ANNUAL ROPE-PULL EASILY WON BY SOPHOMORES

Most Decisive Defeat Handed Any Freshman Class in Years.

Swan Lake was the center of attraction last Monday afternoon at 4:45 when the sophomore class team pulled a disorganized freshman team thru the muddy waters of the pond.

The sophomores were an organized class and had a team of picked men who showed the results of secret practices held every afternoon and evening since college opened, regardless of weather conditions. The victors were under the leadership of "Mouse" Conklin of Hartford.

Frosh First at Pond

First to arrive on the scene of action were the freshmen, plainly nervous and impatient for the pull to begin. Groups of spectators settled in, and soon the sophomores, presenting a very neat appearance in their blue trousers, white shirts and bow ties, marched down the road led by the spirited and unmusical music of the famous trio, Conklin, Hitchcock and Fox. The sophes took their position on the north bank of the pond. Behind the band came the '26 co-eds, wearing the class colors, green and white.

The ground was wet and the sophomores dug holes into the turf, while on the opposite shore of the "duck pond" the freshmen hurriedly and un-systematically fished for their feet with their feet in an attempt to intertrench themselves. The sophomore girls, dressed in green and white, added color to the otherwise drab crowd.

Easiest Win in Years

Chief Judge Manchester announced the rules and the teams prepared for the first clash between the two classes. As the pistol in the hand of Capt. C. R. Crim flashed and resounded, the slack in the rope was pulled taut and the contest was on. The freshmen, with the "beaver" of the many supporters ringing in their ears, were no match for their well-drilled opponents. Within two minutes from the report of the pistol, "Boo! Yardsley," the first man on the frosh rope was floundering in the water and long before the full ten minutes had elapsed, the entire freshman team was pulled into the pond and the remaining members of the team had started across, only to be met by the cruel cries of "play those and sons of bitches!"

The exuberant sophomores danced wildly over the campus, carrying with them the rope used in contest.

REV. MARSHALL DAWSON IS "OVER-BRILLIANT"

BOOK NOT DULL ENOUGH

Publishers Want Revisions to Bring it to Level of Average Minds.

The Rev. Marshall Dawson, pastor of the "Church on the Campus" and College Chaplain, has written a book which is now in the hands of the publishers. All that remains between it and cold type, apparently, is the making of a few revisions by Mr. Dawson to keep it from over-exiciting the "sainted" citizens of the country since an editor expressed the fear that for average minds the book was "over-brilliant."

Mr. Dawson admitted to a Campus reporter, when interviewed upon this subject, that for a long time he has realized that something was wrong with his book, but that he did not know exactly what it was. While regretting profoundly the fact that he is too brilliant, the Storess pastor is glad that the trouble is not appendicitis. He is making out a memorandum or order for a case of bromide, to be bought for him by the college book-store, and hereafter, before writing or preaching, he will take two table-spoonfuls, to make sure that his stuff is dull enough to avoid offending the average taste.

Owing to the fact that negotiations with the publisher are not yet absolutely finished, no more can be said of this work at the present time. The advance review, however, should be given here as a try. Frank C. McKeever, '34, for first honors in exposition by this college. The general livestock judging team, coach, Assistant Circulation Manager; Russell S. White, Circulation Manager and William O. Thompson, Treasurer.

First Meeting Held

The first meeting of the boards was held Monday, September 24. Appointments were made on the boards, and Editor-in-Chief Diemand, Business Manager Kennedy, and ex-editor-in-chief Richardson spoke on plans for the coming year's work.

The editorial board has started to collect material for the humor section and for the art department. Manuscripts for the former should be handled to E. I. Collins or any other member of the staff. Drawings, especially for a border, should be given to Frank C. McKeever. The business board is hot on the trail of subscriptions, which may be paid either in one dollar instalments, or in a lump sum of four dollars, which is the price of the book.

The latter sum is preferred.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION HELD LAST FRIDAY

President and Mrs. Charles L. Beach opened the social season of the year by issuing invitations to the faculty and students for a reception which was held in Hawley Armory on Friday evening, September 24. About five hundred people were formally presented to the host and hostness by members of the senior class who acted as ushers. The reception was given in order that the freshmen might have the opportunity of meeting President and Mrs. Beach, the faculty, and students.

The Peerless Orchestra of Willi­ mata played for dancing; from eight until twelve.

AGGIE TEAMS LEAD IN COLLEGE JUDGING

Aggies Get Two Individual Winners in Three Teams Entered.

Three student judging teams representing Connecticut at the Eastern States Exposition made an extremely creditable showing, having the distinction of obtaining the best combinations of placings as teams, of any college entering three or more teams.

Connecticut captured first place in the dairy cattle judging contest with eight teams competing. In the dairy products contest held at Talt Bros., Co., the local team placed second, with the third place to the Haverhill Dairy judging team.

Frosh First at Pond

The freshmen placed first in the milk judging, second in the cheese judging, and third in the butter judging. The local team placed seventh in the milk judging, tenth in the cheese judging.

Winning Teams

The Aggie teams which competed in the milk judging were: First team: Frank Gruber, '24, and R. E. Wing, '24; Second team: R. M. Keeler, '24, and M. B. Chalker, '24.

Winning Judges

The milk judging team was coached by Assistant Professor R. C. Fisher, lost to New Hampshire by a very few points. D. B. Humphrey, '25, was the high man of the contest having the lowest combined score in all four products. A. C. Hotchkiss, '24, captured seventh place and R. M. Keeler, '24, placed tenth in the judging. R. E. Wing '24 was alternate on the team. In the separate products contest, Connecticut placed first in milk, the high man being D. B. Humphrey, fourth in butter and sixth in ice cream. For high team in milk, a banner was won which becomes the permanent property of the College. This was the second dairy products contest to be held at the Eastern States Exposition, and is the first time C. A. C. has had a high man; but the local team has placed second in both years.

The general livestock judging team representing the animal husbandry department, placed fourth in a contest marked by close competition and difficulty.
MAKEUP OF TEAM FOR TOMORROW UNCERTAIN
CONN. TO USE OPEN GAME

Four Veterans Sure to Play.—Crowd of Aggies Will Be There.

Sideline comment is optimistic on the eve of the annual football clash with Connecticut's old rival, Trinity.

Aggie supporters expect to see the team use the open game as never before tomorrow. In Moreland the blue and white has an accurate forward-passer, and there are three or four ends of varsity caliber ready to step into the contest. The team has a varied assortment of plays, including deceptive line-bucks, off-tackle dashes and pass formations.

Although the exact make-up of the eleven was uncertain as the Campus went to press, Captain "Red" O'Neil is sure to be in one tackle position, and it is hard to figure how anyone but "Wally" Moreland will be in the quarterback position. Moreland is a steady quarter who is a real "triple threat," for the blond sophomore kicks, passes and runs with the ball.

Tracy Swen and Oscar Nanfeldt are also practically sure of backfield positions, but beyond these four men, the exact nature of the Connecticut team cannot be known until Saturday afternoon.

As in other years, a large crowd of Aggie followers will be on Trinity field tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock (Eastern standard time). Cheer Leader "Freddy" Metzger requests the gang to keep together and outcheer Trinity—as usual.

FRATERNITY RUSHING RULES

We, the undersigned, acting as representative fraternities, do hereby agree to observe the following rules concerning the rushing of freshmen.

1. No man shall be pledged to a fraternity until a pledging date in December is set by the Mediator.

2. No man shall be pledged after the first pledging date until a date set by the Mediator in the second semester.

3. All bids must be in writing and given out on the day and hour designated by the Mediator.

4. A man shall be considered pledged only when having given a written affirmative answer to his bid, and he wears the pledge insignia of his fraternity publicly. No verbal promises shall be valid.

5. The wearing of pledge insignia publicly binds the wearer to join the fraternity whose insignia he wears, and by this he shall never be eligible to membership in another fraternity at the Connecticut Agricultural College unless released by the fraternity to which he is pledged. No more than one initiated member shall be released by a fraternity in any one year.

6. No campus freshman will be allowed to sit at a table with a fraternity man until after the pledging date.

7. No fraternity once signing these

PRESS CLUB BEING REVIVED BY WRITERS
PUBLICITY NEEDED

R. H. Mathewson Outlines Work.—Newspapers Clamoring for News

A meeting of students interested in publication work was held last Friday night in Main 7.

The twenty students who attended the meeting listened to a short talk by R. H. Mathewson, former editor of "The Campus," and at present occupied as Alumni Secretary and in extension editorial work.

The purpose of the meeting was to set about a re-organization of the "Press Club" on a more efficient basis, and Mr. Mathewson's experience in publications work makes his suggestions and advice of much assistance.

In his talk Mr. Mathewson pointed out the many advantages to students of going into publications work while they are in college.

Among other things he said that the news of the college must be presented to the people of Connecticut in such a way that they will not mistake it for propaganda and suggests that this can be done more successfully if the various student publications work as branches of an organization such as the "Press Club" rather than as individuals.

He also says that the need of the college is a group of student correspondents who are properly organized and that the college would be willing to lend assistance to such a club as soon as they prove themselves efficient. If this is done there would be possibilities of unofficial relationship between the Press Club and college publications. The advantages of such a connection are obvious.

As a means of starting such an organization, Mr. Mathewson suggested that all students interested in the editorial end of publications, who care to do so, should select or be assigned some newspaper for which they would write college news. Another meeting will be held soon to elect officers and to draw up a constitution.

FIRST MEETING HELD OF CO-ED GOVERNMENT

Miss Isabella Moddell New Head of Social Committee.—Other Officers Elected.

The first meeting of the Woman's Student Government Association was held in Hoebuck Hall on Friday, September 26th. President Marion Ewing introduced as a representative talk to take the place of the usual "sermon" met with favor.

Isabella Moddell, '24, talked well and interest of the courtesy of the Campus. Elizabeth Hamilton, '24, manager of the co-ed basketball team, was chosen to tell the girls of the sports program will be to arouse their interest in going out and working hard. The social life at Storrs was effectively outlined by Marie Bronson, rules shall withdraw until two weeks after the opening of college in 1923.

8. A schedule of fraternity smokers shall be drawn up by the Mediator and posted on the College bulletin board in the Main Building immediately after its ratification by the fraternity.
9. On all nights with the exception of Saturdays and Sundays, and authorized smoker nights, fraternities and recreation rooms in fraternity houses will be closed to campus freshmen at 8:00 o'clock p.m.
10. No fraternity shall give written invitations to visit them on any other night than the authorized night for their smoker. No organized entertainment that in any way resembles a smoker shall be given by fraternities except upon the night authorized by the Mediator for their smoker.

1. Bids will be distributed to the freshmen by and in the presence of the Mediator at 5:00 o'clock p.m. on the pledge date in Hawley Armory. Twenty-four hours previous to this time no campus freshman shall confer in any way with any upperclassman or fraternity man. From the time a freshman enters the Armory until he leaves he must maintain absolute silence, and he must return his bid signed or unsigned before leaving the Armory.
2. A printed copy of these rules shall be given to each new man.

ACTIVITIES FOR FRESHMEN

"Men wanted for the Campus, Dramatic Club and various other organizations as opportunities take which are among the first to greet the eyes of incoming freshmen and then comes the problem of working for some activity and studying at the same time.

Difficult is the problem confronting the new men in deciding which activity to try out for. This will be a more delicate matter this year for the new point system makes it impossible for a man to have more than one major activity on the Hill. This problem will however, be a greatly simplified in that it will be the person to choose the thing which he desires most and to concentrate his available time in that one and not dabbled in several with the risk of him accomplishing nothing of advantage to himself or to the college.

The best counsel available indicates that it is best for a new man to decide on that activity which interests him most and to go out for it early in his freshman year and to stick to that one through the four years of his college career. Altho ambition is a valuable asset it is something which should be curbed, to a certain extent, in the activities on the Hill. A man can do much more good in excelling in one line than attempting several, and slitting all of them. The time has passed when the man on the Hill can be Editor of the Campus and Nutmeg and at the same time be engaged in sports and dramatics.

All activities at Connecticut have been ranked by the point system according to the time they take and it has been proved by past experience that one man can manage but one major and one minor affair at the same time; thus the system was aranged with that end in view. Altho this may prove somewhat of a disad-vantage to the individual at the beginning, there can be no doubt as to its value and in the future all activities will be better managed because of it.

With this in mind, start early in the right line, give it your best and at the same time cast aside any illusions or aspirations about how many things you will be engaged in. It isn't the number of activities you are in that counts, it's what you do when you are there that helps you succeed. So, break across and when a man has his time and interest divided between half a dozens things he is unable to do himself justice or any of the organizations concerned.

All this has been learned by past experience, the field is open to you, but college, whatever it do, it right, and give it all you have.

THAT OLD AGGIE SPIRIT

Connecticut men have always been proud of the spirit shown on the Hill, and justly so, for it has its superior to any other college, no matter what it may be. With the coming of a new year, the time is right now to get out and show some of the Aggie fight in supporting the football team.

There is a large squad working every afternoon and both varsity and freshman candidates are working hard for the opening games. Mass meetings will be held regularly and every game and naturally every one is expected to attend. It is the duty of every upperclassman to do his utmost in supporting the team and to show the freshmen how things are done along this line at Connecticut. The team is out there working for the college and the rest of the college should work just as hard for that team to help it win the laurels. Follow the team whenever it is possible and help them out on foreign fields; they will appreciate it and work all the harder for it.

When things are going our way it is easy to be enthusiastic, but on the other hand, when the team is behind that is the time when support is needed evenly. Whether it is our victory or defeat, keep in the game, help the Blues and White along. It has often been said that many a game has been won from the side lines and many players admit the truth of the statement.

When the backers of a team are dismayed by the lead of an opponent and the cheering is half-hearted there can be only one effect to those playing and that doesn't do to make them fight harder. Stay with those men until the final whistle is blown and you may be assured that they will give all they can to bring in a victory.

TWO NEW TRUSTEES ADDED

Two new trustees of the college have been appointed by Governor

Charles A. Templeton. They are: S. McLean Buckingham, of Watertown, president of the Litchfield County Farm Bureau, who will take the place of E. Kent Hubbard; and Arthur Greene, of Middlebury, who fills the position left vacant by Mrs. Otto B. Robinson.

SLATE BECOMES DIRECTOR OF EXPERIMENT STATION

Formerly Dean of Agr. Here

William L. Slate, Jr., vice-director of the Experiment Stations and Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Stations, has been chosen to succeed Dr. E. H. Jenkins, who is retiring after years of service.

Prof. Slate received the degree of B.S. Agr. from Ohio State University in 1909. He was assistant professor of Agronomy at New Hampshire State College from 1911 to 1913, and assistant professor of Agronomy at University of Maine from 1911 to 1913. In 1913 he came to Storrs as professor of Agronomy and agronomist for the Storrs Agricultural Experiment Station. He was also dean of the division of agriculture at the college. Prof. Slate resigned as professor of Agronomy in 1922 in order to devote his time to experiment station work. As agronomist for the Connecticut Agricultural College, Slate is widely known. He is president of the eastern section of the American Society of Agronomy, and a member of the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

The following instructors are teaching at Connecticut for the first time this fall:

omics.

Clarence I. Hendrickson, M.S., Univ. of Wisconsin; instructor in Economics.

Summer A. Dole, B.S., Mass. Agricultural College; coach of Varsity football, basketball and baseball.

STEERE GOES TO MASS AGGIE

Paul L. Steere, '23, who has been working this summer on market research work for the economies department, has left for Massachusetts Agricultural College, where he will take an assistantship in agricultural economics, while working for a master's degree.

FIRST "AT-HOME" TONIGHT

The first event on the social calendar of the Home Tomb Hall, is an "At-Home" for freshmen, Friday evening, September 28th, from 8 until 10 oclock. In addition to dancing, card playing and refreshments, the freshman girls have planned some mysterious form of entertainment for the evening. Some novel feature of this sort will probably be added to the program, Friday night "At-Homes" of the year.

The Storrs Garage Company will change their bus schedule Sunday. The new schedule is printed in the company's advertisement on page 7 of this issue.

SAFETY VALVE

A FRESHMAN'S VIEWPOINT

By One

To the Editor of the Campus:

The rope pull with its spectators came Monday night. Many freshmen went to the "duck pond" in low spirits thinking, "Why must I go through?"

The reason for this unusual lowness of spirit was due to the knowledge of an all too painful truth. No practice, no choice of position. Fair play is where each side has opportunity for equal practice. What do you call fair play? Which person has the advantage, the one at the top of the hill or the one at the bottom? We had the sympathy of the upperclassmen, who do much more good than the freshmen, but we never had an equal treatment. Do not believe that I'm blaming the upperclassmen for I think it is the fault of the tradition.

Support the cause more who loved clean games. We would wage to the handkerchief or middle of the rope and question if it were the intention of all to do so. The tradition should be performed under those circumstances. Suppose it were Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt and he found the underclassmen were playing unfairly, would not all fairness be required? He would say "Newcomers, don't play unless you can do it on the square with equal rights as to the upperclassmen, because we don't play unless we allow the freshman a chance to play fairly."

If tradition is worth while, why can't we know about it? Had I not walked the campus with a co-ed, I would not have known that tradition says "Sophomores win—Freshmen obey; Freshmen win—Sophomores obey." What if the freshmen should win through a square deal? The Lord knows how the game is played. But instead, we are thinking of how we are going to pad the freshman next year. Personally, I don't know how good good character is unless I believed myself to have played correctly.

A rule about not escorting co-eds makes more curious. Frienliness is something that no person can direct for another. A friend is one who does something worth while for another without pay. Hasn't any citizen of Connecticut the right of his choice of friends? What has the freshman done to have taken away such a right? Where does the treatment of the underclassmen come from? I believe we should walk together and form friendships early. I believe the beginning of a man's character, and therefore the future, should be treated with care. Is it fair play to run up in back of a person and hit him with a board? Or to dump a person's bed while the occupant is asleep? It's going to be hard to restrain pudding, but if we have any religion at all, it is a poor one that allows unfair play to stand in our progressive, I don't care if you do to me, upperclassmen, but I want to give and to receive fair play, that my religion calls for—G.B.C., '27.

At least one answer to G. B. C. will be ready for next week's issue of the "Campus."—Signed, A Junior.
MANY MEETINGS HELD AT COLLEGE DURING SUMMER

TWO THOUSAND PRESENT FARMERS' WEEK

Junior Short Course Enrolled Over 250 Club Members

Connecticut's campus was the scene of numerous activities during the past summer. Farmers' Week, which opened on July 30 and continued through to August 3, was the most successful in the college annals. More than 2,000 were in attendance, and of these more than one-third were women, making the female attendance double that of any previous year. Lectures, demonstrations and livestock exhibitions occupied most of the visitors' time during the day, and in the evening Hawley Armory was the popular rendezvous where music, movies, short plays and other forms of diversion helped to make their visit enjoyable.

The annual conferences of the feed, fertilizer and seed dealers of the state at various times during the summer were very largely attended by the men engaged in these occupations. These conferences enable the supply dealers and the farmers to exchange ideas and become better acquainted with each other's viewpoints and problems, resulting in mutual understanding and advancement.

On the 14th of July the members of the Rotary Clubs of Willimantic, Norwich, New London and Putnam held their field day at Storrs. This outing gave these picked business men of Eastern Connecticut a chance to become better acquainted with the college.

The Junior Short Course this year, composed of boys' and girls' club members from all over the state, was head and shoulders above any held previously. The total enrollment of 254 included 22 leaders, 111 boys and 121 girls. To Middletown belongs the distinction of having the largest enrollment of any town, there being 21 present. The new swimming pool in Hawley Armory proved to be the greatest single attraction for these young people. A number of them while at Storrs decided to get a college education; some at Connecticut, others elsewhere.

MONTEITH ART SOCIETY WILL MEET MONDAY

There will be a meeting of the Monteith Art Society in Main 10 at 6:45 o'clock, Monday evening, October 1. It will be the first meeting of the year, and the main business will be to outline the program for the year. Meetings will be held every other week throughout the year at a definite hour not yet decided. Elections for officers will be held at the second meeting.

All co-eds interested in this work are urged to attend. Freshmen especially are welcome. The society has at present twenty-six active members.

ALL ’23 CO-ED MEMBERS ENGAGED AS TEACHERS

Elsie Wattie Here for M.S.—Most Other Girls Teach in High Schools

Following the example of former graduates, the co-ed of the class of 1923 have been very successful in obtaining positions for this year. All of the girls are teaching in the various schools throughout the state, with the exception of Emma Reed, who, because of illness in the family, has been compelled to remain at home. Marion Toole has accepted a position in a New Haven High School, Gertrude Morley alternately at Litchfield and Bantam and Margaret Dunn and Emeline Dillon at the Waterbury Grammar schools.

Among the girls who are teaching under the Smith-Hughes System, which is effective throughout the state are Natalie Hallock, in Plainville, Gertrude Fiske in Seymour, Ida Tuttle in Windsor, and Marion Morris in Chester. Elsie Wattie, who specialized in Chemistry, has returned to C. A. C. to do part time teaching and at the same time to prepare for the Master of Science degree.

GLEE CLUB ELECTIONS

Elections for the Girls’ Glee Club will be held on October 2 at four thirty in Holcomb Hall. Although freshmen will not be allowed to take active part until after their tryouts, all interested in the Glee Club should be present at this meeting. Some of the plans for the coming year will be discussed. Also a Glee Club pin and Glee Club stationery will be chosen.

the reader ought not to be.

The best way to make the reader look up is by playing the role of “human fly.” A crowd will turn out any day, on the busiest street in the world, to watch the “human fly.” What interests them is how close he can come to getting killed without making a clumsy dent in the concrete side-walk fifteen stories below. There is a limit, of course, where courage turns to fool-hardiness. But, any way, they will remember you longest if you have made them jump when you fell.

Joking aside, now—Isn’t it better to get killed in the last act than to be classed as a “dead one” in the first?

Let the bank clerk, then, run the adding-machine. People have quit reading even their monthly bankstatement because they know the machine is infallible—that is, unless they have overchecked. Some people have been killed on the Matterhorn. That is why the guides who live there do not have to advertise. . . .

Why “play safe”—always?

In the evening the sophomores closed the day’s celebration with a dance for all upperclassmen in Hawley Armory. Music was furnished by the Peerless Orchestra of Willimantic.
