AG CLUB COMMITTEE AND DEPT. HEADS MEET

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERSHIP

Profs Voice Approval of Ag Club in Increasing Interest Among Students.—Smoker to be Held After Easter.

A joint meeting of the heads of the Agricultural Departments of the College and active "Ag" men of the student body, took place in the Armory Lecture Room, Thursday evening. This meeting was the result of a previous conference held in President Beach's office by a small group. At the first meeting a committee was appointed to make a report on how the Agricultural Club should function to be of the greatest service to the students and the College.

Mr. Clarence R. Pobst, chairman of the committee reported that the members of the committee were resolved that the Agricultural Club is necessary on the Hill. The committee thought we should obtain new members, plan a schedule for next year, and elect to office men really interested in the future of the Club. The meeting was presided over by Professor Richard Dodge, who made valuable suggestions. It was generally admitted that the "Ag" Club had failed to fully function this year due to lack of interest.

Professor William F. Kirkpatrick expressed his opinion in the statement: "I think the Agricultural Club should be the best and biggest activity on the Hill." Professor George H. Lamson, Jr., pointed out that the "Ag" Club was a desirable means of advertising the College and it should exert a large influence throughout the State.

Plans were made for a wide-awake, live wire program to get "Ag" men behind the Club. First, a varied and interesting program of meetings should be made for next year. These would contain informal discussions, lectures by outside experts and members of the faculty, educational movies and social evenings. Professor Arthur G. Skinner said, "I can obtain many educational movies at a low cost, and would be willing to do

ALPHA LAMBDA ALPHA INAUGURATES TRADITION

FIRST UNDERCLASS DEBATE TO BE HELD IN MAY

Winner of Freshman-Sophomore Contest Will Receive Award from Debating Fraternity.—Contest to be Held During First College Assembly in May.

A freshman-sophomore debate will be established as a tradition at Connecticut this year. Alpha Lambda Alpha, honorary debating fraternity, has practically completed plans for the first debate, which will probably take place during the first college assembly in May. Teams from each class will be chosen, preferably from men who are not members of Alpha Lambda Alpha, and who have never participated in intercollegiate contests. The debating fraternity will offer a trophy, which, according to President Joseph L. Rivkin will probably be a bronze shield. This shield will be hung in a suitable place, and each year the date and the number of the class winning the debate that year will be inscribed on the shield. After the first debate this year, the fraternity plans to hold the contest at a college assembly in late autumn, so that material shaping up in the class debate will be available for the varsity debates.

The presidents of the two classes involved are requested to bring up the subject at the next meeting, and perhaps have a class manager of debate and a team member of the two classes chosen. The president of the class, who is really manager of the debate, should cooperate with the class, and the two teams have just been chosen, so the class managers can be sent to the meeting. In regard to the coaching of the teams, it is probably possible to have Mr. Christoph, the varsity coach, supervise the work, and members of Alpha Lambda Alpha will gladly aid the class debaters.

SECOND SEMESTER PLEDGE DAY NEXT MONDAY

Men Will Report to Armory for Bids at Five O'clock.—No Silence Period.

Freshmen who are to receive bids to the various fraternities on the Hill at the close of the second semester will report to Hawley Armory on Monday, March 26, at five o'clock. In the presence of the Mediator, these men will sign or return their bids unsigned, after which they will go directly to the room or house of the fraternity they choose and receive their pledge pins. No silence period will be observed for the reason that a few men only will receive bids, and the competition among the fraternities is not so great as during the first semester rushing season.

SQUAD CUT UNTIL OUT-DOOR PRACTICE STARTS

THIRTY-THREE MEN CONTINUE INDOOR WORK

Veterans Rounding Into Form.—New Men Show up Well.—Battery Candidates Getting Good Practice.—Batting Practice Occupies Much Time.

Altho the condition of the athletic field prevents out-door practice, the Connecticut ball-throwers are at work daily in the interior of Hawley Armory in preparation for the Brown game. In order to relieve the crowded condition of the floor a cut has been made in the squad until the team can work outside. Thirty-three men have survived this reduction which is only in effect while practice is carried on in the Armory.

Of those retained, eleven are mound candidates who are getting their prize arms in trim for the coming games. Those on the pitching staff include: Laubecker, Lord, White, Spears, Nelson, Dickens, Minnum, Ene, Maffei, Wells and Cavitt. "Scooter" Metelka is back in his old form and is holding down the position behind the plate.

Batting practice in the cage is one of the most important parts of the indoor work and Captain Crim is working to develop an outfit of hard-hitting players. While the infielders and guards of the outer pasture have not had a chance to show their wares, it is evident to the ardent fan that there will be some hot contests for positions on the varsity, as there are several promising aspirants for the different berths.

The remainder of the squad is composed of Captain Brundage and Mullane, Balsik, Ahearn, White, French and Robinson.

Nevertheless the ice is there. How to remove it is the question that is worrying the brain of Manager "Joe" Bemont.

BALOCK ELECTED TO LEAD AGGIE FIVE NEXT YEAR

Letters Awarded to Connecticut Court Men

At College Assembly, Wednesday morning letters were awarded to five members and the manager of the baseball and track in the latter in the day the letter men elected John W. Balock, '25, captain for next year.

The men awarded letters were Captain "Phil" Lord, star guard for four years; "Louie" Alexander, former captain and brilliant forward for a like period; "Bill" Makofski, a stellar forward last year and equally good at center and forward during the past season; "Pete" Balock, guard and forward for two years; and "Harry" Krasev, another two year man at the offensive post. "Bob" Laubecker, who arranged an excellent schedule and upheld the business end as manager, also received his letter.

"Pete" Balock was the choice of the letter men for captain of next year's team at a meeting held shortly after the awarding of the letters. "Pete" has played on the Aggie five for the past two years and is equally proficient in both the offense and defense. He plays a hard brilliant game and will be a capable leader for the Blue and White quintet next season.

CONDITION OF FIELD PREVENTS PRACTICE

VARIOUS MEANS OF MOVING ICE TO BE EMPLOYED

Need of Out-door Practice to Compel Student Body to Use All Available Shovels and Like Weapons.

With the opening game of the season bosh short two weeks away, stringent measures are being deliberated upon to remove the coating of ice and snow from the athletic field in order that the team may have a short outdoor workout.

Various means of attack have been suggested but as yet none of these have been put into practice, with the exception that some picking has been done by freshmen.

At present it is planned to have a tractor with heavy lugs on the wheels go over the field, thus loosening the ice. With this operation repeated several times it would then be possible to shovel up the broken pieces. If this is to be done it will require the services of the student body and the labor will be spent in a worthy cause. Some of the other means suggested

BROWN TO OPEN SEASON FOR BLUE AND WHITE

Providence Collegians Have Three Wins to Their Credit.—All by Narrow Margins.—Connecticut Out for Revenge This Year.

Connecticut will open the present baseball season on Saturday, April 7, when the Nutmeg ball-throwers journey to the capitol city of "Little Rhody" to engage the Brown University nine.

For the past three years the Aggies have given battle to the wearers of the Brown and have been turned back each time by a narrow margin. The first time the two teams met the score was 3—2 in favor of Brown.

Two years ago the battle went twelve innings and again Connecticut had the small end of a 3-2 score. Last year, with Laubecker pitching almost air-tight ball, errors at the critical time spelled defeat for the Aggies and their rivals again came out on top to the tune of 4—1.

This year, with an outfit composed largely of veterans, Captain Brundage's men will again oppose their former initial opponents and will endeavor to turn the tables in their favor. If the weather permits a few days of outdoor practice there is no doubt that the Blue and White will be in trim to tax the Brown a hard battle.

Brown lost several veterans last year but advance dope from the rival camp indicates that practice has been going on in a satisfactory manner and that there are many promising men among the recruits.

"THREE LIVE GHOSTS"
TO BE JUNIOR PLAY

COMEDY IN THREE ACTS
FOR JUNIOR WEEK

Play Had Big Run in Greenwich Village Theatre—Has Cast of Ten

"Three Live Ghosts," a comedy in three acts, has been chosen by the Junior play committee as the play to be presented by the class of '24 during Junior Week. The committee, headed by McCheeny Eddy, as chairman, considered several plays and the one selected has proved to be one of the most popular of the recent comedies.

The play is the production of Frederick S. Isham and Max Marcini and had a very successful run of one season at the Greenwich Village Theatre during the season of 1920. The comedy calls for a cast of ten, which will coach the play and the cast will be the last nobby silkies which have published in the next issue of the.

Meanwhile the candidates are getting their arms and batting eyes into shape in Hawley Armory.

THE CONNECTICUT CAMPUS

GAMMA CHI EPSILON

Elections of any sort are sure to be unsatisfactory to a few individuals and nowhere on earth is this more true than in college elections. Little squabbles, personal prejudices, fraternity feelings, class battles or rituals may enter into the deliberations and throw the proceedings far from the straight and narrow paths of justice.

A Monday night Gamma Chi Epsilon established a new custom on the campus. The new members were elected into the fraternity at the first meeting and there were no hard feelings resulting from the elections, and it is pretty much assured that there will be no aftermatths or reconsiderations. This is surely a big step toward improvement. Ill feelings and unrest were not in evidence and once again we note a marked step in improvement in the feeling among the fraternities on the Hill.

The newly adopted point system aided greatly in making a smooth selection of new members, although, like all creations of man it is not infallible and does not pretend to be. The point system serves as an accurate and definite point of departure in making the selections, although it is necessary to rate activities and scholarship in a relative way as to the kind and amount of work done, as well as the courses that the individuals are following in undergraduate study.

While the point system was started by the fraternity last year it was not worked out as far as it is now, and it is a matter of the fraternity that the system will be improved further as we work it out. The only way to do this is to keep them from the eyes of the public because nothing will be forgotten that is continually brought before them and kept there.

There were several men here some years ago who evidently did not get along too well because they started a feeling between fraternities that was really a hatred at one time. This has died to a large extent and is gradually working its way out entirely. It would be worked out entirely if the alumni members of all fraternities would let by-gones be by-gones, and then when they come back on the Hill refrain from talking about the scraps that they used to have and in that way work up a feeling among their fraternity brothers.

It is only natural for a fellow to think that his fraternity is the best. However, when you come right down to it there is no "best" fraternity. The one that has the bunch that a certain person likes to associate with the most is the best for that particular person, but not for everyone. Everyone please remember that all fraternities were started with high ideals and that they have these ideals live up to. Therefore, remember, that there are very fine fellows in every fraternity, because a bunch of bums would not start something for a good person.

Time after time during my stay at college have I heard this statement: "Joe Smith is absolutely good for nothing because he belongs to this or that fraternity." This all comes from the past years when, as soon as a man was initiated into a fraternity, he was instructed in this manner. After the bickering out, however, the more it does the less feeling there will be among the fraternities.

The big reason why we think that the fellows outside of our own fraternity are not as good as we are is because some of us are so exclusive that we will not get out and get acquainted with the other fellow and meet him on the level. We would all be surprised to know how many good fellows there are in the different fraternities if he would get out and get to know them.

There is a big opportunity to get acquainted at the Interfraternity Dance Saturday night. Do not take it as a matter of form, but put all you have into it and make it a point to become better acquainted with half a dozen fellows you never knew very well before and you will come away from the dance saying: "Gee, I didn't know they had such a nice bunch of fellows in this fraternity." However, you will not say such a thing if, when you meet a fellow and start talking with him, you say to yourself: "He belonned to the * * * fraternity."

When you start to feel sore at someone just stop and think what we are all on earth for. To enjoy being alive and to help everyone else to enjoy living to their utmost.

(Signed) D.S.E.

THINK THIS OVER

Dear Editor:
The 1922 Nutmeg has a large sum of money in outstanding bills, and a large amount of this is owed by organizations and individuals on the Hill. If this money is not paid immediately, it will mean that the 1923 Nutmeg Board will have to suspend operations.

L. W. CASSELL, '19, MAKES PRaising STATEMENT

"Altho' far from Connecticut it may be of interest to you to know that I always feel proud of being one of its graduates, and am glad to hear of the development and growth of the institution. I have had the privilege now of being connected for the past three years with one of the largest colleges on the Pacific coast; have visited the Agricultural Colleges of Oregon, California and Idaho, and I believe Connecticut is on a par with the best. In fact I had the opportunity to express these thoughts to the undergraduates."

Following his graduation at Connecticut, Cassell worked in the poultry department of this college for a short time. Cassell was connected with several undergraduate activities while in college, and he is a member of Eta Lambda Sigma Fraternity.

The annual smoker given by the Senior Class of the Two Year Course in Agriculture to the Freshman School was held in the club room on Wednesday evening, March 24. The smoker was enjoyed by various members of the School and faculty.

SAFETY VARIETY

Attention is called to the fact that no article that is not signed by the writer will be published in this column. A pen-name may be used but the editors must know the writers of all contributions. Also, it is to be remembered that this column is the expression of only one mind—often it is not in accord with the policy of the paper. The aim of this column is to give vent to student opinion, so do your cringing here.

LET'S HAVE BETTER FEELING

Dear Editor:
There has been a great deal said and written in regard to overcoming the bad feeling the various fraternities have toward each other. It would be quite easy to do if we did not have an inquiring public and the fraternity students on the Hill.

The best way to forget these things is to keep them from the eyes of the public. You can see how foolish this is to keep them from the eyes of the public because nothing will be forgotten that is continually brought before them and kept there.

There were several men here some years ago who evidently did not get along too well because they started a feeling between fraternities that was really a hatred at one time. This has died to a large extent and is gradually working its way out entirely. ARRANGEMENTS FOR
DEBATE COMPLETED

TRIANGULAR MEET
COMES APRIL 12

Connecticut Will Meet Affirmative Team from Rhode Island Here.—
Nutmeg Team Will Encounter the Mass Aggies; Negative speakers at Arrangements: "Resolved: That the United States Should Recognize the Present
Soviet Government in Russia" is Topic of Debate.

The Debating Club has completed arrangements with the Rhode Island State and the Massachusetts Agricultural College debating clubs, for the annual triangular debate. The teams will meet on April 12, the date agreed upon.

According to the agreement of the three colleges, each will send an affirmative team to one of the other colleges. This means that Rhode Island's affirmative team will come to Storrs.
Mass Aggies' will go to Kingston, and Connecticut's will journey to Amherst.
The men comprising the affirmative team are Eli Collins, '25, Samuel Wilkes, '26, Oscar D'Esopo, '25,
Captain, and Benjamin Schneier, '24, alternate.
B. R. Christoph, the coach who will accompany the team to Amherst.
The members of the negative team remaining at home are William A.
Hutton, '25, R. Dampsky, '26, Lawrence A. Loeb, '26, Captain, and Russell A. Palen, '24, alternate. The members of the team representing Rhode Island here, in order of speaking are:
Ehler J. Ernst, '24, Edward Tilly, '25,
Joseph C. Ricketts, '24, Captain, and Harlan G. Bowis, '24, alternate.
The list of judges has been sent to the Rhode Island club for its approval.
The members of the team are already hard at work, having written to Senators Logan and Browne for material on the question. These senators reccently took part in debates on the floor of the Senate regarding the same subject. Also, a member of the Senate who favored the views of Senator Browne was asked for his opinion on the subject, but replied, "I am unwilling to give any public statement involving my opinion on the question at the present."

Secretary Eli Collins of the local club was recently approached by Michigan Agricultural College for a debate on their possible trip East.
It was decided to refuse the debate.
This is an opportunity that the club desired to grasp as Michigan has an enviable record in debating circles.

Is this craze about Tut-Ankh-Amen a sign of too great reverence for the past?
And is H. G. Wills' plea for the "Discovery of the Future" to remain but a plea?
At any rate, old Tut-Ankh gave the women a chance for a new style of dress.
And, of course, they and anything that concerns them is most important—
Even though Mr. Kipling said: "A woman's only a woman, but a good cigar is a smoke."

And the Philosopher is something of an epicure, himself.

The other night we accidentally stumbled on one of the brothers in evening prayer. This is what we heard him say: "Thank God, the snow is going."
And as we gently shut the door behind us, we shouted "Amen!"

1. "Jimmie's" Atmosphere, friendship—the things that are said and not said when blue smoke is curling and a "hambur" is sputtering on the fire—these are part of a Connecticut college experience. Where the first lunch-room or adjacent to the campus existed we do not know. Of recent years it was "Jimmie's" which everyone knew as the students' hangout' Late at night when the moon was sailing high over the campus, and the shadows were splashed across the hills, or when the wind moaned and the rain fell fitfully—an any, from six until eleven, "Jimmie's" was open, and the gang was there. The smoke, the direction, the hacking stone corner before which stood a row of grimy stools, the small door at the back, from where Jimmie himself in open khaki shirt and mechanical's trousers emerged—the pure democracy and freedom of the lunchroom gave the place its vogue. What if the "hot jamoch" was only lukewarm, or the bread of questionable freshness and undoubted cohesion; who cared, so long as the celebrated "French pies" were available and the crowd gay?
If we had been commissioned in other days to write a paper on the Connecticut students' attitude, "Jimmie's" would have been our first study. Here of a night the talk ranged from co-eds, "Willi", the "profs", athletes, and similar topics, to discussion of poetry, books and their writers, drama, applied ethics, and the vague youthful formings of life philosophy, among a few, gathered in groups here and there, dreaming a bit, and sitting up later, with the aid of black coffee to prepare for classes. All the while cigarette smoke fogged and hazed overhead, swirled and drifting in streaks, while the crowd laughed and shouted and talked in undertones. Forks clanged on the tables, the door clicked or slammed as students came and went, song rose and died away, And now "Jimmie's" has lost its hold on the undergraduates. Last October "Conni's" lunch in the Bookstore opened its doors to the night patronage, and immediately, because of its more central location, drew the crowd. "Jimmie" now closes early. A short while ago we went down after the "movies" to get a "bite" to eat, but the building was dark. Only the memory stays of all the bright life that "Jimmie" once fed, but the atmosphere, the tradition remains—in a new home.

Tuesday night the Sophomore and Senior girls played the last game of the basketball season. The Sophomores lost to the tune of 21-5. The souths have played three games, winning the one against the little green fresh. This last game was well-attended by both sides of the campus and was exciting throughout.

(Cnt. from page 3 col. 2) ford, where they arrived about 6 p.m. The concert was given early in the evening and dancing was enjoyed afterward.
On Tuesday evening of this week the club sang as part of a Ladies' Night program given by the Masonic Lodge of Willimantic. Seven numbers with encore were sung by the club in addition to a quartet number, a solo by Mr. Bassett, and readings by Mr. D'Esopo. At the close of the program, refreshments and dancing were enjoyed. The club has recently closed an engagement to sing in Cheshire during April and there are prospects that a concert will be given in Norwich.

AN ODE TO SPRING STYLES

With Easter approaching on fleeting wings, And spring coming nearer, what joy they do bring. For each little co-ed is planning to make A new hat, a new dress, or a chic little cape.

The Royal, the Vogue and the Butterick, too; Nor forgetting to mention the Millinery, New! Are finding their welcome more 'n more every day. Since they tell you quite clearly what Dame Fashion doth say.

The styles, we are told, are quite novel this spring, And to be in style is the essential thing. So we will have quite full of great expectations To fulfill our desire in a coming sensation.—P.M.G.,'25.

GIRES' BASKETBALL SCHEDULE NOW ENDED

Three Players Will Be Lost by Graduates. — Four Victories out of Eleven Games is Final Record for Co-ed Hoosiers.

The game with Dr. Arnold's gym school last Saturday concluded the girls' basketball schedule. The girls have played eleven games in all and although they have won only four games they have done good work for Connecticut. Under the careful coaching of R. G. Guyer and P. L. Putnam, the team has worked splendidly together.

Seven girls will receive their letters this year. They are Margaret Dunn, captain, Florence Teeter, Emma Reed, Natalie Hallock, Elizabeth Parker, Irene Ellis and Marion Toole, manager. Next year's team will miss the splendid work of Miss Dunn as center and Miss Reed and Miss Hallock as forwards. The speed and vivacity of the last two has been responsible for nearly all the points scored. The work of the two guards, Miss Parker and Miss Ellis, has stopped many balls from entering our baskets and the capable way in which Miss Teeter has handled the ball as side center has been one of our greatest assets. Miss Teeter as manager should be commended for her method in handling the business end.

Next year the team should look forward to a successful season. Three of the present varsity will be out for the team again. Miss Moddell and Miss Grant are in line for the team having played in several games. Owning to an injured knee, Miss Grant

APPRECIATION!

It is with sincere gratitude that we take this time and space here to express our appreciation for the interest taken and the effort expended by Mrs. M. J. Farrell in enabling the girls to produce their first concert, which was an amazing success. There is no doubt that it was a great sacrifice for her to devote so much of her already full time to our need. She has been present at every meeting since its origin and has been its chief instigator, and we hope that the Glee Club, as time goes on, will be an increasing credit to her labors.

SUPPER PARTY GIVEN ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Saturday night several upperclass girls and their guests enjoyed a supper party given in commemoration of St. Patrick's Day, in the assembly room of the dormitory. The tables were appropriately decorated with green and white crepe paper and flowers, and freshman girls suitably attired in green and white comprised the capacity of waitresses. After partaking of the dainty meal, which was a sample of co-ed domesticity, the hostesses and their guests adjourned to the living room where a hearth fire was enjoyed until seven-thirty.

Those whose attendance were Miss G. I. Scharfenstein and H. S. Cavitt, Mrs. Hall and W. A. Wattles, Miss Anna Toole and M. A. Eddy, Miss Margaret Hall and P. Carleton, Miss Marion Toole and Mr. Barry, Miss Emmie Reed and William Makefki, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton and Paul Putnam, Miss Isabella Moddell and Edward Meafey.

Much enthusiasm is being shown by the girls in their bowling matches, the next sport on the schedule in the program of girls' athletics. The Juniors and Sophomores played a lively game last Saturday afternoon, and although the Juniors won with a score of 388 points, their opponents were not far behind, finishing with 367 points to their credit. Miss Ferriss was the star bowler. Upon recalling last year's scores, in which the present Juniors were ahead, there is really developing a great deal of competition in this sport. The full schedule is not yet arranged.
