FEW people realize that the Connecticut-Rhode Island football series has been running with occasional lapses for 26 years and that Saturday's game will be the sixteenth between the two colleges. It is for this reason that a win over Rhody means so much to every man or woman who ever went to college at Connecticut. It is now four years since Connecticut last tasted the sweets of victory in the annual classic with her greatest rival. Three strong teams have opposed the Kingston eleven since 1919; teams that on paper and by all the laws of the 'dope' should have won each of the games; but always the fighting eleven from Kingston has pulled the unexpected by once tying and twice beating.

STUDENTS, ALUMNI AND FACULTY GOING

"AGGIE SPECIAL" LEAVES EAGLEVILLE 8:30 SATURDAY

Students, Faculty, and Alumni Will March from Dining Hall at Seven-thirty for Eagleville.—Mass Meetings on Wednesday and Friday Nights to Arouse Aggie Spirit to Fever Pitch.

Primed with the success of a hard season, and determined to put an end to the jinx that has "queered" the last three Rhode Island games, the Blue and White team with the backing of students, faculty, and alumni will invade Kingston on Saturday for the one big game of the Connecticut football season. One tie and two defeats is the score to be evened on Rhode Island's field this week-end. The faculty decision to excuse classes on Saturday removes the final excuse for anyone failing to board the "Aggie Special" in Eagleville on Saturday next.

Seniors and juniors remember the Rhode Island trip two years ago, and sophomores remember the game on Gardner Dow field last fall, but the freshmen who are to experience their first Connecticut-Rhode Island encounter will also receive their first real dose of an aroused Aggie spirit. With one of the hardest schedules in C. A. C. history successfully completed, a win from Rhode Island is all that is needed to make this a banner year in Blue and White football annals. Two years ago when the annual Aggie-Rhode Island encounter was staged at Kingston, practically everyone in college made the trip, and it is expected this year's trip will even better the one of two years ago. About thirty members of the squad with the coach, manager and trainer will make the trip on the "Aggie Special" with the rest of the student body. All indications point to an invasion of the enemy territory next Saturday that will furnish the native Kingstornians with a topic of conversation for the next year.

On Wednesday evening and again on Friday evening, the night before the big game, there will be mass meetings in Halsey Armory to get the songs and cheers learned thoroughly. The mass meeting Friday night will be the biggest one this year. Coach Dole, Captain O'Neill, seniors on the team, and alumni are on the list of speakers for that evening. On that night everyone will hear from the alumni stories of Rhode Island encounters of past years, of how the Blue and White triumphed or lost, as the case may be, over her ancient rival. If anyone leaves the Armory on Friday evening without his Aggie spirit developed to fever pitch, he will be a fit subject for investigation and research.

Final plans with the Central Vermont Railroad have been completed by the Rhode Island trip committee. All

BOAT RHODE ISLAND!

ORANGE FLAME HOPES TO BURN RHODE ISLAND

TEAM IN GOOD CONDITION

Swam Counted on to Furnish Thrills.—Captain O'Neill Ready to Play the Greatest Game of Career.—Rhody Working Hard.

Swinging into the last lap with every man in good condition, the Connecticut football team is going thru hard workouts daily on Gardner Dow field in preparation for the big game with Rhode Island at Kingston, Saturday, November 17.

Rhode Island has been having difficulty in the punting department this year, and Moreland's twisting punts are expected to give the Aggies an edge in the kicking line.

O'Neill Stands Out

Captain "Red" O'Neill of Connecticut, who has only one more year to play before he runs off Gardner Dow field forever, has been playing brilliantly in the line all fall, and is counted on to knife through Rhody's for-wards the effective and to use his deadly tackling skill when the engineers have the pigskin.

Swem and Baylock are expected to start at halfbacks. Both are small and light but are hard players, who can run with the ball. "Petey" Baylock may not play the whole game as he needs to be saved for basketball, and "Tommy" Doughan is a capable understudy. Swem is counted on to cut loose and his great broken-field running may materially alter the score.

"Chippy" Purple, who has been playing a good game at full-back since he got his chases at midseason, will probably start in that position, with Filly in reserve.

ENDS Strong

Four veterans are ready to start, with Brink and Dunn having the first chance. Both these men are sure tacklers, accurate handlers of a pass, and fast at getting down the field. Dunn in particular is under every punt and usually one or the other nalls the receiver before he can move.

Can Connecticut erase the sting of three lean years, and hurl back her ancient foe at Kingston Saturday? That is what every Aggie, past, present, or to be, is thinking as the day for the annual gridiron tussle with Rhode Island draws near. Interest on the campus is at the highest pitch, and the talk is turning entirely to football. Connecticut rooters are praying for a good day and a dry field when the throng of northerners descend to the plains of Kingston, Saturday; given these external aids they leave the rest to the team.

Dope Favors Aggies

On the strength of their respective records so far, Captain "Red" O'Neill should have the pigskin in his clutches when he boards the "Aggie Special" after the game next Saturday night. Connecticut has played seven games; of which two have resulted in victories, one is a tie, and four in defeats. Rhode Island's record is not nearly so impressive, the engineers having played five games, tied one, and lost four, without having scored a point during the season.

Again, in comparative scores Connecticut has a decided advantage. St. Stephen's beat Worcester Tech 23—0; Connecticut lost to St. Stephen's 12—6; while Rhode Island and Worcester Tech played to a scoreless tie. New Hampshire trimmed Rhode Island 12—0 while Connecticut and New Hamp.

SIDELINES

If ever an Aggie team had the chance to beat Rhode Island, they have it this year.

Rhody has not scored a point this season, and perhaps this will be the first year since 1919 that the orange frame has scored the engineers.

However, Rhode Island, as always, will battle to the limit with a united student body back of the team, and no one can predict what the outcome will be until the game is over.

What we can do is to GO TO KINGSTON and give the team everything we have.

The Pond, which has been undisturbed for several years, is waiting for men who have not enough college spirit to go to the game.

We would advise the New London police force to have the score wired to them, and in case the Aggies win, to call out the riot squad. Because there will be no holding the boys if the old special steps in New London after an Aggie victory.

A man from Harvard who watched the magnificent playing of Captain "Red" O'Neill in the St. Stephen's game said, "There's not a college in New England but would like to have that man in the line."

The Fighting Saints did it!

In the fourth year of Conn.—St. Stephen's games they succeeded in snaring a victory.

And all credit is due them. No cleaner or faster team appears on the Aggie schedule.

Dorlia is about as fine a forward passer as we have seen in many a day.

But the best part of the game was the way the orange flame came back

AGGIE FRESHMEN WIN FINAL GAME

COMPLETE FIVE PASSES

Reeves Makes Three Touchdowns.—Alexander's Eleven Goes Through Season Undefeated.

The freshman team last Saturday completed a perfect season by defeating the Two-Year men from Mass. Aggie with a 27 to 0 score. Out of ten forward passes attempted, the Fresh completed five.

Andrew started the game with a wonderful run, taking the ball from the eighty yard line for a touchdown on the kick-off, but missed the kick. Connecticut line plunged for a sure gain every time, and did not take the defensive once during the first quarter. Chapman made several runs of twenty-five yards while Reeves planted the ball behind the Massachusetts goal line three times.

In the second half the whole second team went in, and while it did not score, it outplayed Massachusetts.

The frosh made nineteen first downs to Mass. Aggies one.

ST. STEPHEN'S ELEVEN NOSES OUT AGGIES 12-6

PASSING ATTACK FEATURES

The Aggie pigskin tossers ran below par last Saturday and went down to defeat before the fast St. Stephen's out, 12 to 6. From the kick-off to the final whistle, the Saints gave the Nutmeggers a hard, fast game. Several times during the game, Captain O'Neill's outfit showed the old fight and pep, but were unable to break up the winning streak of the visitors.

"Big Cheese" Eddy Conn. Right Tackle

Score Twice in Second Beginning with the kick-off, the visiting team pulled a number of forward passes and trick plays. In the second quarter, an end run, and a line plunge by Deloria, the husky Indian fullback, following a series of short passes which put them in position to score, netted the New Yorkers their first touchdown. They failed to make the kick.

Moreland tried Swem around the end time after time, but the distinctive Aggie back was unable to gain any ground. Swem was injured early in the game and did not hit his former stride. Again in the second quarter, St. Stephen's advanced the ball by end time after time, but the diminutive Aggie 50 yard line. Then a forward

Tufts Wins 14—9
The annual clash with Eddie Casey's Tufts eleven at Medford came on October 6. Nervousness at the start gave the Jumbos their first touchdown, after which the Aggies settled down to business and kept the ball in Tufts' territory most of the time. In the last quarter Moroland opened a forward passing attack in a last-minute bid for a score, and a pass too close to the Connecticut goal was intercepted by a Tufts back, who raced across the line for the second score, making the total 14—9.

Aggies Show Power
Although defeated, Connecticut played her best game of the season before a large crowd at Storrs, October 13. Maine's steam-roller struck a snag, and it was only after the hardest kind of battling that the powerful Pine Tree machine was able to score a touchdown, with the attendant point. Swane gave the first indications of his ability at advancing a ball with a broken field during this game. The midget halfback cut loose several times for long runs.

Tie New Hampshire
On October 20 the Aggies journeyed to New Hampshire, where they held the University to a scoreless tie.

CAMPUS PHILOSOPHER

A page from the Philosopher’s Diary
Friday, November 9

This day is sad, like everything else; a snow has snowed, which caused me to reflect on the current extortion for arties, though I am advised by a brother who follows the styles that low shoes alone will be the vogue this blighting winter. The day being unrelieved by any prospects of a rocking party, did settle into the harness, albeit mirthought it galled a bit. In the A.M. to a class or two and also to the Sanatorium, where I succeeded in grading out next week’s “Campus” assignments. After dinner, (obtained surreptitiously), to a class and was startled to find a quiz in progress. Well, his exceeding dull for a prof unless he has an exam to correct once in a while. After flunking the quiz, again to the Sanatorium, where did labor all afternoon preparing copy for this issue of the sheet. Is the evening, not being corner of four bits, and knowing of no sueror in sight, did usher at the play.—C.P.

The Sentence of the Week

Gane questions whether the C. P. refers to cosmetics in the above.

The Eddie brothers, “Big and Little Cheese,” men of long experience in Aggie football will hold down the tackle positions. “Little Cheese” is a ponderer of no mean ability and throws all the transcendent passes.

Big Center Trio

Nanfeldt and McAllister, both big men than anything else is a win over “Rhody” on the gridiron. Thus far no student now at college has tasted the sweets of such a victory. The present seniors have this one opportunity left. They have all the accumulated pep of four seasons to expend. If fortune smiles, they’re going to let it go.

The game is the game of the year. It means much to every Connecticut man. The Aggies have got to win—no other conception can be possible. With this idea—let’s go to Kingston and help that team BEAT RHODE ISLAND for the first time in four years and then LET’S CELEBRATE!

ALL ON “AGGIE SPECIAL”

that remains is to collect the price of the trip from a few who decided at the last minute not to be the only ones left on the Hill for the week-end. All those who are going on the “Aggie Special” will meet at the Dining Hall on Saturday morning at seven-thirty. The entire delegation will march to Eagleville in a body by classes, with the senior class leading. The train is scheduled to leave Eagleville on the Central Vermont Railroad at eight-thirty. The trip will be made through Willimantic via New London. In New London the train will be switched over to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad and will proceed from there to Kingston as a special train. Arrival in Kingston is scheduled for 12:10 noon. At Kingston the students will form by classes again for the march from the railroad station to the college.

Tickets for the game will cost seventy-five cents and tickets for dinner will cost fifty cents. These will be obtainable at the business office at Kingston upon arrival after. After dinner there will be a short time during which Aggie rooters can inspect the college. For the return trip the train will leave Kingston at 5:30 p.m. There will be a short stop-over in New London for supper. The time of arrival back on the Hill is not scheduled but it will be in sufficient time to allow everyone an opportunity to get breakfast in the College Dining Hall. With everything ready, with the team in prime condition, and with enthusiasm at its height, all that remains is for the weather man to do his share and give the Aggies real football weather for a game that will be a memorable one in Aggie history.

New Hampshire Hitting Connecticut’s Line.—Game Played October 20, and Resulted in a Scoreless Tie.—New Hampshire Beat Rhode Island 15—0.
How can one be philosophical when the Rhode Island game is only a few days off?

Besides the C. P. is head over heels in copy he is preparing for this, the Rhode Island issue.

However, he wishes to suggest that your friends in the high school, your girl, your parents, and others, will be interested in this issue. Also, it is good publicity for the college. Let your friends know that although Yale and Princeton may be in the limelight next Saturday afternoon, another notch in a small college series of 25 years' standing will be cut when the last whistle blows over the mud-flats of Kingston next Saturday. Extra copies of the issue may be obtained from E. W. Nelson, circulation manager of the "Campus," at the really nominal sum of 30 cents each.—Adv.

A freshman's equipment when he arrives on the Hill:

1 hat—usually green felt.

Collarless collar and some nobby striped shirts.

Suit—best thing about it is that it is usually pressed. Trousers failing to connect with shoe-top; coat having sharp notched lapels; latest style in Bingville, Conn.

Shoes—high, bulldog toe; yellow or a nondescript tan, predominating color.

Black raincoat, red ties, and other accessories.

The same freshman returning as a sophomore:

Worldly air; lordly mien; college written all over him.

Sack suit; three buttons, correctly spaced; easy hang.

Neckties and shirts O. K.

Trousers wide and of sufficient length.

Socks draping over shoes, which are low, and probably constructed of Norwegian grain.

Topcoat and overcoat; loose, box style.

Hat; easily crushed; one side of brim down.

But the one really crowning virtue of a college youth of one year's standing as compared to a fresh fresh from the tall grass is that the former has good taste—he is able to appreciate the co-eds, while a freshman thinks they are nothing minus.

CAPTAIN M. L. O'NEIL
OUTSTANDING LINEMAN

MAINSTAY OF AGGIE LINE

Third Year on Varsity Squad.—Has One More Year to Play for Connecticut.

Martin L. O'Neil of New Britain, captain of the football team this fall, is one of the best linemen in the smaller New England colleges. He has played brilliantly in every game this year, starting against Trinity, where he picked up a fumble and made one of the two touchdowns.

Backs Up Line

Until this year, "Red" was always a tackle, but when a shortage developed in the ranks of center candidates, "Red" stepped into the breach, and is proving to be as great at that position as he was at tackle. On the defensive he backs up the entire line, and is the biggest reason why opposing backs have usually found the Aggie line a solid stone wall.

Starred Against "Saints"

Against St. Stephen's last Saturday, "Red" played his best game of the year. He was in on nearly every play and broke up several forward passes.

Captain O'Neill is 24 years old, weighs 160 pounds, is 5 ft. 10 in. tall, and is playing his third year on the varsity squad. He made his letter for the first time last fall. "Red" is a one-sport man, but he gives his best to that sport. His home is in New Britain, Conn.

pass from Deloria to White, who gathered it in and ran 30 yards for the second and last touchdown for the visitors.

Aggies Back Strong

Beginning with the second half the Blue and White seemed to have hit their former stride, and the Saints had to kick a number of times to ensure their own safety. In the fourth quarter a long pass from M. A. Eddy to Brink brought the Aggies to St. Stephen’s 15 yard line. End runs and plunges carried them to the 10 yard line and then a pass from Moreland to M. A. Eddy netted the Blue and White their only touchdown.

Deloria starred for the St. Stephen’s eleven, breaking through the Aggie line for long gains. The sturdy Indian was responsible for all the forward passes made by the visiting outfit. O’Neill was the outstanding player for the home team. Time after time the New Britain led broke up St. Stephen’s hopes by smearing their plays before they materialized.

“Although the team has met with little success this season, Rhode Island is by no means pessimistic or doubtful about the future. Every game played so far has been clean and fast, and the opponents can in no case say that the victory was easily won. Rhode has fought determinedly and persistently, and everyone is now confident that the Aggies will have to step on it in order to keep up with the boys on Kingston Hill. As the big day draws near, spirit runs high and the atmosphere is charged with pent-up emotion. The Rhode Island students, in eager anticipation, are singing their new football song, ‘We’re Ready; Let’s Go!’”

Undefeated freshman team, and only scored on once—great stuff! Some wonderful material for next year's varsity will trot on to the field again next fall. And especially since the varsity is a green team and only two or three men will be lost by graduation, the Aggies should have the best team ever next year.

Students who have made the trip to Kingston on the "Aggie Special" will never forget the ride. It stands out as one of the biggest memories of college years. Are you going to college to attend classes only, or are you going to enter into college life, and become a well-rounded man or woman? . . . At least 100 more tickets must be sold. Do your share, and back the team.
