MRS. C. L. BEACH DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

PNEUMONIA-ATTACK FATAL

Final Illness Follows Injury Last October.—Funeral Services Wednesday­ day at Storrs Church.—Burial at Whitewa­ter, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Charles Lewis Beach, wife of President Beach, died Monday after­noon at 2 o'clock at her home on Facul­ty Row.

Death was due to pneumonia which developed about one week ago fol­lowing a number of weeks of confine­ment to her home. President Beach was with her at the end.

Early last October Mrs. Beach suf­fered a broken leg as the result of a fall. Complications arose and she was taken to the Hartford Hospital where she was a patient for about two months. Just before Christmas her condition was considered well enough so that she returned home. From time to time she gave evidence of im­provement that led to renewed hope of her ultimate recovery. About one week ago, however, pneumonia de­veloped which resulted in her death.

Mrs. Louise Crombie Beach was born at Whitewater, Wis. Her mar­riage to President Beach took place in November, 1893, in Milwaukee, Wis. After her marriage she went with Mr. Beach to the Pennsylvania State Col­lege where he was engaged in teach­ing. The following year, in Decem­ber, 1896, Mr. Beach came to Storrs as professor of Chemical Engineering. He remained here for ten years, leaving in 1906 to accept a similar position at the University of Vermont. Two years later, in 1908, he again returned to Storrs, this time as president of the Connecticut Agricultural College. President and Mrs. Beach celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage in November, 1921.

The death of Mrs. Beach came as a shock to the community of Storrs. She had made for herself a host of friends, not only in the community but among the faculty and students of the col­lege as well. Mrs. Beach was in love with Storrs. She was interested in the students and their activities. Her home was always open to the college, its alumni, and friends. In her death the community lost a valued friend.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Beach leaves a sister, Mrs. Kartherine Buck­ner of St. Louis, Mo., and a nephew, Crombie Buckner, also of St. Louis.

Connecticut Aggie was well repre­sented at the union agricultural meet­ings in February. Faculty members, alumni, and students were present at the various sessions thru­out the five day period.

Funeral Service OVERLAPS CHURCH

MANY FLORAL TRIBUTES

Trustees, Teachers, Students and Friends Pay Last Tribute to Mrs. Beach.—College Activities Suspended.

Funeral services for Mrs. Charles Lewis Beach were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Storrs Church. Rev. Marshall Dawson, pas­tor of the church, officiated. Trustees of the college, faculty members, stu­dents and friends attended the ser­vice.

Floral pieces of wreaths, baskets of flowers and bouquets of violets, roses, sweet peas, lilacs and carnations, in­termingled with green leaves and ferns, were banked high behind the casket and on each end, extending across the front of the church. The casket it­self was almost invisible under the flowers that covered it.

As a prelude to the service, Mrs. Howard R. Newton, organist, played the prelude Mrs. Beach's favorite hymns. Rev. Dawson began the service with a read­ing from the Scriptures, which was fol­lowed by another organ selection, "Holy Holy" from "Sole Holy City." By request Rev. Dawson read Sir Ed­ward Arnold's poem, "After Death." Another hymn, "We Would See Jesus" was sung from Mendelssohn's oratorio. The peal bells were George H. Hollister, E. O. Smith of Philadelphia, former secretary of the college, F. O. Vinton of Englewood, Willard Farring­ton of Mansfield, and Professors S. P. Hollister, G. H. Lamson, R. E. Dodge, and C. A. Wheeler. From the church door the casket was borne between two lines of young women students who formed an aisle of escort. Mem­bers of the board of trustees attended in a body, as did the stu­dent Senate, representing the students' body of the college.

Dawson's Book on EVOLUTION REVIEWED

SYNDICATED AS FEATURE

Praised by Dr. Frank Crane, Well­known Feature and Editorial Writ­er.—Claims Book is Above Aver­age.

"Nineteenth Century Evolution and After," the book recently published by Rev. Marshall Dawson, pastor of the Storrs Church, is the subject of a review by Dr. Frank Crane and pub­lished by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Dr. Crane takes for the name of his review the title of the first chap­ter in the book "Growing a Backbone." He says in part: "The truth that 'many are called but few are chosen' applies to books whether or not it is written for men. The vast majority of new books are of no special value. But once in a while some book comes along and stands up and should­ders above its fellows. Such a book is 'Nineteenth Century Evolution and After' by Marshall Dawson. I do not

TWO NEW COURSES GIVEN THIS SEMESTER

English 17 and M. E. 15 Added to Curriculum.—In Charge of Profes­sor H. A. Seckerson and Daniel E. Noble.

Professor H. A. Seckerson has add­ed a new course, English 17, to his list of courses. This will include a study of plays, play writing, play staging, and costume. About twenty-five students have already expressed a desire to take this subject, the lectures for which will be given on Thursday evenings.

Daniel Noble, a former science stu­dent here, who is now operating the radio station, is in charge of a radio course listed as M. E. 15. It is a three credit subject and consists of two lectures and two hours of lab­oratory work a week. Both M. E. 5 and Physics are required of those enrolling in this course.

IMPORTANT WORK AT W. S. G. A. MEETING

CHANGE CONSTITUTION

Accept invitation to New England Co-Ed Conference.—Plan Fire Pro­tection for Holcomb Hall.

Proposed changes in the constitu­tion and by-laws of the Women's stu­dent Government Association were adopted at a recent meeting of that organization. In the absence of Presi­dent Marion Eggleston, the meeting was called by the Vice-president, Christine McNemey. The changes adopted include the following:

SECTION 2—HOUSE RULES

Quiet hour shall be observed on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings from 8 p.m. until 6 a.m., and on Friday evenings from 7 p.m. until 8 p.m. The list of house rules posted in the dormitory by the faculty were adopted by the Women's Association. This change automatically places the rules under the jurisdiction of the women for en­forcement, and does away with faculty connection in that respect.

Other rules concerning entertaining and the use of the living room and other rooms in Holcomb Hall, which have previously been faculty rules, were also made a part of the Asso­ciation's constitution and are to be enforced by the women.

Miss Gladys Scharfenstein, house matron, and Miss Marie Lundberg, council advisor, both spoke to the council on the relation between stu­dent government affairs and faculty jurisdiction, clearing up many points which now have been indefinitely understood.

The second action taken at the meeting was that of accepting a plan proposed by the co-eds at Rhode Is­land State College for a New England conference of the women of co-ed­ucational colleges in New England. It is based on the plan of a conference held this fall by the western co-­educational colleges for the purpose of discussing student government af­fairs, the honor system, and other problems of common to educational institutions, problems with which strictly women's colleges do not have to contend. Miss Lundberg explain­ed the need for such a conference and the girls accepted Rhode Island's in­vitation to participate in one. The date for the conference is to be deter­mined.

Other matters that came before the meeting were those pertaining to fire regulations and fire drills. As soon as plans have been approved by Prof. J. N. Fitts, fire marshal of the col­lege, they will be put into effect in the girls' dormitory.
SERIENS FROST WIN COURT GAMES

24 Quarter Downs Two-Year Team in Overlapping Period—Frost attacker the Game by One Point Margin.

During exam week, the seniors defeated the School of Ag in a closely contested game by the score of 28—24, and the frost won their second game by defeating the juniors 14—15. O'Brien and Eddy played well for the seniors while Jones and Bottow were the School's best players.

SERIENS TAKE LEAD IN COURT GAMES

Mid-Season Frosh 2 vs. 24—One Defeat—Sophomores Are Weakened by Loss of Men to Varsity.

With the interclass court season half over, the five representing the seniors tops the list and bids fair to hold that position for the remainder of the season. The 24 quartet has suffered only one setback and that was at the hands of the sophomores early in the year when that team was composed of several men who have since been taken off the varsity squad. Since then the seniors have shown excellent form while the 24 aggregation has suffered a bad slump.

The freshmen have gone into the winning column and will make a strong bid for first honors in the games remaining, but it is generally conceded by the Aggie dope men that they will be unable to overcome the last senior five. Meanwhile interest remains keen and all games are well attended although the senior cheering section, like the team, heads the list.

INTERRATERNITY POOL AND BOWLING START SOON

Mediator Names Dates for Contest—First Matches Will Take Place in Two Weeks.

With the announcement of the Mediator that the inter-fraternity pool and bowling tournaments would start in two weeks, the artists of the cue and bouncers of the duck pins have started their preliminary work to get in shape for the competition.

Last year the contest was close for honors in both pool and bowling with the team from Phi Mu Delta carrying off the cup in bowling and Alfred Feldman, Phi Epsilon Pi acquiring first place in pool. The contest this year will be arranged the same manner as in years past and the usual cups will be awarded to the winners.

FIFTEEN GAMES ON SLATE

Seven Home Games—Three Day Trip During Easter Recess—Army Plays on Diamond Slate for First Time.

Norman E. Plye, '24 manager of baseball has recently made public the diamond schedule for the coming season. Fifteen games are included in this slate.

The schedule is well arranged and includes a formidable list of opponents for the Blue and White ball tossers to cross bats with. There will be seven home contests and eight away, but two of the games on foreign diamonds will be played on a three day trip during the Easter recess. The first home game will be against Providence.

The opponents chosen are such that each of the opponents chosen are such that each of the opposing colleges has been represented by a Connecticut representative in some other sport. University of Maine, West Point and St. Stephens will clash with the Blue and White for the first time on the diamond during the coming season.

The season will open on April 7 with Harvard as the initial opponent at Cambridge and the first home game will be with the University of Maine, April 4. There will be two games during Junior Week with Clark University furnishing the opposition. One of the best features of the schedule is that the season will be brought to a close on the campus of Commencement Week in a contest with the old rival of Connecticut, Rhode Island. This game will provide an interesting and closely contested contest for alumni and visitors and will end the week in a fitting manner.
LOCAL RADIO STATION HAS TRANSMISSION TEST

Heard as Far West as Pacific Coast—New Sound Proof Broadcast Room Being Constructed.

On January 17, the college radio held a special test to determine the range and consistency of the transmission. Notices were given out in all parts of the country. Practically all reports came in from all parts of the country. One authentic report came from those who had listened in at the Washington, D. C., Ohio, North Dakota and Canada. One authentic report came all the way from Iowa and one not yet completely verified came from the Pacific Coast.

“Dan” Noble, instructor of radio in the Mechanics Arts Department and who is in charge of the station is working on a new and up-to-date broadcasting room. He is putting up sound proof material of hair felt one inch thick, on the walls and ceilings. The room will be furnished with gray plush draperies, a heavy carpet, wicker furniture and a piano. The room will be ready, it is hoped, by the latter part of February.

The department has also bought some new vacuum tubes which have been recently placed on the market and which has greatly improved the efficiency of the transmission. The station will soon be giving out all kinds of programs, but the broadcasting will be along educational lines.

AGGIE CO-EDS LOSE TO MAINE RIFLE SHOTS

Becker High Scorer—Aggie Shots Higher Than Those in Previous Matches.

Connecticut’s Girls Rifle Team lost to the University of Maine in a return match fired during the week ending January 19. The score was Maine 475—Connecticut 446.

The result of the meet was encouraging, however, in that the lowest of the first five scores turned in was higher than the lowest of the first five scores in any previous match. Continuous practice under record conditions is necessary to win against rifle clubs like that at the University of Maine, which has had had between 50 to 50 members in active practice for several years past. MRS. BEACH
For twenty-five years the personality of Mrs. Charles L. Beach has been a prominent factor in the life at Storrs. Students, faculty and friends of Connecticut Agricultural College associate their memories of Mrs. Beach with that of the college itself.
The college was small and little known when Charles L. Beach came to Storrs. Its remarkable growth to the present high standards has come largely through the administration and the efforts of Press Beach. In a very large measure Mrs. Beach shared in this work. If it is true that a college president has grave responsibilities, it is not less true, in a community so self-contained as Storrs, that much depends upon the wife of the president. No woman could have met these obligations more graciously or faithfully than did Mrs. Beach.
With the growth of the institution, it has become increasingly difficult for anyone to maintain personal touch with all students and even all members of the faculty. The extent to which Mrs. Beach did this for many years is evidence of her human sympathy and understanding.

THE COMMUNITY HOUSE
The committee in charge of the proposition to obtain funds for the proposed Community House has met and laid out a tentative plan of campaign. This plan is based on the successful work of the project before some sixteen organizations on the Hill. The success or failure of the proposition will depend on the manner in which the idea is received by these organizations.

There seems to be no doubt in the minds of any student at Connecticut as to whether there is need for a building such as the Community House will be. All are agreed that it would fill a great need, and that its advantages would be almost unlimited.
The next thing is how to get it. The plans as laid out by the committee show that some work must be done by the students in order to start the campaign, and to show people that the members of the student body are behind the movement and are willing to give it their earnest support. Success will not be difficult to attain but the work may be a large number of students who are willing to do their share.

Anything worth having is worth working for. The success or failure of the Community House plan is for the student body to decide. Surely there are enough men and women on the Hill to put this affair across and to do it right. The time is here to do something really big for Connecticut, will you DO YOUR SHARE?

MANAGING EDITOR OF CAMPUS RESIGNS
Eli I. Collins Leaves College—Will Take up Newspaper Work.
Publications at Connecticut were again unfortunate to lose a valuable enthusiast in that branch of activities when Eli I. Collins, ’25, decided to accept a position at the end of the first semester. With his future yet undecided Mr. Collins expects to engage in some branch of newspaper work in the near future.

"It's", at the time of his withdrawal, was Managing Editor of the Campus and his loss will be sorely felt by that publication. He was also Assistant Editor of the Connecticut Handbook last year and would have succeeded to the editorship of that fine book had he remained.

As the originator and author of the Campus Philogenetic List wills no doubt be missed by its many readers but these, together with the members of the Campus Board, unite in wishing him every success in his new field of work.

The falling numbers of the senior class were somewhat augmented this week by the return of one ex-member of '24 to college and the arrival of four men of the class of '23 who need one semester of work to obtain a degree.

Lewis C. Richardson, ’24, who was compelled to leave college during the early part of the first semester has heard the call and is now back in the books in an attempt to graduate with '24 in June.
The seniors are particularly fortunate in being able to welcome to their ranks four members of the distinguished class of ’23. Ralph D. Brundage, basketball captain of last year, Robert Loubescher, still junior in the art class, Norman P. Dickens, class court and diamond star, and Charles H. Stocking, fast two miler have all enrolled for the coming semester and will obtain their degrees in June.

MANY NEW STUDENTS FOR SECOND SEMESTER
The old students are glad to welcome the return of this semester of so many of their former classmates. Ralph Loubescher, Ralph D. Brundage and Norman P. Dickens, members of the class of ’23, have returned to C. A. C. to finish out their senior year.

Charles Stocking, ’23, and Lewis C. Richardson, ’24, are again with us after six months’ leave of absence. Hannah Jensen, a Home Economics student, has come back, and is now in the junior class. George Brigham, ’25, who was compelled to leave college after a short semester, has returned to college and will obtain his degree.

PLANS FOR COMMUNITY HOUSE BEING ADVANCED

NAME LARGER COMMITTEE
Immediate Program Calls for Presentation of Idea before Sixteen College Organizations Within the Next Two Weeks.

At a meeting of the committee in charge of the Community House campaign it was decided that the number of work to be done warranted an increase of the committee and accordingly the three original members have been supported by the addition of four more. At the same occasion those in charge of the movement decided that the best means to present the matter to the students on the Hill was by the method of having students and others explain the situation before their respective group and at the same time determine whether the members of that group are willing to support the movement.

Those who composed the original committee in charge were Professor of Chemistry, Robert Miller; Professor of Political Economy, Charles Metzger; and Professor of Economics, George Wells. The new members are Dr. E. W. Sinnott, Harold Baldwin, Miss Marion Eggleston and Milton Moore. With this array of workers in command there seems to be no doubt that plans for the movement will be formed and carried out in the best possible manner.

At the present time there are about twenty-some speakers, both members of the faculty and students who have been asked to cooperate by talking to one of the various organizations on the Hill. By so dividing the work each group will have the opportunity of learing the facts in a more intimate way and thus more ground can be covered. Again too, the immediate success of the undertaking will be watched with interest by these organizations.

Alto the project is yet in its infancy the idea has caused considerable favorable comment. A large student body and indications are that it will be received with much enthusiasm.

On the casket was a blanket of green fern from President Beach. A wreath of roses and sweet peas was the tribute from the college trustees, while from the college staff came another wreath of fresias and violets.
The alumni association sent a wreath of magnolia leaves and lilies. The board of trustees of the church and the student body also sent large wreaths.

Classes and all college activities were suspended during the afternoon as a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Beach. An address was taken to Springfield, Mass., to begin the long journey to Whitewater, Wis., the home of Mrs. Beach, where her remains will take place. President Beach and Mrs. Katherine Buckner, sister of Mrs. Beach, accompanied the body to Whitewater. President Beach will spend several days in the west before he returns to Storrs.
COMMITTEES ANNOUNCED
FOR JUNIOR WEEK
LIST MADE PUBLIC

John W. Goodrich to Head Executive Committee—Maxson Eddy Chairman of Prom.

Russell S. White, president of the junior class, has recently made public the list of committees for Junior Week. The appointments have been made at this date in order that the various groups may get under way at once and thus have all plans completed before the big week of the Aggie social year.

We have the appointments have been completed before the big week of the Aggie social year.

PLANT HARTFORD MUSIC
FOR MID-YEAR DANCE

Eighteen Numbers Including Four Moonlights on Program Announced by Committee.

Efforts are being made by Mr. T. J. Kennedy, chairman of the Mid-Year Dance committee, to secure John Cavallaro and his "Palais Royal Hounds" from Hartford to play at the coming dance on Friday night, February 15. This is the first time that the Mid-Year is a formal dance, so the committee is working to make it a bigger success than ever.

The program calls for eighteen dances, all fox-trots, and one extra, a moonlight waltz. Four out of the eighteen dances are moonlights. The order is as follows:

1. Learn to Dance
2. In Love with Love
3. Bit by bit you’re breaking my heart
4. Old Fashioned Love (Moonlight)
5. Chickadee
6. One More Kiss
7. Mama Loves Paps (Moonlight)
8. Hungry Blues
9. Somebody’s Wrong
10. My Lovey Came Back
11. All My Life
12. Linger Awhile (Moonlight)
13. Covered Wagon Days
14. Down on the Farm
15. Raggedy Ann
16. Night Time in Italy (Moonlight)
17. I’m Somebody Nobody Loves

1. Sweety (Moonlight)

But nobody had thought to do it

By bringing electricity down from the clouds over a kite string, it was a simple thing to prove that lightning was nothing more than a tremendous electrical flash.

For centuries before Franklin flew his kite in 1751 philosophers had been speculating about the nature of lightning. With electrified globes and charged bottles, others had evolved the theory that the puny sparks of the laboratory and the stupendous phenomenon of the heavens were related, but Franklin substituted fact for theory—by scientific experiment.

Roaring electrical discharges, man-made lightning as deadly as that from the clouds, are now produced by scientists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company. They are part of experiments which are making it possible to use the power of mountain torrents farther and farther from the great industrial centers.
Choice of a Career

From the Yale News

THE NINETY-FOUR

Someone, probably an insurance agent, was quoted recently as saying that from the mass of one hundred college graduates one individual only rose to the Polo and butler class, perilously near the top of the financial ladder. Five others became comfortably off and found themselves after twenty years at the small yacht and chauffeur stage. The other ninety-four presumably congregate in the great section of the American people who drive their own Buicks to the golf club. In other words, dreaming about being a rich man is one thing, and making the grade is "something else again."

Yet the ninety-four presumably work just as hard as the sumptuous six. Their business is the axis on which a small and uninteresting world revolves. They have become devotees of the dollar and when that fickle deity deserts, have nowhere else to turn. Jammed in a dull, straight rut of business they can never leave the road and jump the fence into finer fields of life. This, then, is the portion of ninety-four men out of every hundred now on the campus. The answer to the problem lies in the proper choice of a career.

Between now and Commencement we shall have something to offer on the subject of "Careers." Watch for the space with the Famous Signature.

Sixty-one years in business. Now insuring One Billion Seven Hundred Million dollars in policies on 3,450,000 lives.

GIRL'S RIFLE TEAM
STARTS BUSY SEASON

CHALLENGES EXCHANGED

Prone Position Only Used in First Matches.—Other Positions to be Used Later.

With the resumption of practice this week, the Girls' Rifle Team begins its season of competitive shooting.
Over 30 colleges and universities are represented by girls' rifle teams.

Challenges will be exchanged and some four matches shot off each week until the end of the season on March 31. Conditions governing the matches, such as the number to compete, number of scores to count, targets, witnesses, positions, use of sling, rifle and ammunition, time, sights, scoring and judging of ties are agreed upon between the teams, and the results of the firing are exchanged by mail or telegraph at the end of the week.

When only one a week is fired the targets used in the match may be exchanged, otherwise only the names of competitors and their scores, one copy each opponent, are exchanged.

The challenge, conditions sent out by the C. A. C. Girls' Rifle team are practically identical with those of the men's team, except that the first matches will be fired in the prone position only. Few girls' teams fire for competition in the standing position as the weight of the Winchester gallery rifle is too much of a train for the average competitor. As the season progresses matches calling for 20 shots for record, of which 10 will be fired in the sitting or kneeling pos-tion will be fired.

PROGRESS ON MID-YEAR
PLAY CONTINUES

Rehearsals are now being held regularly by Mr. Farrell in preparation for the Mid-Year Formal Play to be held February 17. For the last week the cast has been working on their stage business for the first act, in the Armory, after which rehearsals for the act will be held in Holcomb Hall.
Mr. Farrell has obtained permission to use the large classroom in the girls' dormitory where rehearsing can progress uninterrupted.

The effect date that tickets will be sold has not yet been set, but it is hoped to get them out within the next week.

The following change in cast is announced:

Dougherty, George Wells,
A police sergeant
Jim Mooney, Francis O'Connor,
A police lieutenant
George Howell, J. B. Parker,
A bridgroom

FROSH TRIBULATIONS
START NEXT WEEK

Hard Week for Freshmen.—Fraternities Will Commence Various Programs to Prepare Pledgees for Membership.

The week of examinations was one of terror and unknown difficulties for the members of the class of ’27, and the one which is to come will be no less arduous and irksome for those who have become pledged to a fraternity and are eligible for initiation through having acquired fifteen college credits.

Members of the upper classes remember, all too well, their own experiences and await with keen interest the approach of another period when the "high and mighty frosh" unbends and forgets his thin veneer of dignity under the persuasion of the mystic wand which he has so carefully fashioned.

Would it were that the gravestones in nearby grounds and the twisting country roads could talk and tell of the strange sights they have seen and the still stranger sounds that they have heard. Then mayhap, the joyous frosh would take heed and mend his erring ways.

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL CONCERT FOR WEEK END

Program attractions ranging from semi-popular selections to classical music will be presented by the Ernest Gamble Concert Party at Hawley Armory, Saturday evening.

Mr. Ernest Gamble, the personal pilot of the party is a distinguished basso contante who has achieved a position among the foremost concert singers. To his finish as an artist he has added a remarkable personality which is found to "go across" to his audience. Miss Martha Reed, whose vocal duets with Mr. Gamble, as well as her soprano solos, contribute greatly to the program. The violin accompanist and soloist, Miss Verna Leone Page, is most attractive in her manner and in her work. Her skill in handling the old cremona instrument which she possesses is seldom equaled on the popular stage.

Beginning next Monday the Nutmeg Board will inaugurate a drive for subscriptions. Editor-in-chief C. J. Diermand states that one-half of the book is already at the printers and the remaining half will be ready for printing in a short while.
