getters for the School. Vail scored on a pretty basket from the side while Erwin made a long shot from mid-floor and counted three times from the fifteen-foot mark.

Second Game.

On returning to the floor, the Frosh immediately gained the jump on the Sophs and held a substantial lead throughout the game. Purple, Donohue, and Slutsky dropped in a field goal a-piece for the Sophs while Bamford tallied four times from the foul line. Lawson and Eddy also played a good game at the guard position and every man on the Frosh five figured in the scoring in this game, getting a total (Cont. on page 8, col. 1)

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON THE INVESTIGATION OF AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION, 1918.

"While the State in its acceptance of the provisions of the Merrill Act is bound to give special instruction in agriculture, it is no less bound by the language of the act to give a liberal education as an integral part of its distinctive work, and not to neglect or relegate to subordinate places those studies which experience has shown are best fitted to nourish and strengthen the faculties of the mind and which will enable men to do their work, whatever that work may be."

"There are three main outcomes to be cherished in the course of study, and I state them in inverse order with respect to immediate purpose and policies. They are, first, preparation for the agricultural vocations; second, preparation for citizenship; particularly rural citizenship; third, the all-round development of the man."

—PRESIDENT BUTTERFIELD (M. A. C.), 1912

M. A. C. INVESTIGATES COURSE OF STUDY

H. J. BAKER, DIRECTOR OF CONNECTICUT EXTENSION SERVICE, HEADS MASS. AGRIG ALUMNI COMMITTEE IN COMPREHENSIVE INQUIRY INTO CURRICULUM.

Massachusetts Agricultural College, through an alumni committee headed by H. J. Baker, Director of the Connecticut Extension Service, has conducted a thorough investigation into the courses of study offered at M. A. C.

"The results cannot fail to be of great value, not only to the present faculty of M. A. C. in developing a curriculum to meet present needs, but also to agricultural colleges the country over," says the Alumni Bulletin of M. A. C. Mr. Baker conducted his investigation on two lines,—each member of the present senior class at Mass. Aggie was interviewed and asked to freely express his opinions on the courses of study and their value; and an alumni questionnaire was sent to every M. A. C. alumnus.

Results Gratifying.

"Chairman Baker's questionnaire," says the Alumni Bulletin, "was comprehensive—it could not be answered without considerable thought on the part of the recipient. The fact that only thirty per cent of the alumni answered in itself cause for gratification."

The questionnaire commenced with the question, "Do you consider the time you spent in gaining a college education was worth while to you?" The report shows that 464 out of 472 alumni answered "yes" to this question.

The second question, "What were the chief factors which made it worth while?", was answered as follows: Slightly more than half, 333 to be exact, said that it was on account of the broadening effect of education, while 297 said in effect that it was on account of the technical training. "Both those who favor a more liberal course of study at M. A. C. and those who are strongly in favor of technical training can take comfort from this reply," says the Alumni Bulletin.

Want More Science.

The significance of the third question was very great. It was worded, "Could your course have been more worth while by: (a) more science? or (b) more technical and practical work?"

"Two hundred and fifty alumni stated that more science would have added to the value of their college course. One hundred and fifty-one replied in favor of more technical and practical instruction, while sixty-seven stated in effect that the College course as given in their day could not have been improved in either direction."

"Men going into business either agricultural or non-agricultural seem to find training given in science as of more value than the more technical subjects," reported the Bulletin. "It is probably significant, however, that one out of every three men replying in the practical group seem to feel the need of more science rather than of more practice."

Electorate or Required Courses.

Shall the stress be put on required courses, or shall there be a great freedom of electives? The majority were in favor of the required courses as against the elective courses.

Modern Languages.

Nearly half of the alumni, according to the Bulletin, stated that modern languages should be required of all students. Of the other half who were not ready to make modern languages a hard and fast requirement, 150 stated that they should be required within in certain majors, 80 that they should be elective courses not required of any student.

Extend Appreciation to Committee.

The Course of Study Committee at M. A. C. adopted the following resolution: "That the thanks of the Alumni and the Executive Committee be extended to Mr. Baker and his associates for their exhaustive report on the Course of Study now offered at this Institution. The Committee having accepted this grave responsibility, and fully realizing that the future policy and welfare of the College might in large measure be at stake, has conducted the investigation, as shown by the report, with singular ability and insight, with a seriousness of purpose, and with a painstaking thoroughness that commands our admiration and gratitude. We feel that the Committee, with a fine spirit of loyalty, has rendered to our Alma Mater a great and lasting service."
THE GAMMA KEY.

A few members of the junior and senior class will soon be granted the coveted honor key of Gamma Chi Epsilon. This key is not lighted bestowed but only after careful consideration are men admitted to the honorary fraternity. This key consists of Gamma and the personality of probable members. In thinking over these requirements for admission the senior members of Gamma Chi Epsilon survey the entire college course of the candidate and weigh the factors carefully. No matter how high a man's scholarship may be he has carried few or no activities during his college life he cannot be admitted to the fraternity. On the other hand, if a man is high in academic standing and has leadership he is dropped from the start.

There is a prevalent belief that the key should be given to those men who are excellent "men about town" and who would wear the key well with a good suit of clothes. The key really is a reward for hard and consistent effort in collegiate life.

JUNIOR WEEK.

The balsful approach of spring has brought into the collegiate mind, among other things, that of the activities of Junior Week. The chairman of the Week activities has announced the program, which appears elsewhere in this paper.

Since the class of 1921's glorious galaxy it has been the proper thing for each succeeding class to stand on tiptoe and stretch its utmost in order to stand on a higher shelf in the Hall of Fame, than any class before.

This chronological competition certainly provides a thrilling series of events along toward the last days of May when the Appendix in all the textbooks is being rapidly approached and when our young men and women are more anxious concerning the coming of the next moon than they are in regard to the proximity of an examination.

Yes, the Hill has put over some very fine Junior Weeks in the past, and it will be fine in the future. The future is the really grand dance of the year,—always formal, that is in most colleges—is the social acme of the college year and the Hill is at its best for the many visitors who survive the ascent of Spring Hill.

However, it is entirely possible that the Junior Week committee, wishing its Junior Week to excel all other previous Weeks in splendor and pomp, may go too far. The average Aggie student, though he may not be poverty-stricken, has no extra coin of the realm to spend in a year that has been a noteworthy one for general tightness of financial conditions.

Therefore, the committee will not take it amiss perhaps if the suggestion is made that they go easy in arranging entertainments that will cause unnecessary spending of money.

THE DUNHAM FUND.

The college does not often have the opportunity of making use of large funds for the establishment of scholarships or for special purposes that involve making the entire college course of the candidate and weigh the factors carefully. No matter how high a man's scholarship may be he has carried few or no activities during his college life he cannot be admitted to the fraternity. On the other hand, if a man is high in academic standing and has leadership he is dropped from the start.

There is a prevalent belief that the key should be given to those men who are excellent "men about town" and who would wear the key well with a good suit of clothes. The key really is a reward for hard and consistent effort in collegiate life.

WANT TO LEARN?

"All this means that the working man and woman sees the value of an education, and realizes that he can be more to them because of the increased cost in effort and hardship that they must expend to obtain it, whereas the college student has it easy.

The average college student is apt to think that theory becomes irksome; he wants actual business methods. He has had the working person for an opponent. He has had the actual business method and is most interested in theory.

Irvin's Wrong Conception.

"The average college man has two conceptions of the business man, both of which are wrong. In the first place the student is apt to look upon the business man as some sort of giant or magician, able to juggle factors in the market in a manner that will bring profit. In the second place, he is apt to consider the business man with some sort of contempt, looking upon him as a dollar chaser, interested only in making money. This idea is also wrong. The business man who has obtained his own education is apt to have it more

GET INTO ACTIVITIES

That the freshmen are distinctly falling down in going out for the different activities, seems to be the consensus of opinion among those who have had nothing to do with any of the activities that freshmen try out for.

The writer in talking with a couple of freshmen was told by them that some upperclassmen had advised them against going out for activities at all and concentrating on their studies instead. There is probably some truth in what the freshmen said, and as a partial answer to this matter the Honor Roll can be well taken.

Out of the men of the present senior class on the Honor Roll over two-thirds on the list are either in the very active class or active class. And out of the one-third that is very active in this college are two of the students having the highest marks in college. The same conditions hold true in the junior class, where one-half of the names on the list are very active and one-third active. So, freshmen who have the idea that going out for an activity means a lower grade in studies just glance over these figures and see if that rule holds very true.

DOUGLAS DAULY TO PUT MEN ON CINDER PATH SOON

Coach Daly intends to give his fleet-footed crew of track stars a taste of the cinder-path skirting the A. field as soon as the track is once more navigable. He thinks that next week may be the best time of the year, and will see as it is possible to give the men a taste daily down the path raising the temperature to the smoking point and lowering records right and left.

At the beginning of the year the coach considered that he had some good material in the freshman class and these new men have been trained down and put in good working condition and form, together with the veterans of other years and meets, a team that looks like a point-getter has moulded into form.

As the result of the cooperation of the student body in the raising of funds for the team, Manager C. H. Ferris has been enabled to arrange for a track meet between the Rhode Island State on Storrs on May 27. This proposition will give the team the advantage of running through the meet on familiar ground and will insure good officials for the meet. Two other meets have also been arranged. The team meets Mass. Aggie at Amherst on June 2 and Trinity at Harvard on June 3.

Coach Daly expects to go further than this, however. There is to be a meet held in Worcester, Mass. for the competition of New England college and he expects to pick six or seven men from the squad to enter this meet.

H. O. A. To Celebrate on St. Patrick's Day

"Mac" Says Local Lodge Will Honor Great Ancestor.

"Th' top of th' Marm'n' to ye!" This will be the countersign for Friday, March 17, when time in its ever-revolving cycle ushers in St. Patrick's Birthday, that day which never fails to bring joy to the many loyal sons of Erin. The local lodge, number 23, of the H. O. A. has arranged an extensive and elaborate program for this notable occasion and according to Edward McCullough, chairman of the executive committee, there will be no end to the big events of the day.

Mr. McCullough in relating his plans to a representative of the Campus said, "I expect every loyal son of theuld sod to do his duty and make this day one never to be forgotten in the annals of college history. A full line of St. Patrick's day baberbery, shamrocks and Irish confetti for the men and green cabbage rouge and lip sticks for the women will be on sale all day in Storrs 11. The proceeds will be given to the needy Irish of Palestine. Get your shillalahs in Will.

The new uniforms of the notables of our organization have arrived from the five and ten and will be worn at the next wake or fire for five dollars per man.

Promptly at ten in the morning the parade will start out from Storrs Hall and will traverse the important streets of the community. This will be a spectacle extravaganza as Chevalier Marcus J. McCarron will be marshal and the famed hat-band of New York will play. After the procession exercises will be held in the Armory where Walton Page Clark will speak on the "topic "What Ireland Means to Me" after which the ire will be planted by William O'Brien.

In the afternoon various teas and luncheons will be given to visiting notables in the lobby rooms with the big event of the day occurring at eight when the banquet will be held in the banquet chamber of Storrs Hall. A famous Boston caterer will officiate and covers will be laid for sixty. The hall has been appropriately decorated in green and all food served will harmonize as closely as possible to this scheme.

The toastmaster of the evening will be the Honorable Martin Ryan of Bridgeport. He will call upon the guests to raise a glass at seven bells when the gurgling of the soup will begin. The following extensive program has been arranged:

Quartet—Martin Ryan and Edward McCullough (both in baritone twice) "Erie Forever" and "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight;" Harry Krausow (alias Michael O'Flaherty) "Reminiscences of Killarney;" Thomas Donahoe—"When the Irish Went Over the Top;" Edward McCullough—"History of Our Order and Ode to St. Patrick;" Edward McCarroll—"Good Old Erin;" "Back to Old Erin.

The One Hundred Dollars

offered by the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston for the best answer to Mr. Edison's question, "Who Was John Hancock?" has been awarded to Leon V. Quigley, a student at the Worcester (Mass.) Polytechnic Institute. This answer, giving a correct, concise and comprehensive statement of the position occupied by John Hancock in American history, is printed below in full.

"Who Was John Hancock?"

JOHN HANCOCK was an American statesman and patriot. His signature is found on the oldest and most important documents of Massachusetts, and of the United States. He was the first signer of the Declaration of Independence and was the first Governor of Massachusetts.

John Hancock was born at Quincy, Massachusetts, in 1737. He graduated from Harvard College, and entering upon his uncle's business became a successful merchant in Boston. He gained much in social power and in wealth, being meanwhile greatly popular for his benevolence. He was in 1765-1772 a selectman of Boston and a member of the general court. With Samuel Adams he hailed the Massachusetts Whigs, and only escaped capture at Lexington and Concord by virtue of the valiant fight by the Minute Men on the "Nineteenth of April in '75."

John Hancock was subsequently known in various positions as President of the Continental Congress, as Major-General of the Massachusetts military forces, as President of the Constitutional Convention. He died at Quincy, Massachusetts, October eighth, 1793.

The historical position of John Hancock is unique in State and Nation. He wielded great political influence but was always liberal and public-spirited. His name is most prominent as a Whig leader during the American Revolution in such events as the Boston Massacre, the Boston Tea Party and the battles of Lexington and Concord. John Hancock signed his name first to the Declaration of Independence. He thus risked his own "life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness" that these privileges might be obtained for others to enjoy. To this end he "pledged his life, his fortune, and his sacred honor.

That he was popular and efficient may be judged from the fact that he was for ten years Governor of Massachusetts, being elected annually to this office by popular voice.

The Campus Philosopher

It has come to our attention that the co-ed has formed a new secret organization to be known as the Ground Hog Society. Will their totem be a woodchuck or a gracefully rounded-esausage?

Why start putting on your coats during the first verse of the Alma Mater?

Since certain of our friends have sworn off smoking the tobacco grower's situation in Conn. has become doubly critical. A spirit of patriotism should at least prompt all non-smokers to take up chewing.

AG TEACHERS WANTED

Prof. Gentry, Indicating Need of Teachers in Vocational Agriculture.

At the Ag Club lecture last Thursday night in Main Y Prof. C. B. Gen-ty spoke on the subject of Vocational Agriculture. He told of the work done by the teachers of Agriculture throughout the country, in the schools and out among the farmers. In his lecture he read the records made by the various club members in the state, one of whom is now earning his way thru C. A. C. with his club work.

In closing he told of the need of more Agricultural teachers all thru the country at wages running from $1800 a year up.

Members of the college and extension dept., in animal husbandry, and seven animal husbandry students attended the meeting of the New England Hereford Breeders Association at the Hotel Kimball, Springfield, last Friday.

Men of national and local promience were speakers at this meeting.

"The free kick did not mean anything in play," he added, "and its abolishment will improve the game and make it a more equal contest of strength of teams."

"Will Delay Games." Eugene, Ore., March 11.--"Shy" Huntington, coach of the University of Oregon football teams was not enthusiastic over the new rule adopted by the rules committee in New York today.

"This placing the ball in scrimmage for a single point will tend to delay the game," he said.

Meehan Favors Change.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 11.--Coach
John F. Meehan of the Syracuse University football team said this eventing he believes the scrimmage feature in the new football rules will benefit the game.

"It will now be a case of 11 men instead of one in the scoring after a touchdown," he said, "and that will certainly add interest to football."

To Be Congratulated.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 11.--Fred Luehring, athletic director at the University of Minnesota, when advised of the new rule governing the try for addditional point after touchdown, declared the rules committee is to be congratulated.

Yost Doesn't Favor It.

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 11.--Coach Fielding H. Yost of the University of Michigan today declared his opinion that the change in football rules em-inating the free trial for goal after a touchdown "would be of no benefit to the game."

"I cannot see where football will be made any more popular through this action," Coach Yost said. "It will have a tendency to make victories hang upon a single point. There will be more one point victories and fewer ties and the element of chance will enter largely into close contests. Teams scoring an extra point will have about one chance of three of scoring an additional point as it is probable most teams will resort to attempts at goal field on these occasions.

Hats at Notre Dame.

In regard to the change in the shift ruling, the opinion of some football men was that it would tend toward putting a damper on the playing style of some of the leading western college elevens, especially that of Notre Dame, whose weird shifts have puzzled opposing teams for several years.

The initial kickoff regulation was altered so that the side winning the toss elected the goal, the other team having the choice of either kicking or receiving. Heretofore when one captain elected to defend a goal the other side was obliged to kick off.

In Case of Darkness.

The darkness rule was altered to allow the referee, with the consent of both captains, to decide between the shorten the fourth period or both periods in the second half. Heretofore a shortening of the time previously agreed upon could be made only before the game began.

Rules governing substitutions were changed so that a player cannot return to the field in the same half in which he is removed. It is not necessary that he should return at the beginning of a period.

One Man in Motion.

The "one man in motion" regulation was rewritten so that any player leaving the scrimmage line before play begins, must be at least five yards behind the line when the ball is snap-

No action was taken on the proposal to make the numbering of players mandatory.

The personnel of the rules committee was not changed. E. K. Hall was re-elected chairman and Walter Camp, secretary and rules editor.

"Hub" Huebel Approves.

San Francisco, March 11.--Approval of the change in football rules was voiced here today by H. H. (Hub) Huebel, San Francisco, former University of Michigan star, now president of the Pacific Coast Football Association. The association had instructed Andy Smith, University of Oregon coach, who is representing the Pacific Coast at the New York rules committee meeting, to vote for such a change, Huebel said.

"Will Improve Game."

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.--Clade
"Tiny" Thornhill, former assistant coach of Centre College, and at presentant coach of Rollins College, said the change in football rules eliminating the free trial for a goal after a touchdown, "will make a very good rule."
TO WALK OR NOT TO WALK
THAT IS THE QUESTION
(by an Anti-Flapper)

Spring’s awakening is at hand. So near is it, in fact, that we lean forward highly metaphorically speaking, with ears alert for an army whistle at “chow-call” (to catch the first “tweet, sweet” of the “Wallaboo” bird heralding the birth of the new season. The charged atmosphere, with its invigorating flavor, fires us with a keener interest in mundane affairs. Its exhilarating effect arouses in us a desire to roam these Mansfield Hills and explore hidden treasures of natural beauty there.

As spring approaches we begin to revive our latent memories of pleasant strolls on sunny Sunday afternoons. We begin to realize that such places as “Codfish Falls,” the “Pink Cemetery” and the “Ravine” really exist; and that the present Sundays could be well utilized for walking trips to any one of these spots. Finally we come to the conclusion that a companion is frivouls but fascinating sex might not prove to be a wholly undesirable element to the above enterprise.

Now Codfish Falls is not a romantic name. How it happens to bear such an appellation is a mystery. The spot itself, however, can be highly recommended as a sequestered nook with a picturesque background suitable for sitting near and listening to the splash of the quiet murmuring of the pines. Or, if we are especially acute, we may be charmed by the silvery tinkle of the “blue bells,” the mooing of the “ew ladies,” and the bark of a distant dogwood tree. Again we may not care for any one of these forest sounds but have ears for only one voice, a sweet and musical voice, a maiden’s voice.

Although we entertain all these pleasant thoughts of favorite haunts we are perplexed by a problem. If there are ten husky “Aggies” for each and every “Fair Coed” (to use a common but apt term) how under the sun are they all going to enjoy the afore mentioned outdoor sport. It is a trifling matter to say the least and we can only leave it at that but not before recommending the problem for discussion at the next meeting of the “Ground Hogs.”

SHAKESPEAREAN CLUB GIVES HOUSE PARTY

The first House Party that has ever been held at Connecticut was given by the College Shakespearean Club in their house Saturday evening March 11.

The dancing began at 8 o’clock and continued till the intermission at 10:30. After refreshments had been served dancing was resumed and continued till the strains of “Home Sweet Home” brought the evening’s entertainment to a close.

The patrons and patronesses for the dance were: Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Lamson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Manchester, and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bauer. The Peerless Orchestra of Willimantic furnished the music.

FEED MERCHANTS PRAISE EXTENSION WORKERS

Considerable space and favorable editorial comment has been given by the March number of “Flour and Feed,” the Journal devoted to the interests of the flour and feed trade, to the addresses delivered by P. Mehl, of the extension department, and I. G. Davis, professor of agricultural economics, at the mid-winter meeting of the Eastern Federation of Feed Merchants, held at Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 14-15.

“It is probably the most constructive address ever delivered before a feed merchants’ conference,” is the editorial tribute paid to Paul Mehl’s address on “The Cost of Doing Business.” This address is in reality a report of his experiences and findings during the survey being conducted by the college in cooperation with the Eastern Federation of Feed Merchants, to determine the cost factors and cost percentage in the retail distribution of feed. Mr. Mehl has done considerable field work among feed dealers as a means of gathering the information and statistics for his subject. Another article in the same paper states that Mr. Mehl’s article “was by far the best, most authoritative, and most comprehensive talk ever delivered before a gathering of feed merchants.”

In his talk, “Efficient Distribution of Feeds,” Professor Davis explained the aims and purposes of the survey being conducted by the college and the Federation. “His talk was most enlightening, and made a deep impression on the feed men,” is the praise accorded Prof. Davis speech in “Flour and Feed.”

A car load of North Dakota horses, sold at auction in Willimantic on March 7. This is the first event of its kind in this vicinity, and is of consider­able interest among feed dealers as a means of gathering the information and statistics for his subject. Another article in the same paper states that Mr. Mehl’s article “was by far the best, most authoritative, and most comprehensive talk ever delivered before a gathering of feed merchants.”

The way a co-ed at the University of Iowa wears her galoshes is an indication of whether or not she is engaged. If she buckles them nearly she has already been the victim of Cupid’s arrows; if she wears them loose she is still a flapper.

Figures from the University of California recently published show that there were 517 students dropped from the university during the first semester on account of poor scholarship, and this number is 141 less than was the number disqualified during the same period last year.

The girls at Northwestern University have very emphatically denied the responsibility for the poor showing of the college in athletics. They have even gone so far as to vote not to accept dates from any one not in athletics.

THE CONNCTICUT CAMPUS
The team once more came to the front when they lined up against the Dean Academy girls. The scores on both sides were confined to the forwards. This shows the team-work displayed. The Connecticut girls piled up a score of 27 points while Dean Academy was accumulating 19.

The Connecticut girls were clearly off form in the contest with Meriden. The Connecticut girls piled up a score of 27 points while Dean Academy was accumulating 19. The team experienced another defeat when it crossed swords with the bridgeport girls. The game was fast from beginning to end with Connecticut leading in the first half. The Bridgeport girls came back strong in the second half, however, and finally won out by an 18 to 11 point margin.
