ALL OUT FOR THE INTERFRATERNITY DANCE MARCH 24
VOL. IX STORRS CONNECTICUT, FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1923 NO. 22

TWO YEAR MEN WILL GRADUATE NEXT WEEK

PROGRAM OF EXERCISES ANNOUNCED BY CLASS

Dr. Sidney B. Haskell, Director of Massachusetts Agricultural Experiment Station will Deliver Graduation Address.

The program for the graduation of the 1923 class of the School of Agriculture has been completed and arrangements made for the exercises which will be held on Friday and Saturday, March 23 and 24. The graduation exercises will be held in the local church on Saturday morning, March 24, at eleven o'clock. Dr. Sidney B. Haskell, director of the Massachusetts Experiment Station, will deliver the graduation address.

On Friday evening at seven-thirty o'clock the Two-Year men will hold a reception in Hawley Armory. A luncheon will be served in the College Dining Hall at one o'clock following the graduation exercises on Saturday.

SENIOR CLASS PLANS FOR COMMENCEMENT

President Bemont Chooses Commencement Committees.—Plans to Make Exercises This Year Best in History of Connecticut.

Plans are already in progress to make this year’s commencement a bigger and better one than any preceding commencement. Leslie Bemont, president of the senior class, has already chosen three commencement committees. They are as follows:

The executive committee consists of Bernard Juralewicz, chairman, Paul Reveler, George Hilldrig and Harold Bolan; the class day committee consists of James Mullan, chairman, John Oberly and Miss Emma Book; the cap and gown committee consists of Ralph Collins, chairman, William Baxter and Miss Margaret Dunn.

Bernard Juralewicz, chairman of the executive committee, will take charge of all the committees and if he finds it necessary, more committees will be chosen. The dance committee will be chosen in the near future.

WHAT THE CAPTAIN SAYS

"Kid" Brundage, captain of the team says: "There is a fine lot of material out this year and the prospects look exceedingly bright for a successful season."

3,900 STUDENTS OUTSIDE OF CONNECTICUT FOR COLLEGE TRAINING LAST YEAR

STATEMENT MADE BY SECRETARY MEREDITH TO STATE LEGISLATIVE APPROPRIATIONS COMMITTEE

Discussion Arises from Hearing on Bill Calling for $815,000 for New Construction at Connecticut.—Joseph Alsop, a Trustee of the College, Testifies as to Cramped Conditions.

With Yale at the point where it says how many freshmen may enter that university and Wesleyan and Trinity approaching the same stage, we are facing a situation that is serious," stated Mr. A. B. Meredith, secretary of the State Board of Education to the Legislative appropriations committee, according to an article that recently appeared in the "Hartford Courant." Mr. Meredith also stated that 3,900 students of Connecticut went outside of Connecticut last year for college training during the past year.

The article continues, in part, as follows:

A. B. Meredith, secretary of the state board of education, told the legislative appropriations committee yesterday that 3,900 Connecticut students went outside of Connecticut last year for college training. With Yale now at the point where it says how many freshmen may enter that university and Wesleyan and Trinity approaching the same stage, we face a situation which is serious," he said.

FEAR DEPARTURE FROM AGRICULTURE

The statement was made following a discussion before the committee of what was considered by some to be a tendency at the Connecticut Agricultural College to branch out too sharply from the teaching of agricultural subjects.

House Chairman Keil of the committee asked Secretary Meredith if he advocated an expansion of the training course at Storrs along lines of other than agricultural.

Mr. Meredith said he was not prepared to say. He pointed out, however, that under the statutes, the Connecticut Agricultural College has authority now to go as far as it likes as long as it does not exclude training in agriculture and the mechanic arts. He pointed out that some students go to college for two years and then finish their college education at one of the larger colleges or institutions.

The discussion arose during a hearing on a bill carrying appropriations of about $816,000 for new construction at Storrs College. Several members of the committee indicated by their questions throughout the hearing that they were interested in determining if the scope of the college should be limited or expanded.

Joseph W. Alsop of Avon, a trustee of the college, testified that the college was so cramped for space that it was necessary to house thoroughly bred calves in chicken coops.

Senator Chairman Rogers of the committee pointed out that the state’s first obligation was to provide maintenance expenses for the insane and feeble-minded. He said that there was a waiting list of 300 at the Mansfield State Hospital and Training School. After these maintenance expenses had been taken care of, the committee would consider propositions involving capital investments.

Mr. Alsop replied that he wished every corporation was in as good shape as the State of Connecticut, financially. He said that the farmers of New England had been having such "rough living" that they had come to regard the pursuit of agriculture as merely an existence rather than a living. They needed encouragement and wanted the state to say. He pointed out that the state had been exceedingly liberal to the people to pay for the maintenance of this institution.

"Would you advise the state to bond itself to pay for new construction of this character?" Chairman Rogers asked.

Mr. Alsop replied that a reasonable bond issue would be in accordance with a sound business policy.

FAVORS RAISING TAXES

"Would you ask the people to pay more taxes?" asked the chairman.

"If necessary for good business management, yes," came the answer from Mr. Alsop. However, he said it was not necessary to pay for the state highways day by day. In Avon, where he is first selectman, he said, the expenses are permitted to accumulate until gradually worked down by an annual surplus created by the town laying 2 mills taxes more than needed each year for its current expenses. He thought the state could well afford to follow the same procedure for two years and then finish their college education at one of the larger colleges or institutions.

Mr. Alsop is a former Eta Lambda member. He is one of the former service men who are interested in organizing a club in connection with the Interfraternity Dance on next Monday evening. All ex-service men, either students or faculty are urged to be present at this meeting.

EX-SERVICE MEN

There will be a meeting of the ex-service men who are interested in organizing a club in the former Eta Lambda Sigma fraternity room in the basement of Storrs Hall at eight o’clock next Monday evening. All ex-service men, either students or faculty are urged to be present at this meeting.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR INTERFRATERNITY DANCE

DANCE PROGRAM MADE PUBLIC THIS WEEK

Peerless Orchestra to Furnish Music for Seventeen Dances.—Two Moonlights.—Advance Indications are that Affair will be Well Attended.

Plans for the Interfraternity Dance, the first of this nature to be held on the Hill, are rapidly nearing completion and everything indicates that the affair of March 24 will be well attended by members of the various fraternities.

The Peerless Orchestra has been secured for the occasion and will render the necessary syncopation for a program of seventeen dances, including two moonlights. In order to get in the required number of dances the first number will be played at eight o’clock and the final strains of the last dance will float thru the hall at eleven-thirty.

The committee in charge wishes to again remind those who are to attend that dances are to be exchanged only by members of different fraternities.

MEN’S GLEE CLUB OFF ON TWO DAY TRIP

Will Sing in North Haven and Guilford.—First Extensive Trip Ever Taken by College Singers.

Connecticut’s Men’s Glee Club will appear in North Haven and Guilford on a two day concert trip on Friday and Saturday of this week.

Twelve men and Mrs. H. D. Newton as director will make the trip. Transportation will be by automobile, the club leaving the hill on Friday afternoon. Oscar D’Essopo, ’25, will be the reader. The first concert will be given in North Haven on Friday night, and the second in Guilford on Saturday night. This will be the second concert given by the club this year, and the first time the club has ever taken a trip longer than one night.

CAPT. C. R. CRIM TO COACH
AGGIE BALL TOSSERS

Connecticut Nine Has Competent Supervisor

Connecticut has been fortunate in securing the services of Captain C. R. Crim to coach the baseball team for the coming season and the squad is already hard at work under his supervision.

Captain Crim has had much experience both in the playing and coaching ends of the national pastime and from all reports excelled in both lines. He is a pitcher in the big game and was rated among the best in the American Army abroad. The Captain played for four years on the Indiana State University team and was captain in his last year. He also played on the 90th Division team of the United States Army in 1918. In 1920 and 1921 Captain Crim was coach of the team of the American troops in Germany which won the championship of Europe by defeating all other army and naval teams across the Atlantic.

In making a statement over the outlook for the season Captain Crim said, "There is good form being shown in the indoor work but we need to get outside as soon as possible. Several men who have signed up have not yet reported and it is necessary that all men going out for the squad should report as soon as possible in order to take advantage of indoor training."

EARLY WORKOUTS AT HAWLEY ARMY

LARGE SQUAD SEASON

MANY VETERANS AND NEW PLAYERS PROMISE
MUCH MATERIAL TO CARRY OUR HARD SCHEDULES

Practice Starts in Earnest Following Close of Basketball Season.—Captain C. R. Crim Will Coach Team.—Captain Brundage Will Fill Old Berth in Garden.—Many Battery Candidates Among New Men.

With the close of the basketball season last Friday, baseball at once began to occupy a prominent place in Aggie sport life. Although batting practice has been going on for at least two weeks, it was not until last Saturday that the work began in earnest, and at present fully fifty men are at work daily in Hawley Armory in preparation for outdoor practice which three year veteran and captain for two seasons, will occupy his usual position behind the bat and his famous whip will not doubt discourage many budding base-stealers during the coming season.

Alexander May Play

At present it is uncertain whether "Louie" Alexander will be able to participate in the national pastime or not but if "Ale" gets into the game Connecticut will be assured of a good pitcher or infielder and also another bad man with the stick. At bat Alexander is a sure and hard hitter and can be depended to come thru when hits mean runs.

Robert "Mammy" Laubscher
Outfielder and Moundman

Robert "Mammy" Laubscher has been a sure and hard hitter and can be depended to come thru when hits mean runs.

Veteran Backstop

Philip N. "Phil" Lord
Outfielder and Twirler

Philip N. "Phil" Lord has been a sure fielder and wielded a wicked war club which will lead this year in the Aggie attack. "Socco" Metelli, another veteran is also hard in training for the varsity and is equally good at either the initial sack or behind the bat, having played in both positions with the same degree of skill. "Jim" also has a good batting eye and will help to make up the Aggie "Murderer's Row." "Phil" Lord, another twirler who has done good service as a mound artist, will be out in a few days and will bolster the pitching staff considerably.

Regulars Out

Also from the team of last year are "Bill" Makofski, "Snappy" Ganem and "Billy" O'Brien. All three men held regular berths on the varsity and should be strong contenders for the varsity again this season. Makofski played as both outfielder and infielder with equal ease and seems at home in any position including pitcher. Ganem and O'Brien both played on the windy corner last year and are sure fielders.

From the subs of last year Dickens, Nelson, Wells and Minnum are candidates for the pitching staff, with Ballock and Donahue out for the receiving end. In the infield Feldman, Cohen and Eddy will make strong bids for a permanent position. The outfield (Cont. on page 5 col. 2)
In the last game of the basketball season of 1922-23 the Connecticut Aggies sent the Albany Law College back to Albany under a 32 to 13 defeat. The game was the most interesting game seen on the Aggie court this year as the Albany team did not display a grade of basketball that was fast enough to cause the home team to exert themselves and consequently the Aggies did not roll up the score that they were capable of.

There were only a few bright spots in the game, when Balock put in four in the first half and Radovich got going in the last part of the first half, and the first few minutes of the second half. For Connecticut the leading scorers were Balock with five baskets from the floor, Radovich with three from the floor and a like number from the fifteen foot line; and O'Brien with nine from the free throw line.

Albany was able to gather but three baskets from the floor, most of their points being successful free throws by Burns who made good seven out of eight.

The game at the start was fairly evenly contested, Burns tying up the score with a field basket soon after Krasow broke the tie with a double, and the game with three baskets in a row by Balock then put Connecticut on the long end of an 8—2 score. Two foul goals by O'Brien made the score 10—2. Burns then dropped in one from the fifteen foot line and Petey made another basket from the floor. At this point Burns had made good three points of the five from the floor line. Burns ended the half with Connecticut in the lead, 15 to 6.

In the second half Albany started off the scoring when Burns made good a free try. Radovich then put in a double, and soon after added another which did not count because Albany was holding. O'Brien made good one of the two shots from the fifteen foot line. Fouls were rather numerous on both sides and for the next few minutes the game was a foul shooting contest between O'Brien and Burns, with the honors about even. At last the spell was broken when Malkowski put in a basket from scrimmage, and a foul shot by Burns, Radovich added two more points by a long shot that dropped through clean. Two more foul shots by O'Brien and a field basket by Petey brought the score up to 29—11. At this point O'Brien and Radovich fell back and were only a few of the score up for Connecticut.—Many Fouls Called for Connecticut

AGGIES FIVE CLOSES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

MAJORITY OF GAMES WON DESPITE HANDICAPS

Guard, and "Louie" Alexander, Star Forward, Lost by Graduation.

Prospects Good for Next Season.

Friday night's victory over Albany Law closed a successful season for the Connecticut basketball team. Considering the tremendous handicaps under which the players labored, the team did remarkably well. For a greater part of the season there was no full time coach available and repeated injuries kept some of the best players out of the game.

After the game with West Point, which resulted in a disastrous defeat, Coach Tasker resigned, and as yet no regular coach has been appointed to take his place. Physical Director Gager has been in charge, and has helped out a great deal, but owing to illness and the demands of his many other duties, he has been unable to give the team the amount of attention necessary. "Louie" Alexander, all-New England forward of last season, has been out of the game since the victory over Holy Cross. During his absence three games with Brown, Rhode Island State and St. Michaels were lost because of the lack of a capable foul shooter. "Louie" has played his last game for the Blue and White and his graduation will mark the passing of the player who has done more than any other to give Connecticut the prestige she now enjoys in the basketball world.

During the season Connecticut won from her old rivals, Trinity twice and Rhode Island once, also defeating Holy Cross, Albany Law, Harvard and New Hampshire State. The games with West Point, Springfield, Wesleyan, Brown, St. Michaels, and one with Rhode Island State were lost. The Aggie quintet chalked up eight victories to seven defeats, scoring 430 points to 433 for the opponents. The game of the lost went by a small margin while of particular merit was the victory over Harvard for the second and consecutive year.

Next year the coach will have to develop a new machine. "Phil" Lord, captain of this year's team and the finest stationary guard seen on the local floor in years, and Alexander are the last of the old guard to go.

The new team will be built around Malkowski, and Balock. Malkowski alternates between forward and center, doing good work in either position, accounting for more points than any other player. Balock was the most consistent player of the team, never losing his head and working hard at the game.

BASKETBALL
In looking back over the record of the basketball season just passed it can be easily seen that there is no great need for the shedding of tears. More than half of the games have been turned into connecticut victories, and such a record is far from meagre for any college that plays opponents of the calibre of the teams that have opposed the Blue and White during the past season.

During the greater part of the season the team has labored under handicaps that were far from small. Coaching troubles arose almost at the beginning of the season and brought about unsettled conditions. Injuries and sickness soon invaded the ranks of the hooper and handed out another setback. Despite these difficulties the Connecticut quintet needs to offer no apologies or take a back seat in the ranks of intercollegiate basketball.

The game last Friday night that rung the curtain down on the 1922-23 season for Connecticut also ended the intercollegiate basketball career of two noted Connecticut players—Captain Philip N. Lord and Louis A. Alexander. Both men deserve much praise for the good work they have carried on in making Connecticut basketball history during the past four seasons. Maurice "Moe" Daly, who has been among the substitutes many times and who will graduate in June, deserves credit for his hard work on the teams that have represented Connecticut in basketball.

GI RLS' G L EE C L U B
Once again we find the female portion of the institution starting off in a new field of endeavor. This time it is along musical lines and so we have the first concert of the year given by the Girls' Glee Club in Hawley Armory tonight. This is indeed a novelty for Connecticut. Moreover it bespeaks of an awakening among the girls that has been only a dream for a long time past. Truly they now have and have always had much good ability, but most of it has had dormant as far as the general college was concerned. The new era is bringing about changes that are good indicators as well as good benefactors to the institution and to the girls themselves. Such good work is deserving of the best support from all of the co-eds and from every other individual who is interested in supporting the college.

POIN T S OF INTEREST VISITED BY ENGINEERS

WEEK TRIP IN NEW YORK PROVES INSTRUCTIVE
—White Star Liner "Majestic" and Cunard Liner "Tyrrhenia" are Inspected from Keel to Crow's Nest.

During the week just passed eight of the students enrolled in the Mechanical Engineering course made an inspection trip to New York under the supervision of Professor A. H. Dresser. Leaving the campus on Monday afternoon, March 5, at five o'clock, the party motored to New London and then on to the big city by boat. A demonstration of lighting and lighting equipment was studied.

Tuesday afternoon the works of the Westinghouse Electric Company in Harrison, New Jersey, where the Matza electric lamps are made, was the center of interest. Here much almost human machinery was seen in operation and the process of manufacture of the lamps was studied from start to finish. This factory can turn out about thirty-five thousand bulbs of any size in a day.

The following morning the offices of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company were visited. Here much was learned about long distance operation, wiring, signal systems and other details connected with the business that was of interest to the engineers. The party was treated to luncheon in the dining hall that is owned and operated by the company for the benefit of its employees. A cost of about thirty cents for regular dinners is charged.

In the afternoon the laboratories and museum of the Western Electric Company were seen. Here several demonstrations and testing processes were studied as were the developments in the telephone and other similar electrical devices, the chief of which was the sea phones that were used during the World War for detecting submarines.

Thursday morning the White Star Liner "Majestic" was visited and studied from stern to stern. This vessel of 6,100 tons, 555 feet long and 100 feet wide was designed and built by Germany prior to the World War and was known as the "Bismark."

Friday morning the "Tyrrhenia," one of the new Cunard line vessels, was visited. All parts of this ship were seen, explained to and studied by the students.

NORTHEASTERN MEET
TO BE HELD MARCH 26

Personnel of Squad Not Yet Announced by Coach Daly—Connecticut’s First Indoor Intercollegiate Meet.

On Thursday, March 26, Coach “Steve” Daly’s track team will journey to Boston to meet the track team of the Northeastern University. This will be the first time in the history of the college that Connecticut has ever had an indoor track meet.

The fact that Northeastern University has recently defeated Mass. Aggie in a dual track meet, does not dishearten Coach Daly in the least.

The interclass track meet recently run off disclosed some very good material among the freshmen and from all indications, Connecticut ought to come home with the bacon. About thirty men will make the trip, but just who will be taken has not been revealed by Coach Daly.

The dog is considered the best friend of man, and in the United States he is a pet and guardian of the household. In other countries, dogs are used as beasts of burden but it remained for J. Bradford Ricketts to make the dog a partner in business. “Brad” and Rusty, a faithful Airedale, are in the “picking up” business and, from the looks of the “bone yard” around the Phi Mu Delta house, “Brad” ought to realize an enormous return from his product.

Newcomers With Ability

“Tex” Cavitt, ’25, and “Gramp” White, ’25, both men who have transferred to Connecticut since last year are also out for the twirling staff and the each has played college ball for their former alma mater, it is thought that they will give a good account of themselves in Aggie diamond circles.

In addition to the number of upper classmen who have reported, there is also a strong aggregation from the freshmen who have presented some likely material which will make the contest for regular positions keen and a matter of much speculation.

Many Candidates

Battery candidates among new men are Mohalay, Cavitt and Ende, pitchers, and Seymour, catcher. A number of men are out for infield places and among them are Ahoorn, Moore, Nelson, Wardle, Van Meter, Allard, Lovers, Fitzgerald, Duggan and Clark second; Radovich, Gilbert and Filmer, short. For the garden positions the contestants are Casteel, McCallum, Holtz, Donovan, Moreland and Wegher.

While the season is yet in its infancy and there has been no actual workout of the team, it is the general concensus of opinion on the Hill that with Captain Crim as a coach and with the abundance of excellent material on hand that a successful season is ahead for the Aggie horse-hide chasers.

CHURCH SUPPER WELV ATTENDED

Students, Faculty and Friends Attend Informal Affair and Discuss Local Situations.

Following a supper that was given in the local church parlors last Wednesday night, topics relating to church and student co-operation were discussed by the members and associate members of the church together with other members of the student body and faculty.

Emphasis was laid upon the fact that the church was endeavoring to get in closer touch with every member of the student body, and that the general sentiment among the students toward the church was improving.

Mention was made of the work that the church has been doing during the year and the recognition that this work is receiving throughout the United States and other countries on both sides of the Atlantic. Near the close of the evening’s program a quartet composed of Messrs. Farrell, Tiebout, Bates and Ahern, rendered two selections. The dinner was prepared under the supervision of Mr. L. B. Crandall.

“Shadows,” an interesting melodrama, starring Lon Cheney, will be the picture shown Saturday evening in Hawley Armory. This is one of the best pictures of the year, and has been well received at other places. The usual Saturday night dancing will follow.

The Best Business Career

Is what every ambitious senior is thinking about at the present time. Life insurance is one of the three leading businesses of this country, yet the field is comparatively under-developed. Only 7 per cent of the economic value of human life in the United States is covered by insurance. This gives an idea of the big field still to be worked, especially business insurance for firms and corporations.

As to remuneration: Reports of college graduates who have entered business indicate that life insurance is at the very top as a source of income. Now is the time for you to consider what you are going to do after graduation. If you are ambitious and willing to work hard and are interested to know about life insurance, address

FROSH WIN CLASS COURT TITLE BY ONE GAME
TWO-YEAR FIVE WINS SECOND PLACE
Keen Rivalry Throughou lt Season.—Juniors Have Hard Luck and Fail to Win a Single Game.

The inter-class basketball season has come to an end and the speculative chances of each class have been determined by the results. The freshmen won the series, winning seven games and losing one. Next in order was the School of Agriculture with six wins and two defeats. The seniors failed to maintain the prestige of other years but came out third, winning five games and losing three. The sophomores squeezed out two victories but tallied fourth by losing six games.

Last but not least were the juniors who played an uphill game all season. Many times during the season victory was snatched away from them, and the loss of all the games is against their standing.

Keen Interest Shown
The interest in the inter-class series was maintained throughout the season, and as in other years the series has given the coaching staff an opportunity to look over material for the varsity. There was keen rivalry between the teams of the five classes and this rivalry lent energy and pep to the games. The freshmen and the School of Agriculture ran close together during the season and if it had not been for one defeat at the hands of the seniors the School of Agriculture would have tied for first place. Until the last game was played Monday night no one was certain of the outcome of the series. The sophomores-freshman game in which the freshmen were victorious decided the series in their favor.

two more points to their score by way of a field basket by Clark. It was his last official act in the game for on the next play he was removed on four personal fouls. He was soon followed by De Graff who went out by the same method. Radovich shot three fouls out of the four shots and the game was over with the score board reading Connecticut 32, Albany 13.

The guarding of Captain Phil Lord was one of the features of the game. The blond boy who has played varsity guard for four years made Friday night one of his gala nights. The best the Albany forwards were able to do was to score one basket between them and that was a long shot. Phil is the best standing guard that ever attended C. A. C. and his work has been one of the main reasons why Connecticut has been out in front in the basketball world for the past few years. He has made an admirable captain during the past year. In spite of all sorts of adversities, he has been able to keep the team together and fighting despite the fact that the five has been handicapped by physical injuries to various players and the Windsor Locks lad had to have incorporated the duties of coach quite a good deal of the time. He will be sadly missed in the years to come.

other player in the season just closed. Balock has played both guard and forward but with his keen eye for the basket and clever floor work, there is little doubt but that his regular position is forward. A brilliant player in storms but with a tendency to be erratic, Krasow showed great improvement during the season, and under a capable coach should make a good running mate for Balock. In the last few games O'Brien had a chance to show his wares and with the brand of basketball he displayed should have little difficulty in winning a berth on next season's outfit. "Billie" also made good in his attempts from the fifteen foot mark. There is a wealth of material in the freshman class, with Radovich, Gustafson, Bit good and Seymour all available for next year's team. From this array of talent a five will no doubt be developed that will be up to the standards of former years.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS

CO-ED FORMAL

MUCH TALKED OF DANCE COMING ON APRIL 20

Armory will be Scene of Dinner Dance and Other Novel Attractions That Evening.—Committee Guards Activities with Great Secrecy.

Shrouded in mystery, the Co-Ed Formal is approaching with an unusually brilliant outlook. At a special meeting of the Girls’ Social Committee, March 13, at Holcomb Hall, general plans were discussed but the secrets were carefully guarded. Only the social committee, whose chairman is Miss Isabel Modell, and assistants appointed from each class, will be fortunate enough to know all beforehand.

Since the dormitory will be far too small to harbor the possible sixty couples who will attend, the Armory has been definitely secured for the evening of April 20th. The affair will be of a quintessence dinner dance type, and plans to make it a marked improvement over last year, are under way. In order to carry out the breezy outdoor idea, the girls have decided to wear simple evening gowns and the boys will have an opportunity to introduce their Junior Week white flannels. The eight piece Peerless Orchestra has been engaged to play from eight until eleven-thirty, and although the number of dances is still to be considered, each one will have a place on an individual and original program. After careful consideration it has been thought best to limit the feminine attendance to the co-eds; the girls hope to make the dance a yearly tradition and it is hoped that this action will be taken in the right spirit.

INTERCLASS CO-ED SCHEDULE OUT SOON

Next on the Girls’ athletic program comes bowling and baseball and lastly tennis. Each class will probably have a bowling team, and the tournament will be arranged as soon as possible. Last year it ended in a tie between the freshmen and sophomores. The baseball schedule is not ready for print yet, but each class will be represented. The class of ’24 were the winners at baseball last year. The first co-ed tennis tournament was arranged last year but due to a crowded schedule it was never finished. There are many enthusiasts among the freshmen and evidently there will be quite a little competition this year.

Miss Mildred Gay, ’22, was a visitor on the Hill over the week end. She is teaching in Windsor.

GIrlS’ QUINTET LOSES FINAL GAME OF SEASON

New Haven Normal Wins by Count of 38-10

On Saturday, March 10, the girls’ team went to New Haven and played their last and hardest game. Although the score ended very much in favor of the New Haven girls, 38-10, our girls did their best and should be congratulated on their splendid defense.

The opponents had been playing under boys’ rules all the season, while this is the only game our girls have played under those rules. Dr. Arnold’s school is a normal school of gymnastics and in major studies are athletic. The girls are always pictureque in their red and white uniforms. Miss Clark was their star player.

OUR EASY PAYMENT PLAN IS GOING BIG

There’s lots of young fellows like yourself that long to get out on the open road with a motorcycle and enjoy big days of this regular out door sport.
COST? Less than that of an average show. Some of these fellows have investigated our easy pay-as-you-ride plan on new and rebuilt motorcycles. As soon as we told them how easy it was for them to own a motorcycle on this plan, it didn’t take them long to pick out their motorcycle.
Come on over tonight. Here in this big stock of ours is your motorcycle. You can select your machine and begin to ride this week.
